

Twilight Services During Summer in Many City Churches Prove Popular

LAWN SERVICE FOR METHODISTS

Harrison Street Congregation Pleased With New Order

There
YOUNG PREACHER AT THE MORNING SERVICE

At Harrison Street Methodist Episcopal Church the summer schedule and the summer motto, "brief but interesting services," appear to be having the desired effect. The attendance at all of the services last Sunday from morning class to lawn service, and also through the week, was above the average for summer attendance.

The services tomorrow commence with the Sunday morning class at 9.15 o'clock. The men of the church are showing a more decided interest in this service and are especially invited to come. The Rev. James K. Easley, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hackensack, N. J., of the Newark, N. J., Conference will occupy the pulpit at the morning service 10.30 o'clock, taking as the subject "The Unrecognized Power in Human Life." Mr. Easley is a son of the Rev. James W. Easley, secretary of the City Missionary Society of this city and a former member of Harrison Street Church.

The Rev. George White Dawson, pastor will have charge of the lawn service in the evening from 6.30 to 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Dawson's subject for the hour will be "Christ's Friends." These services are increasing in popularity. The brief, pointed talk by the pastor and the well-known hymns, giving all an opportunity to take a part in the service seem to be drawing to this service at least the people in the vicinity of Harrison Street and last Sunday evening all available seats were taken.

The Sunday school which meets at 2 o'clock in the afternoon will, tomorrow, be in the hands of the primary department with Mrs. Elwood Dayett, superintendent of that department, in charge. Mrs. Dayett is one of the well-known Elementary Sunday school workers of the city.

The attendance last Sunday afternoon was an increase of 35 per cent. over the attendance the corresponding Sunday of last year.

MR. COURSEY IN MT. SALEM PULPIT

Will Preach and Sing at Sunday Morning Service in Church

The Rev. R. T. Coursey, pastor of Brandywine Methodist Church will preach in Mt. Salem Church Sunday morning. He has been asked to sing several selections.

SUPPLIES FOR CITY BAPTISTS

The Rev. T. P. Holloway, pastor of Second Baptist Church, will preach at both morning and evening services in the church tomorrow. At 10.30 o'clock his theme will be "A Fatal Rejection." At night he will preach on "Samsom Grinding in the Prison House." The evening service will be kept within the hour.

Tomorrow week, July 30, will be the pastor's last services before going on his vacation. The attendance at the preaching services during this summer has exceeded previous records, and the regular prayer meetings on Wednesday nights have been maintained with unabated interest. During the pastor's vacation leading preachers will occupy the pulpit on Sundays, and the mid-week meetings will be led by active laymen of the Second Church.

BIBLE STUDENTS' MEETING.

The International Bible Students will meet in Clymer's Music Hall, No. 612 Shipley street, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. George F. Craig, of La Porte, Indiana, who is visiting his brother at Grace parsonage, will speak at the Grace Church vesper service Sunday evening at 6.30 o'clock.

The pastor will preach in the church in the morning. His subject will be "Christ, the Revelation of God." The Junior League will meet at 9.30 o'clock.

BROOKLYN ABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDIES OLD TESTAMENT TIMES

A GODLY YOUNG KING.

11 Chronicles 34:1-15—July 23. "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth."—Eccles. 12:1. King Manasseh of our last lesson had a bad son, Amon, who reigned but two years, and was murdered by his courtiers in his own palace. His son, Josiah, the central figure of today's study, became king in his eighth year. By the time he was sixteen his heart had begun to seek after and to desire to serve the Almighty God. By the time he was twenty his religious convictions were so deep and fixed, and his authority as a king so in his own hands that he dared to begin the work of reformation. The idols and their temples and groves for idolatrous worship were destroyed. The valley of Hinnom, as already suggested, was desecrated and made a dumping-place for the offal of Jerusalem.

The temple of the Lord was repaired and cleansed of all its idolatrous defilements, and worship and praise therein to the Almighty was restored. More than this, the king extended his influence and his desire for holiness into what was once the territory of the ten tribes, north of his kingdom. Mistake to Assume That Wild Oats Must First be Sown.

What a force there is in our text, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth!" What a great mistake some parents make in assuming that their children must have an experience in "sowing wild oats" before they will be prepared to appreciate righteousness and become its servants! This thought is reflected upon the minds of the young, both male and female; rarely do they seek to live by a higher standard than that expected of them by their parents or guardians. We have known saintly mothers to unintentionally lay snares for the feet of their children by introducing them to ways of the world in which they themselves would have no part. The pressed sentiment was, "I must not put upon these children the weight of the cross, nor expect of them saintship; if ever they become truly consecrated saints of God they will then know the trials of the 'narrow way' and have plenty of them."

Alas! such Christian mothers have failed to grasp the situation properly. They have failed to realize that, at the present time, there is no real happiness in the world except in the "narrow way." The "broad road" of self-gratification, pride, lust, sin, selfishness, is indeed a beautiful picture at a distance, but the picture is a mirage—it can never be reached, it is a delusion. The millions of those who through the broad road of selfishness, pride, etc., are all bent on pleasure, seeking it with all their might; but how many of all the millions on that road have found pleasure? We hold that they are merely pleasure hunters and not pleasure finders; that the only real pleasure and substantial joy in the world is to be found in the narrow way of self-sacrifice—in the footsteps of the Great Teacher—in taking up the cross to follow Him—in laying down life as He laid down His in "suffering with Him that we might also reign with Him"—in being "dead with Him" that we might also live with Him.

Of those who enter the broad road, few ever turn to the narrow way. Parents, friends, Christians have given them the misunderstanding that the broad road is the one of pleasure and happiness. When they find it the reverse they naturally think that the narrow way must be much less happily-finding, much less desirable.

A Certain Simplicity and Honesty in the Mind of Every Child. Of the few who do find the narrow way after having walked in the broad road their plaint is, "Oh, why did I not earlier find the way of the Lord, the way of Truth, joy, peace and happiness!"

Notwithstanding the depravity with which all are born, there appears to be a certain simplicity and honesty in the mind of every child. It is that principle which must be used by teachers and helpers in general. If the child is led in the right way by which he would most quickly attain a relationship and harmony with his Creator; nor is it necessary always that there shall be a preceptor. At times, under God's providence, the message from on high reaches the heart, and draws it with a compelling little resistance. The holiness of life is perceived, the need of wisdom from on high is recognized, and perhaps by the servant, perhaps through parental instruction, perhaps through the counsels of a friend, perhaps by a tract or a book, the young heart is drawn the way of wisdom and is pointed to the Lord and to the narrow way.

We are to remember that the will is the real director of our destiny, and that it is all-important to have the will rightly directed and established. Many a one is in the broad road of sin and selfishness—away from God today—

NO SERVICES IN CENTRAL CHURCH

Y. P. S. C. E. Arranges to Hold Its Sunday Meetings in Y. W. C. A.

Services at Central Presbyterian Church will be discontinued from Sunday, July 23, until further notice. The church is undergoing a thorough renovation and occupancy is thus rendered impossible.

TO LAY CHURCH CORNER STONE

Mayor Howell is expected to take part in the corner stone laying of Eighth Street Baptist Church at Eighth and Lincoln streets tomorrow afternoon. The exercises also will be participated in by a number of city clergymen.

The exercises will begin at 3 o'clock and will be in charge of the Old Fellows. Following Mayor Howell's opening address, the Rev. R. B. Cook will speak. The Rev. W. L. Pettigill will read the scripture lesson, after which the Rev. Thomas P. Holloway, Harry Emmons, M. S. Malloy and C. H. Colburn will speak. The choir of Bethel A. M. E. Church will sing. Charles H. Brooks, former grand secretary of the United Order of Old Fellows will lay the stone.

STEREOPTICON A GOSPEL AID

Eastlake Presbyterians to See Life of Christ in Pictures

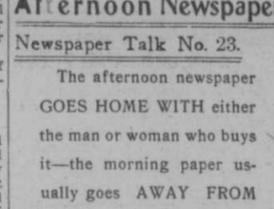

At Eastlake Presbyterian Church the Sunday school and Bible class will meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The attendance at the morning sessions is excellent, and surpasses former years. At the church services at 11 o'clock the Rev. Henry Cunningham will preach on "Filled With the Fullness of God." The Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 o'clock will consider the topic, "Lessons from the Animals."

In the evening at 7.45 o'clock there will be another song service and stereopticon address. "Great Events in the Life of Christ" will be illustrated and briefly explained. The Ten Commandments will be illustrated as the audience recites them. The slides for these lantern sermons are largely copies of the great master paintings. These services are enjoyed by excellent audiences, who appreciate the truth as presented in picture and word. Mrs. Cunningham will be the soloist for the day.

The Truth About the Afternoon Newspaper

Newspaper Talk No. 23. The afternoon newspaper GOES HOME WITH either the man or woman who buys it—the morning paper usually goes AWAY FROM HOME with the man at whose door it has been delivered—goes to office, or store, or factory—to be thrown aside soon as the day's cares loom up, and the day's work begins. The afternoon paper is studied before and after dinner, for "bargains," for buying opportunities of all sorts.
