CHEER UP; THERE AIN'T NO HELL!

Religious Organization Adopts Resolution Against Eternal Punishment

MANY MINISTERS APPROVE

Pastor Russell is satisfied—Gen. Hall Thinks Ministers Will Be Pleased

The hot Mid-Summer Convention of the International Bible Students at Glen Echo Park, Washington, D. C., in passing their now famous resolution, made a noise about "Hell-Fire and Brimstone." It surely was a big gun that was fired from Glen Echo into the camp of the stand-patters, and the noise will echo and re-echo throughout the ecclesiastical heavens for some time to come.

Gen. Wm. P. Hall, U. S. A., a brave Indian fighter of the past, in calling for the public repudiation of the hell fire theory, claimed that to do so would create a situation in America that would enable thousands of ministers to publicly declare what they freely admit privately. The desired repudiation was made.

Startling Admission

The present repudiation of the hell-fire theory will no doubt be considered by the public as a startling admission.

From among the hundreds of recently published expressions from leading clergymen of all denominations on the Washington "anti-hell-fire" Resolution the following are culled:

Canon Henson of Westminster Abbey: "I think the American religious public is generations behind us although I don't say that individual American divines aren't the equals of ours."

Late in Arriving

R. J. Campbell, of London, representing the Non-Conformist view: "This seems to me to be a very belated pronouncement. I don't know any clergymen here who believes in eternal punishment; nor do I think any educated clergymen has done so for many years."

Rev. Arthur L. Odell, a St. Louis pastor: "I do not know of any Presbyterian minister who believes or preaches this idea. Of course, this literal hell was an idea widely held in earlier years, but the church is breaking away from many of the conceptions of past ages."

Says They Don't Preach Hell

Archbishop Glennon: "It's too hot to talk about such a subject today. As to whether Catholic clergymen preach hell fire, I will say that we preach the faith, and our faith is the faith of the church."

Rev. David S. Phelan, Editor Western Watchman: "Catholic priests do not preach a hell of fire. The church has not taken a definite position on the subject."

Rev. Dr. James W. Lee, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South: "I do not believe in a fire-and-brimstone hell, and I think I have never heard but one sermon in which that belief was expressed, and that was down in Georgia years ago."

Rabbi Adolph Rosentreter: "The resolution passed by the Bible Students at Washington ought to have been passed 1500 years ago. I do not believe in a literal hell of fire, of course. Orthodox Jews do not hold that idea."

Calls Old Idea Wrong

The "Christian Leader and Way": "The American Association for Bible Study has solemnly stated that there is no hell. A conference of English ministers has adopted the same view. A few days ago the Ministerial Association of Marietta solemnly promulgated or indorsed alike doctrine. In other words, the authorities of the Christian churches seem to agree that the old Biblical conception of a hell of unending torment, of fire and brimstone, is illogical and untruthful."

Pastor Russell of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles: "If the Bible does teach that Eternal Torture is the fate of all except the saints, it should be preached, yea, thundered, weekly, daily, hourly. If it does not so teach, the fact should be made known and the foul stain dishonoring God's holy name removed."
