M. R. CARROLL, Business Manager

The Odd Fellows at their meeting last night had the pleasure of a visit from R. F. Mewherter of Hotel Wyoming. Mr. Mewherter is a newcomer and has opened his lot up in Ocala and has opened up a grocery store on Magazine street opposite the old cigar factory. Mr. Mewherter will also embark in the cigar making business with an experienced Cuban, in the building that John R. Martin formerly occupied for a cigar factory on Exposition street. Mr. Mewherter is much pleased with Florida's climate and thinks it will do much for his impaired health. He said it was altogether too cold in winter in Wyoming. He said the two sections of country were the extremes in weather. He was told our coolest weather in Florida was 17 degrees above zero, while he had slept in a tent in Wyoming when the thermometer measured 77 degrees below zero. The Star welcomes Mr. Mewherter into our midst and wishes him a successful residence here.

This is the way the Jamestown Evening Journal of Chautauqua Lake, New York, tells of the manner the great throng that attended the International Bible Students Association, that was held last week at that renowned literary and spiritual place, was taken care of last week. It says in many respects it was the most remarkable gathering ever held in Jamestown. The attendance averaged from 4000 to 6000 persons a day and the Sunday that saw the close of this gathering fully 10,000 visitors were present. The arrangements were so perfect that every visitor found a home. The homes of the city were thrown open to them and they found most cordial reception and hospitable entertainment.

"So perfect is this organization that a luncheon is served at four or five thousand persons in the convention hall at noon every day without any confusion and within forty minutes' time. In the homes where the visitors have been entertained the hostesses have universally been pleased with their guests, finding them earnest and intelligent, knowing what they want and easily pleased when they secure it; modest in their demands and appreciative of the service they receive."

The convention is said to have been the largest ever held on Chautauqua Lake. Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle was one of the drawing cards. J. Hemery of London and E. D. Sexton of Los Angeles, were among the distinguished and eloquent Bible speakers. We do not know to whom courtesy and kindness you are indebted for the interesting and instructive number in the Jamestown Evening Journal, which was founded in 1822, but appreciate the favor all the same and return our sincere thanks for it. Mrs. R. A. Burford of Ocala enjoyed the feasts of spiritual uplift and Biblical inspiration and we know that when she returns home she will have much of pleasure and profit to communicate to her host of friends in the "Brick City."

The Star had a pleasant and appreciated call from Mr. T. J. Webb of O'Brien. Mr. Webb was a former resident of Oxford, but some years ago moved to Columbia county, where he has been quite successful as a wheelwright and farmer. Mr. Webb says he has 25 acres in cotton and common pine land and will make 600 pounds to the acre and at present price will make a neat sum. Mr. Webb had the distinction of marketing the first cotton of the season in his county, for which he received 10 cents a pound in the seed. Mr. Webb was accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ellis Smith, who spent the winter with Mr. Webb and family. They will visit friends at Oxford.

Among the country people in town today looking up the stores that advertise bargains, were A. M. Blackman and son E. L. of Summerville; Mr. Gillis of York; Robert Perry and Henry Shaw, Jr.; John Proctor and R. L. Lewis of Pedro; J. E. Sherouse and son, J. W., from Morrison.

Mrs. Ruth Downs and little daughter Helen, who have been visiting relatives in Tampa, passed through town today and while there was waiting Mrs. Downs paid her brother, Mr. L. D. Geiger of the Star, a short visit. Mr. Geiger was very glad to see his sister, as he had not seen her for nearly two years.

Mrs. Sallie Croom and her bright son Harry, with Mrs. Croom's brother, Mr. Ben Bell, went to Battle Creek, Mich., where Mr. Bell took a treatment for indigestion. Mrs. Croom and son have gone to Boston to visit friends and will go up into the woods of Maine to camp out a month.

Jack Snell was up from Heather Island yesterday. He said the waters in the river have risen so that it covers all the lowlands, but that he does not interfere with the digging of the canal. Mr. Snell is just home from a visit on the East Coast, taking in New Smyrna and Rockledge. He said the first named place is the prettiest he has ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Raynor of Lowell spent the night with Mrs. Raynor's mother, Mrs. J. P. Pyles. Mr. Ben Raynor is one of the stirring merchants, farmers and truckers of the Lowell section and is doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Livingston had the misfortune to have two very sick children. One, Miss Henrietta, who has been visiting Mrs. Livingston's sister Mrs. Harrelson, in Alton, Ga., has been very ill and another at home, Miss Lillian, has been quite ill. Both, we are glad to state, are better today.

Miss Josie Bullock, who has been so ill with an attack of appendicitis, is better today. Miss Bullock was taken with the disease at Pablo Beach, was brought home, and afterwards carried to the hospital. Her friends hope she will soon be entirely recovered. An operation was performed on her this morning.

Mr. Will Marlow, who has been sick for several weeks, had quite a bad spell yesterday and what adds to his misfortune is that his wife is afflicted with one of Job's comforters on the sole of her foot and makes locomotion very painful and deprives her of her desire to wait on her sick husband.

The editorials of the DeSoto County News are of a high standard and should be copied often than they are. Here is one of last week's:

"How politeness is admired in a boy or girl. The homes are largely responsible for the lack of politeness in evidence in many places. Children taught to say 'please' and 'thank you' are born with a never-failing delight to the teacher. On the street the polite little gentleman is admired. He makes a good clerk, or office boy. His services are in demand. The school that fails to inculcate and practice politeness is failing below its privilege. Something is wanting when no one offers to help a lady, tugging along the street with a heavy valise. Kindness to animals, courtesy to play-fellows, and respect for the aged can be made to grow into habits at home and in the school."

If your liver is sluggish and out of tone, and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets tonight before retiring and you will feel all right in the morning. Sold by all dealers.

LEGAL LEGISLATIONPROCEEDINGS OF TUESDAY EVENING'S MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

The City Council met last night in regular session, with the following members present: Chairman, H. D. Stokes and Councilmen E. T. Helven, G. A. Carmichael, D. E. McIver, W. P. Edwards, R. R. Carroll and J. H. Taylor.

Minutes of the previous session were read and approved.

Mr. F. E. Harris, for the Ocala Human Society, recently organized here, and now being chartered, requested that the council ratify or endorse the appointing of Mr. G. W. Cleveland, the city's sanitary inspector, to the position of special officer for the society, the society to pay Mr. Cleveland what he receives for the duties performed for the society.

On account of a written communication from a local tradesman and complaint against an employee of the city that said employee would not pay his bill, and the request that the city require the bill to be paid, a resolution was offered and passed, that all city employees pay their just debts, or the city will discharge them. Fortunately these cases are very rare, this being the only one, at far as is known.)

A communication was read from an Atlanta paving material dealer, asking to be allowed to bid on any paving material the city might need now or later. Filed for information.

Mr. Zewadski appeared and asked that several certificates held by the city against property he represented, be canceled, as he held receipts for the taxes. On motion, the clerk was instructed to cancel the certificates, upon presentation of the receipts.

The matter of paving the sidewalks with cement, in the "sidewalk paving zone" covered by ordinance passed some time ago was taken up and discussed at length. A resolution was finally offered by Mr. McIver, and unanimously carried, that the clerk prepare advertisements for bids on the laying of the walks (probably two miles or more) and have same published, and that the city will then proceed with all due diligence to lay these walks and collect the money from the property owners. The discussion developed the fact that most of the property owners would pay for the work as soon as it was done; that the reason they had not had the work done before is that one man does not care to lay a walk and his neighbor on each side refuse to do so, as very little good will come of it. When,
