MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 15, 1912. The estimate of 19,000 cattle for today here fell short one thousand head, which is the first sign that receipts are about to drop down. Buyers have been anticipating a falling off in the run, the expectation of which has been the principal source of strength displayed by all kinds of cattle the last ten days. The market is steady today, with ample demand for everything. The panhandle country and Colorado mountain ranges are contributing liberally now, which will make the descent into moderate supplies gradual. Country buyers are so numerous on the yards, and so greedy, that killers have had to hurry to get enough cattle since the first of last week, and have had no chance to fight the market. In that time prices have gone up close to half a dollar. Short fed cattle are beginning to show up, some of that class weighing 1550 pounds selling at $10.00 here yesterday. No ripe cattle have been here, except the steers shown in the Royal last week, for nearly a month. The ten loads of exhibition steers sold at $10.75 to $12.40. Native pasture steers range from $5.50 to $8.55 today, quarantine steers $4.25 to $5.75, and good weight range killers $5.75 to $7.50, grass cows and heifers $4.00 to $6.00, best veals $9.00. Choice range yearlings sell to country buyers up to $7.00, feeders $5.50 to $7.50. Hog supplies are running some heavier, 10,000 here today, market steady to weak. Top hogs bring $9.05, bulk of sales $8.65 to $9.00. Shippers are showing more courage with respect to hog disease than a month ago, as no great number of pigs or immature hogs are coming. Pigs sell at $6.50 to $7.50. Sheep receipts today are 6500 head, a big shortage from the early estimate. The market began to jump up last week, and took a big leap today, sales a quarter to forty higher than yesterday. A new set of figures are in use this week in expressing values, top lambs today at $7.35, yearlings $5.50, weathers $4.50, ewes $4.25. Feeding kinds are following fat kinds in the advance, though slowly, feeding lambs worth around $6.15.

Earl Nelson left last Saturday night for his home at Aberdeen, Ill.

Attorney E. A. Rea was up from Hays, Thursday on legal business.

The High School building on Quality Hill is making a fine showing these days.

Wm. Clawson of Colorado, was revisiting old scenes in Trego county the first of this week.

Mrs. Davies of Ogallah, sister of J. W. Blakely, visited with her brother and family this week.

W. D. Austin of Voda will have a public sale on Monday, October 28th. Watch for his advertisement and bills next week.

Lewis Atkinson, who advertised a sale for Saturday afternoon, will sell his stock, etc., at his brother's sale on the 29th.

L. H. Knox sold a lot of household goods at public sale last Saturday and left the first of the week overland for Illinois.

Wm. Wollner, who has been working at his trade—painting and paper hanging—is expected home from Hoxie, Sunday night.

Tom Hinshaw of Clay Center, has a bid in to do the plastering of the new High School building. Tom is a No. 1 mud slinger and we hope he gets the job.

A. V. Hixson has a car of western slope Colorado apples on track. They are good eaters, cookers, and keepers. Lay in your winter supply while they last.

Last Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bingham and children left for their new home at Spring Hill, Kans., Their many friends were sorry to see them leave but wish them success wherever they go.

On October 10th the Larabee Furniture Co. dissolved partnership by mutual consent, W. N. Larabee selling his interest to Stanley J. Straw who will continue the business at the old stand. We wish Stan all kinds of success.

Last Wednesday evening a number of the old soldiers accompanied by their wives gave a surprise party to Uncle Billy Sommerville in honor of his 75th birthday. The women went well prepared with all kinds of nice things to eat which were enjoyed by all. Uncle Billy was also presented with a fine rocking chair as a token of the esteem in which his comrades and friends hold him. All report a most pleasant evening. The World extends congratulations and hopes Uncle Billy will live to see many more happy prosperous birthdays. The following is a list of those present: Rev. Allison, Rev. Reed and family, Mr. and Mrs. Yetter and friend of Ogallah, Mr. and Mrs. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. Pershing, Mr. and Mrs. Groft, Mr. and Mrs. Mumert, Mr. and Mrs. McCollum and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cortright, Mr. and Mrs. J. Divine Rewards Are Eternal Life.
Divine Punishment For Incurable Is Eternal Death.
Pastor Russell, in Eloquent Discourse, Yesterday at Columbus, Ohio, Brought Comfort and Satisfaction to Many Who Listened to His Exposition of a Text Misapplied by Many.
Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Pastor Russell chose for his text today one that has doubtless been misapplied by many theologians. It was the last verse of the Parable of the Sheep and the Goats: "These shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal."—Matthew xxv. 46.
Pastor Russell proved on this occasion, as he usually does, that he has a long lead on many of the theologians of the past and present. His position with respect to this Parable is that the application of it is not to this Age, but to the future one. This is distinctly shown in the opening verse of the Parable itself, he said: "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the Throne of His Glory." (V. 31.)
And besides, the Pastor said, When the Son of Man shall sit in His Throne and have before Him all nations, it is evident from Scripture that the true Church will sit with Him; that the nations will be the remainder of humanity. As proof of this he quoted Scripture: "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with Me in My Throne." (Revelation iii. 21.) "Another," "To him that overcometh will I give power over the nations." (Revelation ii. 26.) And again, "Know ye not that the saints shall judge the world?"—"all nations."—1 Corinthians vi. 2.
That this work of judging and reigning over the nations of earth is not to be during a day of twenty-four hours, he said, is evident from Scripture also. For instance, "They shall be priests of God and of Christ and shall reign with Him a thousand years." (II Peter iii. 7, 8; Revelation xx. 6.)
There is no doubt that the correct view of the doctrine of Election has much to do with clarifying the theological atmosphere of the miasma of the past. If everybody could get the Bible focus upon this important doctrine, every other theological question would become as clear as noonday. If everybody could see clearly that the true Church is being elected, or selected, in this Age, according to faithfulness and character-development, by way of preparation for the great service to be rendered the world in the next Age, there would be few problems remaining to be cleared up.
The Sheep—the Goats—the Fire.
The Parable proceeds to show the separating work that will progress throughout the thousand-year exercise of Divine power and authority on earth. At its conclusion all the peoples of the nations will have taken their places, either as sheep or goats. To the sheep class will be said, "Come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."
This carries the mind back to the time when the world was established. Adam being its first representative was, by Divine command, given dominion, or rulership, over it—all was given the Kingdom of earth. But he proved his unfitness for further exercise of his God-given responsibilities by placing himself in opposition to his Creator and on the side of the Adversary. At once Adam lost his dominion, and lost also his right to eternal life.
The sheep class of the Parable represent all of Adam's race brought back to perfection by the process of Restitution during Messiah's reign of a thousand years. (Acts iii. 21.) To them will come the dominion which Adam lost and which Jesus redeemed at Calvary. Next the fate of the goat class is stated—not in literal language, but in symbol. It should be borne in mind that "without a parable spake He not to the people." In other words, everything which Jesus said to the people was figurative, to the end that only those of the right condition of heart might be able to understand, as this was the character of the class that God designed should be accorded the honor of reigning with Messiah over the earth. To these "it is given to know the Mysteries of the Kingdom."
The message of the great King to the goat class, the Parable proceeds to show, will be, "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the Devil and his angels." There is a large class of short-sighted people who while thinking that the goats represent an incurable class, insist that the fire is real, and not symbolic. But there is an increasingly large class of Bible students who recognize, said Pastor Russell, that "fire" throughout the Bible is used figuratively to represent destruction. He pointed to St. Peter's summing up of the fate of the incurably wicked as follows: "These, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption."—II Peter ii. 12.

Statement That May Be Investigated.
Testimony of Wa-Keeney Citizens.
When a Wa-Keeney citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home indorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Wa-Keeney resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.
W. D. Stephens, Wa-Keeney, Kans., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them to be a remedy of merit. The secretions from my kidneys passed too frequently and often contained sediment. I had an almost constant backache and there were pains through my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Gibson's Drug Store, rid me of the necessity of getting up at night and brought relief from my aches and pains."

Publication Notice.
The State of Kansas, Trego county, ss.
The State of Kansas to whom these presents, shall come greeting.
You and each of you are hereby notified that you have been sued in the District Court of Trego county, Kansas, by J. W. Blakely, and you must answer the petition filed by said plaintiff in the office of the clerk of the said court on or before the 16th day of November A. D. 1912 or the allegations of said petition will be taken as true and judgment each of you and judgment will be rendered in said cause against said William W. Bertrand and Lucy M. Bertrand for the sum of one thousand dollars with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from December 27, 1911, and for the costs of this action; and a further judgment will be rendered against each of you establishing and confirming a certain mortgage held by plaintiff to secure the payment of said claim as a first lien upon blocks eighty-eight and one hundred and one in the city of Wa-Keeney in Trego county, Kansas; ordering that said mortgage be foreclosed; that the mortgaged premises above described be sold and the proceeds arising from said sale be applied in satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim and the costs of this action; and that the balance of the period of redemption provided by statute, you and each of you be barred, foreclosed of and from all right, title, estate interest, property, and equity of redemption in or to said real estate or any part thereof; and for such other and further relief as may be equitable.
In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court this 30th day of September A. D. 1912.
C. E. HIGGWAY, Clerk of the District Court.
Herman Long, Attorney for Plaintiff.
