DIVINE REWARDS ARE ETERNAL LIFE.

Divine Punishment For Incorrigible Is Eternal Death.

Pastor Russell, In Eloquent Discourse, Yesterday at Columbus, Ohio, Brought Comfort and Satisfaction to Many Who Listened to His Exposition of a Text Misapplied by Many.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 8. - Pastor Russell chose for his text today one that has doubtless been misapplied by many theologians. It was the last verse of the Parable of the Sheep and the Goats: "These shall go away into PASIOR RUSSELL everiasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal."—Matthew

4

Pastor Russell proved on this occasion, as he usually does, that he has a long lead on many of the theologians of the past and present. His position with respect to this Parable is that the application of it is not to this Age, but to the future one. This is distinctly shown in the opening verse of the Parable itself, he said: "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the Throne of His Glory." (V. 31.)

And besides, the Pastor said, When the Son of Man shall sit in His Throne and have before Him all nations, it is evident from Scripture that the true Church will sit with Him; that the nations will be the remainder of humanity. As proof of this he quoted Scripture: "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with Me in My Throne." (Revelation iii, 21.) Another, "To him that overcometh will I give power over the nations." (Revelation ii, 26.) And again, "Know ye not that the saints shall judge the world?"-"all nations."-I Corinthians vi. 2.

That this work of judging and reigning over the nations of earth is not to be during a day of twenty-four hours, he said, is evident from Scripture also. For instance, "They shall be priests of God and of Christ and shall reign with Him a thousand years." (II Peter iii, 7, 8; Revelation xx, 6.)

There is no doubt that the correct view of the doctrine of Election has much to do with clarifying the theological atmosphere of the miasma of the past. If everybody could get the Bible focus upon this important doctrine, every other theological question would become as clear as noonday. If everybody could see clearly that the true Church is being elected, or selected, in this Age, according to faithfulness and character-development, by way of preparation for the great service to be rendered the world in the next Age, there would be few problems remaining to be cleared up.

The Sheep-the Goats-the Fire.

The Parable proceeds to show the separating work that will progress throughout the thousand-year exercise of Divine power and authority on earth. At its conclusion all the peoples of the nations will have taken their places, either as sheep or goats. To the sheep class will be said, "Come, ye blessed of My Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

This carries the mind back to the time when the world was established. Adam being its first representative was, by Divine command, given dominion, or rulership, over it all-was given the Kingdom of earth. But he proved his unfitness for further exercise of his God-given responsibilities by placing himself in opposition to his Creator and on the side of the Adversary. At once Adam lost his dominion, and lost also his right to eternal life.

The sheep class of the Parable represent all of Adam's race brought back to perfection by the process of Restitution during Messiah's reign of a thousand years. (Acts til, 19-21.) To them will come the dominion which Adam lost and which Jesus redeemed at Calvary. Next the fate of the goat class is stated-not in literal language, but in symbol. It should be borne in mind that "without a parable spake He not to the people." In other words, everything which Jesus said to the people was figurative, to the end that only those of the right condition of heart might be able to understand, as this was the character of the class that God designed should be accorded the honor of reigning with Messiah over the earth. To these "It is given to know the Mysteries of the Kingdom."

The message of the great King to the goat class the Parable proceeds to show, will be, "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everiasting fire prepared for the Devil and bis angels." There is a large class of short-sighted people who while thinking that the goats represent an incorrigible class, insist that the fire is real, and not symbolic. But there is an increasingly large class of Bible students who recognize, said Pas-tor Russell, that "fire" throughout the Bible is used figuratively to represent destruction. He pointed to St. Peter's summing up of the fate of the incorrigibly wicked as follows: "These, as nat ural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly peried in their own corruption."-Il

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complica-tions affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe dis-

"I was afflicted with constipation and billousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper curative measures until serious illness often results.
