EDITOR CARLISLE BELIEVES IN A HELL.

Editor Carlisle, of the West Point Leader, who, after passing the age at which 'Dr. Osler' would put him out of business, publishes one of the best papers in the state, may be a progressive in politics, but when he comes to religion, is a standpatter and reactionary. He believes in the old fashioned hell and a personal devil. Both are needed to even up the score of the wicked who flourish and the evil who prosper in this world. Below is a recent editorial in his paper:

The Leader received, a few days ago, a consignment of plate matter, free of charge and expressage prepaid, to be used in the columns of the Leader. It was the utterances of one Pastor Russell, who has so freely been held up in the limelight before the public by the secular press, as if he was giving out something new along religious lines. The contention of Pastor Russell and his followers is that there is no hell fire. Now, the question naturally arises, if he is correct in his contention, what in the h—l (pardon, please), is the use of agitating the matter? Especially, why should Pastor Russell and his followers spend thousands of dollars to send out, free of charge, printed matter in stereoplates, to try to prove his position? If there is no hell fire, what's the use of bothering about it? Everybody is in good shape, anyway, and since there is no danger of a lake of burning brimstone after this life, there can be no use of going to great expense to try to convince all the people. Most of them don't believe it, anyway, and it will be impossible to convince the benighted balance that they have been in error all this time.

The fact is that Pastor Russell is dishing out a lot of rot that has been previously dished out by his sort from century to century through all the past ages. There is nothing that can possibly please the devil more than to get the people of this old world to believe there is no hell, and somehow he manages to have the subject considerably agitated from time to time.

To the man who is a genuine Christian and accepts the Bible and the plan of salvation it teaches, there is no fear of hell. He believes it with all his mind, but he does not fear it. He feels he is safe, hell or no hell. But the fellow who does not believe or accept, may find himself in a close place, if not a hot one, when he steps over the line into another existence. So far as we are concerned, we would rather not take the chance. One is the safe side, the other has a great deal of uncertainty about it, to say the least of it. Pastor Russell's plate matter can rest in innocuous desuetude in the Leader office until the stereo manufacturers order the old lead returned.

Mrs. Mimms Hunter Entertains.

Mrs. Mimms Hunter, of Ex Prairie, had a reunion of all her cousins and their families in honor of her sister, Mrs. Hardy Copeland, of Nashville, Tenn., formerly Mrs. Allie Cunningham, of Brooksville, on Sunday last, November 24th. There were forty-one guests present, who had the pleasure of meeting together, some having been detained at home through sickness.

The sumptuous dinner, consisting of everything good the county afforded, was served out in the sunshine on the south side of the house, and, although Jack Frost was around, the genial sunshine from without and within kept all warm and comfortable. The day will long be remembered, not only on account of the excellent dinner and general good time, but, especially, on account of the kindness and hospitality of the hostess.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Fannie McLeod, Wallace McLeod, Miss Edna McLeod, Dr. Gus McLeod and family, Mr. W. A. Nuchols and family, Mr. M. A. Parks and family, Mr. W. A. Parks and family, Mrs. Daniel McLeod, Mrs. Walker George and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hambric and son, Misses Lula and Bettie Smith, Mrs. L. E. Eiland, Miss Maggie Eiland, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. McLeod, Mr. Malcolm McLeod and family.

Fancy China.

NOXUBEE'S 1912 COTTON CROP.

The cotton production of Noxubee county this year is estimated at 17,000 bales against 22,000 in 1911 and 29,000 in 1910. The average crop has always been estimated at about 28,000.

Several causes operated to diminish the yield this year. A very wet Spring delayed planting from four to six weeks, nor was the season following favorable to rapid maturing. The frost killed many young green bolls. In addition there was some reduction in acreage, about ten per cent.

The army worm and boll weevil did considerable damage, though the weevil became active too late to hurt greatly the yield. It is in the county now, however, in great numbers and widely spread, and next year will get in its destructive work.

This county will suffer from its ravages much less than many others. Diversified farming has already been largely practiced here and the raising of hay for sale and home consumption by a vastly greater number of fine cattle, and the raising of more corn for hogs, will in a large measure supplant the raising of cotton. It is authoritatively stated that the cotton acreage of Noxubee will be reduced by from 33 to 50 per cent in 1913.

The establishment of a creamery in Macon just now, which is promised, will be a very fortunate thing at this juncture.

Owing to failure of the railroad agent to forward dipping certificate, cars containing 72 head of beef cattle shipped from Jackson to Chicago packing houses, were held up by government inspectors at Moline, Ill. The rules are very strict and are as strictly enforced. —Aberdeen Examiner.

Notice to Taxpayers.

The tax-books of Sheriff Dantzier are now ready and he is very anxious that as many taxpayers as possible come up and pay before the usual rush. On account of the several receipts for special taxes to be issued, it takes double the usual time to wait on each customer. To avoid a great deal of unpleasantness, both to the taxpayer and collector, call and pay before the rush begins.

Avery's Jewelry and Fine Art Store.

In the location here of Mr. W. E. Avery's Jewelry and Fine Art store, Macon has long boasted of having such an establishment as would reflect credit on a town of 10,000. Christmas of 1912 finds Mr. Avery living up to his high reputation and those looking for something especially fine and nice, though not necessarily expensive, in the way of Christmas presents, may come with confidence to him. The ordinary line of stock kept by him is full and up-to-date and of exceptionally good value.

In the way of gold, one will find here watches, rings, necklaces, bracelets, brooches, jewelry cases and other articles made of the most precious of metals.

Cut glass ware, something that appeals to the love of the beautiful in all of us. Many beautiful articles of choicest quality are in stock. Punch bowls, water sets, puff boxes, perfume bottles, jewel cases and other articles are to be found.

In china ware, we have especially fine line of individual hand-painted plates and platters, cups and saucers, and smaller dishes. This line is of great artistic worth and beauty.

Sterling silver of sterling worth made up into many articles of use and adornment are at Avery's store; mirror sets, manicure sets, combs and brushes, and novelties.

Willow ware is something new, beautiful and stylish. This line is on exhibition in our window and speaks volumes for itself.

Umbrellas and parasols, gold headed, silver-headed and others, and among them the folding ones which can be put in a suit case or trunk.

Clocks, the old reliable Big Bens and Seth Thomas clocks.

Fountain pens, gold and silver hat pins, fine pocket knives, eye-glasses and innumerable other things are in stock.

The whole stock has been selected with care, economy and taste, and Avery's customers may reap the advantage of all.

Miss Lida Smith will be glad to see her friends at Mr. Avery's and will attend to the wants of all customers.

The store will be kept open until 9 o'clock.
