

EXHIBITION OF THE CURTIS PORTRAITS

Famous Photographer of North American Indians to Be Seen at College Library

Through the efforts of Dr. Golder the State College of Washington will have on exhibition for two weeks the wonderful photographs of Mr. Edw. S. Curtis of Seattle. The exhibit consists of about 25 pictures of North America Indians. They are the so-called copper engravings done from photographs, 20x24 inches, and are very beautiful, not only as portraits of a vanishing tribe, but as works of art.

To photograph the Indian out in the open, under bright sunlight, or horseback, in far out-of-the-way places, is difficult enough in itself, but to secure in most cases perfect composition, fine light and shade, and beautiful values with the camera is almost beyond understanding. As one gazes at the various groups, or exhibits, we marvel at the manner in which the Indians have grouped themselves to produce such pictorial charm. The pictures look as if they are instantaneous exposures, and yet how does Mr. Curtis manage to catch them as well posed as if everything had been all arranged and thought out beforehand in some master's studio? Take "The Vanishing Race" for instance: Did anyone ever see more spirit in a painter's masterpiece than in this Curtis photo, where the few sad remaining Indians vanish gradually into the unknown? A man who can produce such wonderful portraits with a camera is certainly an artist of the highest rank and deserves to be placed among the great artists of today.

And this place has been accorded him. The Italian nation, the birthplace and home of everything artistic, awarded Mr. Curtis a "Grand Prize" for these pictures in Turin, a year ago, where they formed part of the United States government exhibit. These pictures are to be seen in the library without charge of any kind and everyone ought to avail themselves of an opportunity very seldom offered in a town of this size.

We are all familiar with the fact that Mr. Curtis has devoted 15 years of his life to the task of compiling a history of the Indian, and when he has completed the work of preserving all the tribes of American Indians with camera and pen he will have spent over $1,000,000, as well as the vast amount of time and talent.

FAMOUS RELIGIOUS EDITOR

The famed Bible defender, the venerable Pastor Russell of London and Brooklyn Tabernacles, has won unstinted praise from the press and public of many nations by 40 years' unceasing activity as evangelist and writer.

In the early part of his ministry smaller cities were frequently visited, but not so now, since his field of operations has become world wide, and the urgent invitations to deliver free public lectures in the largest cities have become so numerous that even all of these can not be accepted.

For the past several years Pastor Russell has made semi-annual foreign tours, and, through the press reports of his meetings held in large public halls of the leading cities, he has received much favorable comment and publicity.

Wonderful Drawing Power

As a public speaker on Bible topics, Pastor Russell stands unrivaled—stands alone in a place created by his own individual work, a place not previously attained nor occupied by another.

The mammoth crowds that repeatedly assemble to hear him at every opportunity is conclusive evidence as to his drawing power. Last year, while conducting a series of Sunday meetings in the London Royal Albert Hall, Pastor Russell received written communications through the mail from more than 6000 persons requesting printed copies of his sermons. So spontaneous a demand was both unprecedented and unlooked for. Another evidence of his popularity on the other side of the rolling blue is the publication of his weekly sermons in something over 300 papers in England, Ireland, Scotland, and Australia.

The editor of Great Britain's foremost family paper, The People's Journal, has so aptly commented and acted on the matter that we can do no better than to quote here the heart-to-heart talk he gave his readers. He said:

A Wonderful Preacher

"It is not the non-churchgoing tendencies of the age that I want to talk to you about, although my 'theme' is more or less closely connected with that subject. You have all, I think, heard of Pastor Russell, the wonderful American preacher, who has just been inducted to the charge of the London tabernacle, known all over the United Kingdom and thousands of miles beyond, as the pulpit of Rev. Spurgeon. Mr. Russell has achieved a position in the world of religious thought unequalled by any living divine. And, curiously enough, he delivered his message to far more people 'outside' the church than could ever be brought together within the walls of the largest temple in the universe. His sermons and writings have won for themselves an extraordinary popularity in America and I am credibly informed that Pastor Russell's printed books on religious subjects are excelled in circulation only by the Bible itself. Just think what this means. It means that millions of people all over the world have found something in Pastor Russell's sermons, essays and lectures which they have been unable to discover in any other religious writings apart from the Great Book itself.

A Weekly Talk

"Now, to come to the crux of the matter. I feel sure that the vast majority of my readers will learn with pleasure that I have arranged for a weekly contribution from the pen of Pastor Russell. A 'sermonette' Mr. Russell himself calls it, but I have an idea it will be found to be something more, something fuller, than merely a condensed sermon. I have been reading a selection of the famous pastor's religious writings, and they appeal to me as being more of the nature of quiet, discursive talks on serious subjects than sermons or pulpits deliverances of the conventional description. Pastor Russell is a clear, easily understood thinker; he eschews dogma and all subtleties of form and faith, and he says what he has to say on the great truths of religion and morals in plain but always beautiful language. He speaks and writes not only to the ordinary churchgoer, as we accept the phrase, but to all intelligent men and women, and I for one can quite well appreciate the unparalleled popularity which he has achieved in America—a popularity, I feel convinced, he will very soon equal in this country. Pastor Russell's talks will begin in the Journal next week, and I am hopeful that they will be an extremely popular feature of the Journal."

The Press of America

Pastor Russell's popularity abroad does not deprive him of the honor of preaching to the largest congregation in America. Surprising as it may seem, his sermons are at present published in more than 1000 newspapers in America, reaching approximately 10,000,000 homes weekly. Last June and July, while making a transcontinental tour to attend the Bible Students Convention at San Francisco, Pastor Russell made several stops en route, and the reception everywhere accorded the "American Spurgeon" was most heartcheering.

Many excellent accounts of his meetings were published. The San Francisco Call, in making reference to what other papers were saying, interestingly summarized as follows: "Pastor Russell's given name has been lost to public record during the last 10 years, in which he has been famous as the great 'Pastor'—plain Pastor Russell—who has swayed hundreds of thousands in this country and abroad.

"Do they come to hear him? Well, rather! So far it has been impossible to engage a hall large enough to hold the crowds. Dreamland rink has been hired for this occasion. In Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and Los Angeles the pastor and his faithful crew have taken the populace by storm. The newspapers have given him more space than a war scare and print his speeches like a presidential message."—Exchange.

Montana Game

The Montana University game was called off by Coach Bender Thursday afternoon on account of the financial difficulties that would have occurred if the game had been played. Posters had been put out by the management advertising the game, but as the weather was very rainy and the field a sea of mud, making the prospects for a crowd that would pay the expenses of the Montana team very poor, the game was cancelled.

IS YOUR HOME WELL HEATED?

Going to buy a home? Or do you want to get the best out of your present home? Then be sure it is well heated. If your home is to be comfortable and cozy during the cold winter months, it should have a modern heating plant. Every house owner should get acquainted with the things that go to make up a good plant. Philip L.
