DAY OF HIS DEEDS FAILS TO GET WRT FOR NEW THEOLOGY

Former Playgrounds' Superintendent Gives Figures.

ANSWER TO MR. GARDNER Declares He Never Told Committee He Received $6,000.

DETAILS OF EXPENDITURES Statement Prepared by Auditor Tweedale Shows Where the Money Went.

Mr. H. S. Curtis, superintendent of playgrounds here, has given out the following statement in reply to charges made on the floor of the House by Representative Gardner:
"I notice that in the discussion of the playground appropriation on the floor of the House Mr. Gardner made a statement that he had said in a Senate hearing that my salary during the time I was in Washington amounted to $6,000 a year. I challenge him to produce any such statement by me in the hearings of either the House or the Senate.
"I did, however, make a detailed statement of my income from all sources to Mr. Gardner himself. This statement is doubtless in his possession at the present time. It is as follows: (This is from memory, but it does not vary more than $5 from my statement to him):
Details as to Income.
"Received from the Washington Playground Association for something less than nine months' work $1,770. Received for one week of lecturing during my vacation, $200; received for a report on playgrounds written for the commission on education received for three months' work for the Playground Association of America, $300. This makes $2,270. My total income was $2,275. The difference between this and $2,945 coming from special studies made for the Playground Association of America, and for carrying certain correspondence of the association, which seldom amounted to more than one hour a day and which was always done as excess time.
"As to my salary as superintendent, my only salary was $4,000 a month for lecturing and writing in regard to playgrounds. It would not look as though the $200 paid me by Washington was excessive."
"HENRY S. CURTIS."

How Money Was Spent.

What was done with the money appropriated for playgrounds is shown in detail by a statement just prepared by Auditor Alonzo Tweedale and transmitted to Representative Parsons of New York. Representative Parsons asked whether or not Henry S. Curtis received $2,400 a year from the fund as head of the Playground Association of Washington, and Mr. Tweedale has answered by showing an accounting for every penny for the last two and a half years.
The 1905 appropriation, spent in 1905, was for $2,000. Of this Dr. H. S. Curtis is shown to have received $750 a day for fifty-four days from July to September 16, and $200 a day for 10 days for services as superintendent of construction, received $5 a day for fifty-two days, a total of $290. Pay rolls for carpenters and mechanics amounted to $438.62; athletic supplies cost $331.14. Lumber, hardware and other similar things cost $419.80. Total cost $2,400.00, leaving an unexpended balance of $24.75.
Outlay of $10,000.
The appropriation for 1906-07 for the maintenance, equipment and supervision of playgrounds was $10,000. It was expended as follows, according to the statement of Mr. Tweedale:
Dr. H. S. Curtis, for services as superintendent of playgrounds, July, August, September, October, November, December, January, February, at $30 a month; March, twenty-two days, $22; April, May and June, at $200 a month; a total of $4,980.02, and fluctuated according to the following: This in July, 1906, to the assistant supervisors were paid $513.08; September, $578.72; December, $881.89; February, $636.67; June, $232.00; August, $419.20; October, $200.00; November, $853.23; January, 1907, $151.67, and May, 1907, $411.
Pay rolls for caretakers amounted to $922.08. O. M. Bright, assistant supervisor of construction, received $100 a month during May and June. Carpenters and other mechanics were paid $1,004.53. Dr. Curtis received $274.05 for traveling expenses for inspecting playgrounds in other cities. Lumber, hardware and miscellaneous supplies cost $266.78. Athletic supplies cost $274.05; printing cost $30.64; typewriter and table cost $83.79; a chair cost $7.80; car tickets cost $45.70; athletic cost $46.50; oil heater and some fuel wood cost $19.25. With the exception of $19 the $10,000 was spent.

Four Months Full Pay.

Five thousand dollars was appropriated March 2, 1907. Dr. H. S. Curtis, for services as superintendent of playgrounds, is shown to have received $200 a month for the months of July, August, September and October following. November he received $50, and the following May and June he received $15 per month, a total of $880 from that appropriation.
Assistant supervisors received during the ten months, beginning July, 1907, $2,802.13, as follows: July, $818.65; August, $863.15; September, $441.17; October, $267.16; November, $241.00; December, $208.35; and from January, 1908, to the end of April, 1908, $50 a month.
Caretakers are shown as having received $442.25; office supplies cost $180; car tickets, $20; hardware, etc., cost $131.15; athletic supplies cost $123.25, all of which with the appropriation, with the balance remaining of 43 cents.
The appropriation for 1908 amounted to only $1,500, which was spent as follows: Athletic supplies, $1,577.40; carpenters and other mechanics, $220; car tickets, $20; and miscellaneous supplies, $19.18, leaving an unexpended balance of $33.66.

Kinship Through the Calif.

From the Athenaeum.
Dr. Adolphe Block has contributed to the Paris Anthropological Society a memoir on the size of the calf of the leg as an anthropological character. Its relationship, not only in the negro, but also in the Ethiopian, the Australian, the Papuan, the Waddah, the Dravidian and (according to the monuments) the "civilized" Egyptian of antiquity, constitutes, in his opinion, one of the most reliable tests to trace the negro origin of all these races, though their subsequent evolution has been different, under different conditions of existence. The smallness of the calf is thus, he thinks, an anthropological character of great value, since it is common to all the races mentioned to races which would otherwise have been regarded as complete strangers to each other.
It pays to read the warty columns of The Star. Hundreds of situations are filled through them.

PAULHAN BRAVES WIND IN THRILLING FLIGHT
Long Island Crowd Amazed at Darling of the French Aviator.
NEW YORK, March 14.—During Louis Paulhan's meteoric career as an aviator it is doubtful if he has made any more exciting journey in which the start and the finish were more perilous and sensational than in his flight at the Jamaica race track yesterday afternoon.
Leaving the ground when the wind gusts were whirling off men's hats, he flew away over the adjacent country for about eight minutes, raced back again in a twenty-mile wind and shot his machine to earth under full trust of the propellers, landing very near the spot from which he started.
The velocity with which the machine hissed to the ground was the extraordinary feature of the performance. In point of distance, duration and altitude the flight was not an unusual one. The landing would have attracted very little attention had it not been for the fact that the wind eddies, which made it necessary for him to hurl the machine through the air like a rocket. After the spectators caught their breath they cheered the aviator.
Most of those who saw the performance believed that the Frenchman had given them an exhibition of his reckless desire to exploit colored engravings, a bit of bravado. Paulhan did not explain to the crowd that his safety depended upon his driving the machine straight to the earth like firing a rifle ball through the trembling currents of a whirlpool, but that was the situation, and Paulhan said after the flight that it was the most difficult landing he had ever made.

ANCESTOR OF PICTORIAL POST CARDS.
From the London Globe.
It was in Switzerland that the mania for pictorial post cards first arose, and we well remember the astonishment evoked some dozen years ago at seeing at party of German upon their ascertaining that they could dispatch there, via Italy, a sheaf of views of the Matterhorn.
If one may judge from the very interesting collection of old Alpine prints now at the disposal of the Alpine Club, Saville Bow, our ancestors were also eager to carry away souvenirs of scenes unlike any to which they were accustomed, and of which the terrors and dangers were doubtless not exaggerated.
And so the Swiss, who were among the earliest to exploit colored engravings, provided them with material with a sufficient spice of exaggeration to satisfy those who stayed at home. These they dedicated to the amateurs of the marvels of nature, and for them they crowded into a single landscape a dozen brambles and any number of aiguilles, and glaciers, with artists portraying them and peasants holding festival beneath them.

MAN FATALLY SHOT FOR TAKING A PAIL OF COAL
Special Policeman of the New Jersey Central Railroad Charged With the Deed.
NEW YORK, March 14.—John Fryer of Bayonne was told by his wife yesterday that there wasn't any coal in the house. He took a pail, and, going to the tracks of the Central railroad, close by, began filling it with coal from one of the cars. Two of the company special policemen saw Fryer, and after a dispute there was
