

DRAKE ELEVEN HERE TO BATTLE TIGERS

Would Be Foolish to Predict Outcome, Declares Coach John Griffith.

BULLDOGS ARE LIGHT

Team Averages Only 161 Pounds—Has Had "Up and Down" Season.

Coach John Griffith and twenty of his Drake Bulldogs arrived in Columbia from Des Moines this morning, ready to tackle the Missouri Tiger on Rollins Field tomorrow afternoon. "It would be foolish for me to make any predictions as to the outcome of the game," said the Drake coach. "The Drake team has been playing up and down this year. It is hard to tell what its performance tomorrow will be."

According to Coach Griffith, his team is the lightest in the conference, averaging only 161 pounds. The Bulldogs looked good at the beginning of the season, scoring on both Kansas and Nebraska. Then the Des Moines players handed a defeat to Washington, the first team to bring gloom to the Tiger camp. Last Saturday, however, Drake was blanked by an overwhelming score in a game with Grinnell College.

Forward passing is said to be a specialty of the Drake team. It was by the use of the forward pass that Washington was downed. The mainstay of the Bulldogs is Captain Blackburn, a halfback. He has been the most consistent ground gainer on the team this year. Strong, at center, is another Drake star.

The team will be weakened somewhat by the absence of Welsh, an end, who was forced to remain at home on account of scholastic difficulties. Welsh was one of the three three-year men on the team. The biggest part of the eleven is composed of sophomores.

A walk this afternoon to loosen the stiffness caused by the railroad journey was the only work-out taken by the team.

WANTS ART TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

Prof. J. S. Ankeney Talks at C. H. S. on Civic Beauty.

"Art in the schools of the country will mean art in the homes, and art in the homes will cause the high principles of art to permeate the entire life of the nation. And there is need of art today."

Prof. J. S. Ankeney of the University talked about "Art in the School Room" to more than sixty parents and pupils yesterday afternoon at the Columbia High School. The occasion was the exhibit of the collection of copies from great pictures.

"These 200 pictures," said Professor Ankeney, "represent the civilization of the world, told in the most expressive language, the language of the brush. Their educational value to young people cannot be overemphasized."

Professor Ankeney said that true art expresses one or both of two great feelings, beauty and truth. To illustrate his meaning he took two pictures, the "St. Barbara" of Palma II Vecchio and "The Syndics" of Rembrandt. The first represents beauty as to harmony of curves; the second, as to truth.

"Columbia will profit greatly by art in the schoolroom. We have already seen what a change has taken place in the last few years in regard to pavements, buildings and lawns. What we need now is a small system of parks. I am sure that children who learn to appreciate art will beautify their cities when they grow up," he said.

Professor Ankeney's talk was preceded by a folk dance by eight high school girls and a piano solo by Miss Rachel Griffith.

The Fortnightly Club has already bought a picture of Joan of Arc for the school. Other clubs are contemplating buying pictures.

SCHOOL CLUB TO SHOW PICTURES

Proceeds of "Rip Van Winkle" Will Be Used Aiding Children.

"Rip Van Winkle," a five-reel motion picture feature, will be shown at a matinee at the Columbia Theater Saturday, November 20, under the auspices of the Lee School Mothers' Club. The proceeds of the performance will be used by the club to carry on their work in behalf of the school children.

THEY SAY—

"Columbia needs a street car system," said W. J. Hetsler. "Street cars would help business and make Columbia a better town to live in."

"We should have a convention hall. There is no reason why Columbia should not be a convention town."

"We also need to put forth a greater effort in beautifying Columbia. The Civic League is doing a great work along this line. The contest last summer did much to get people, and especially boys and girls, interested in beautifying their homes. This work should receive greater support. It is teaching us to keep our back yards as well as our front ones looking well."

"Columbia probably has more visitors in a year than any other town of its size in the state. The better we can make our town, the more of these people the town will attract, and the better business will be."

LOCAL NEGROES BEAT QUINDARO

Captain Tibbs Scores Two Touchdowns Against Kansas.

The "tantalizing shift" and Captain Tibbs of the undefeated Columbia Athletics were working to perfection on the fairgrounds gridiron against the negro football team from Western University at Quindaro, Kan., yesterday afternoon.

The Columbia leader scored two touchdowns against the Kansans, while the best the visitors could do was a safety, scoring 2 points to the local negroes' 12. In stopping the center attacks of the Kansas backfield and in lugging the ball, "Boodler" Brown played in old-time form. More than once he brought the grandstand crowd to their feet by his rushes through the Kansas line, leaving a string of would-be tacklers strung out on the ground. Clark also starred for the Columbia team.

Several times the Columbia goal was in danger. Once in the first quarter, the Kansans took the ball to the locals' ten-yard line and a forward pass over the goal line looked like a real success, but out of the air came the form of Rastus Finney and the pass was brought to earth.

Next Tuesday at Jefferson City the Athletics will play Lincoln Institute. They will play a negro Y. M. C. A. team from Chicago on the Sunday following Thanksgiving, at the local fairgrounds.

Five hundred persons saw the game here yesterday. A local negro band played before the game, counted the score and paraded the field between halves.

BREWER ADVISES PLAYGROUNDS

Says Supervised Play Is Essential in Training Children.

That supervised playgrounds at grade schools are not a luxury but a necessity for the proper training of children, was urged by C. L. Brewer, director of athletics in the University, in an address to the Lee School Mothers' Club yesterday afternoon.

"An organized, supervised play is the best fundamental training children can get both for citizenship and general character," said Mr. Brewer. "In play which is haphazard and ill-advised, the aggressive child forces himself into a harmful leadership at the expense of the timid child."

Mr. Brewer suggested that a satisfactory beginning for a playground could be installed for $50 or $60.

In Men and Millions Canvass.

Dean G. D. Edwards of the Missouri Bible College left yesterday for a three weeks' trip with the canvassing party of the Men and Millions movement, which is touring the state. The party will open the campaign in Northeast Missouri and expect to arrive in Columbia in about a week for a meeting.

COLUMBIA'S RIVAL CALLERS

ROAD MEETING IN ST. LOUIS

Business Men Discuss Hard-Surfacing of Old Trails Highway.

A meeting of the good roads committee of the Business Men's League of St. Louis was held this afternoon to discuss what St. Louis would do in aiding the movement to rock the Old Trails road from Kansas City to St. Louis.

Judge J. M. Lowe of Kansas City, president of the National Old Trails Road Association, was expected to tell what has been accomplished already along the road.

The plan to rock the trail from St. Louis to Kansas City was proposed by Judge Lowe at a rock-road meeting held in Kansas City July 9 this year. At that time the judge said he believed the feat was possible.

More than one-third of the trail has been hard-surfaced already. Bonds have been voted in the Wellington district to rock 12 miles of the highway there; a road district bond election is to be held in Waverly, in Lafayette County, on November 24, and a county rock-road bond election in Saline County early in the winter. The date for this election is to be set at a county good roads meeting to be held in Marshall, next week, when the Saline County campaign will be started.

Cooper County has asked the office of good roads of the Department of Agriculture to make a survey of the highways in that county looking toward the rocking of its 160 miles of roads.

JUDGE DAVIS MAY HOLD COURT

Saline County Man Probably Will Take Judge Harris' Place.

Judge Samuel Davis of Marshall, of the fifteenth judicial circuit, will probably preside over the adjourned session of the Circuit Court that is to be called Monday, as Judge David H. Harris is not expected to be out of the hospital in St. Louis, where he is taking treatment for stomach trouble. Judge Harris is improving, however, and expects to return to his home at Fulton next week.
