By CELIA MYROVER ROBINSON

TO MY FRIEND—

Come, tell me thy joy in all that life hath brought
Of peace and love and happiness to thee,
And thou shalt find it all again in me
Reflected: or if Misfortune's hand hath wrought
Distress and loss on thee, my purse hath naught
Of purpose save thine aid; or if it be
That sorrow hath come, then let me weep with thee,
My tears are thine long ere they have been sought,
Or shouldst thou stand accused before all men
Thy tongue alone shall tell me of thy guilt
Or I will hold thee blameless to the end.
Even shouldst thou fall, to help thee rise again
My hand outstretched thou'lt find it, if thou wilt.
This will I do and more—Thou art my friend.

TO MY FOE—

When I remember that within me lies
As much of human frailty as in thee;
That thou, too, feel'st a hurt because of me,
My soul above its rancor fain would rise;
I would that I might see with clearer eyes,
Or better, still, with thine, if it might be
That thou through mine our difference could'st see;
The right such vision then must recognize!
But if, despite my earnest will to love
Instead of hate thee, I my quarrel find
To be just in my esteem, then prithee know;
Still one restraining thought all else above
I will not cease to keep in heart and mind—
Thou art my fellowman, although my foe.

HIGH SCHOOL TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The high school has a number of enthusiastic tennis players among its faculty and pupils, and now that spring is opening and the out-of-doors calls to one, the courts are very popular in the afternoons. Among those who are playing are Miss Sarah Donaldson, Miss Ocie Clubbs, Miss Edith Lusk, Miss Beth Walton, Professor W. S. Cawthon, Messrs. Oliver Marston, Lou Caro and Newton Axelson.

FORMER PENSACOLA GIRL TO MARRY KANSAS MAN.

A wedding that will prove of interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends is that of Miss Mamie Hatton, formerly of Pensacola, but now making her home in Cottonwood Falls, Kansas, whose marriage to Mr. Morrison Congdon, of that city will be an event of April 9th. Miss Hatton made her home in Pensacola until a few years ago, since which time she has been residing with relatives in Kansas. She is a young woman of very winning personality, and her attractive qualities make friends for her wherever she may be.

Mr. Congdon is a rising young business man of Cottonwood Falls. Mrs. Fred Muller, a sister of the bride-elect, leaves on Monday to attend the wedding.

use McCray Refrigerators in their residences, there must be a reason—and there is—a good one.

An unsanitary refrigerator, often causes serious illness, and children are especially liable to sickness caused by refrigerator poisoned milk, yet few people think of laying the blame where it actually belongs.

Let Us Tell You Why the McCray Refrigerator is better than any other refrigerator made, anywhere, by anybody—not only in elegance of appearance, economy of ice, and sanitation, but why the McCray Patent System of Refrigeration gives such a perfect circulation of pure, cold dry air, that you can keep salt or matches in a McCray Refrigerator without becoming damp.

THE MONTGOMERY TO LEAVE ON MONDAY.

The cruiser Montgomery, which has been in Pensacola waters all winter, will leave on Monday, and the officers who have made so many friends during their visits to Pensacola will be greatly missed in social and club circles. Among those on the Montgomery who have enjoyed the hospitality of the city and have extended many courtesies aboard ship are Commander Kaiser, Lieut. J. F. Murdock, paymaster, Dallas Wainwright, and Ensigns Nichols, Battle, McKittrick, Ragout, Evans, Chase and Parrott.

BRILLIANT YACHT CLUB COTTILLION IN JACKSONVILLE.

The following account of the Easter Yacht club cottillion danced recently in Jacksonville is taken from the Metropolis:

The Easter Yacht Club cottillion danced last evening at the club house in Riverside, marked the formal opening of the post-Lenten season and was attended by a brilliant company of society men and women.

The dancing began at 9 o'clock, the dancers being led through a maze of pretty and intricate figures by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Elmore, popular members of the married set.

Mrs. Elmore wore a lovely gown of white chiffon with an accordion plaited flounce and elaborately trimmed in lace. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley.

Invited to chaperone and preside at the favor table were the following prominent matrons: Mrs. J. Dabbin Holmes, Mrs. J. P. Beckwith, Mrs. William Toomer, Mrs. Robert R. Roseborough, Mrs. Walter F. Coachman and Mrs. Robert Gamble.

One figure which was especially attractive was when the men received Napoleon hats and the girls paper dusters of various colors.

Proceeding intermission was the souvenir figure, the girls receiving pretty colored Easter eggs filled with candy, and the men packages of cigarettes adorned with cunning chicks.

In another figure the chaperones wore bridal veils and were attended by all of the girls carrying baskets of flowers.

At intermission a delicious course supper was served, after which the dancing was resumed with renewed enthusiasm.

The cottillion last evening was one of the most enjoyable given by the Yacht club this year, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmore are to be congratulated on the originality and success of the figures through which they led the dancers.

A large number of charming visiting girls were in attendance last evening, as well as some of the season's loveliest debutantes, including Miss Clyde Cranford, who wore yellow chiffon over charmeuse, with trimmings of Persian passementerie.

Miss Nadia L'Engle, white voile with drapery shot with silver and trimmed in rhinestone banding.

Miss Julia Beville, white crepe with drapery shot with silver and trimmed in rhinestone banding.

Miss Susie Hatcher, of Columbus, Ga., blue charmeuse, with crystal drapery over pink roses and fashioned with a touch of black.

Miss Marguerite Wright, of Augusta, Ga., white charmeuse with an overdress of pale green chiffon embroidered in silver and rhinestone daisies.

Miss Nell Carrington, of Lexington, Va., bronzed charmeuse elaborately trimmed in lace.

Miss Lenise Collins, of San Francisco, Cal., blue chiffon over blue satin trimmed in crystal fringe with a touch of pink.

Miss Angie Holman, of New York City, white lace robe trimmed in clusters of pastel roses. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of Paima violets.

Miss Isabel Thomas, of Athens, Ga., blue crepe meteor trimmed in lace, and she wore a corsage of pink and white sweet peas.

Miss Isabel Welch of Palatka, blue charmeuse veiled in blue chiffon and

FREE LECTURE TODAY AT THE COURT HOUSE
C. K. STAMBAUGH WILL SPEAK AT THE COURT HOUSE THIS AFTERNOON AT 3 O'CLOCK.

C. K. Stambaugh, who has been actively associated with the local class of Bible students, will lecture at the court house today at 3 o'clock. His subject will deal with three points in the Bible which interest all thinking Christians, and which are seldom satisfactorily explained. The subjects are: "Why Does Not God Kill the Devil?" "Why 6,000 Years of Sorrow, Pain, Sin and Death?" "Why do We Still Die 1900 Years After the Ransom is Given?"

In reference to these subjects, Mr. Stambaugh says: "The recent work of the International Bible Students' class of Pensacola has so stimulated Bible research that members of various churches, as well as many people who have lost all confidence in churches and the Bible, continually approach us with questions of vital importance on Bible subjects which they cannot get answered elsewhere. The result is that through the medium of the press and the activity of a few consecrated followers of Christ, truth is being given these people and they are seeing the beauty of the Word of God as it has never appeared to them before."

"Frequently we are condemned," he continued, "for the liberal use we make of the greatest factor of public opinion and education, the public press, but
