

West Sunday School 43 Years Old--Special Sermons in The City Churches

WEST SCHOOL 43 YEARS OLD

Young People to Present Anniversary Program on Sunday Night

1484 PUPILS NOW ON THE ENROLLMENT

At West Presbyterian Church tomorrow, the forty-third anniversary of the Sunday school will be celebrated. In the morning at 10:30 o'clock the pastor, the Rev. Alexander Allison, Jr., will conduct Divine worship and preach, his theme being, "Each For All and All For Each." There will be special music by the large chorus choir.

At 2 o'clock the various departments of the Sunday school will meet. Final rehearsal of the carols and assignment of sittings for the evening celebration will be the special orders of the afternoon, all members of the school being given places. The Women's Class, taught by the parish helper, and the Men's Class, taught by the pastor, are each a little over a year old and will try to out-vie one another in mastering their members for the anniversary. The Men's Class has been fortunate in securing Secretary Mitchell, of the Y. M. C. A., to conduct the opening exercises and sing a baritone solo. The quartet will also sing. The pastor's teaching topic will be, "Esther or the Influence of a Lovely Woman." Men are invited.

At 7 o'clock in the evening the main celebration of the day will take place. There will be carols by the Sunday school, vocal and orchestral music, reports, rewards, addresses and exercises by the children. Miss Grace Baird has been training the children for some weeks and her part of the anniversary celebration will be worth seeing. Brief addresses will be made by Secretary Allison, of the Y. M. C. A., and H. L. Cloud and A. M. Main, representing the Baird and Italian Mission schools. Charles N. Bower, superintendent of the school, will conduct the exercises and read his annual report. His report will show the past year to have been the best the school has ever experienced. Never before have so many new members been enrolled in one year, the total number added during the past twelve months being 323, a good sized Sunday school itself. The total enrollment of the school is 1484. Adding to this the enrollment of the Baird Italian Mission Schools, brings the grand total membership of West Church schools up to 1890.

RALLY DAY FOR BAPTISTS

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

BIBLE STUDIES OLD TESTAMENT TIMES

GOD'S PROVIDENCE ARE TWO QUEENS.

Yashti's Method--Esther's Method. Present Day Applications. Esther 1: 1-5; 2: 1-17. "The Lord Preserves Them That Love Him."--Psalm cxli, 20. Today's study has queen Esther for its topic. She was a Jewess, noted for her beauty, and on this account she was chosen of Ahasuerus, King of Persia, to be his queen. It is presumed that she received the name Esther, which signifies a star, because of her beauty, Hishbar being the Chaldean equivalent for Venus. She succeeded Vashti, the former queen who had displeased the king and been divorced.

In the opposite course of these two queens we find a lesson bearing on the Suffragette question of today. The king had a banquet with the lords of his empire. It may be assumed that it was a revel, and that the king and his guests, at the height of the revel were more or less under the influence of wine. Giving Queen Vashti the benefit of the doubt, this was probably the king's request that she come into the banquet garden.

Many will say that she did just right in asserting her womanhood, in "standing up for her rights," etc. We will not dispute that all women have rights, and that Queen Vashti had hers and that she exercised them. We merely offer the suggestion that in a question of "rights" along lines of force and compulsion, Queen Vashti won a victory which cost her dearly. In Queen Esther's procedure, which is the subject of this lesson, we see the opposite course pursued--the queen won a great victory with happy results by a totally different procedure, and one which in our judgment recommends itself to the wisest and best of men and women.

Vashti could have taken a similar course but did not. However much she might have felt that the king's requirement of her presence would expose her to jest or rudeness, she should have relied upon her charm and tact and purity and upon her husband's love and care. While it was not hers to intrude into the banquet once invited, her presence should have been a balm to a sweet, young, untried, a rebuke to any immodesty, like many another well-meaning woman, Queen Vashti was unwise; she abandoned the most potent defense of pure womanhood when she met command with refusal. But then we must remember that Vashti was neither a Christian nor a Jewess, and was therefore without any Divine instruction or guidance. While we recognize the fact that, as spiritual New Creatures in Christ, these are not esteemed of God on account of pedigree, station or sex, that "there is neither male nor female" in Christ Jesus, still it is true that, as the Scriptures declare, "Man is the head of the woman," and she is the "helpmate for him." See Genesis ii, 13; "I Corinthians 11, 3; Ephesians 5, 23-25.

Esther Stopped For Victory.

Queen Esther was not a suffragette. When invited to become the queen she did not decline and see to it that she stood on the same ground as Vashti. She accepted her accession as of Divine providence. She clothed herself with humility and with the most becoming of her fine apparel. She made herself as agreeable to the king as possible. It is presumed that at this time she was in her eighteenth year, Haman, the king's favorite, took a dislike to the gate-keeper of the palace, Mordecai, a Jew, because the latter did not bow before him, as did others. Mordecai was so faithful that Haman could not hope to find a fault with him, and thus to cause his removal. His hatred extended to the entire Jewish race. He prevailed upon the king to issue a decree that all the Jews of his kingdom should be set upon and killed, as enemies of the country. This, of course, would include Mordecai, his special enemy, whom he would then feel free to kill.

As the time for the enforcement of the decree drew nearer and nearer Mordecai and all the Jews throughout the empire were in great distress and fear, yet not without hope that their God would work for them some deliverance. This matter is detailed in our lesson.

Queen Esther was cousin to Mordecai although the latter was old enough to have been her father. She was, indeed, his adopted daughter. He appealed to her to use the influence of her position to have the king rescind the order. She delayed because strangely enough, at this very time, the king had shown a coldness toward her, and had not called for her for a month.

Mordecai pressed the matter more urgently, assuring her that she was about to lose a great privilege of service for her people; that God evidently raised her to this position in the kingdom for this very purpose of bringing to the Jews relief and that, if she failed to note and to use the privilege, God doubtless would use some other agency and still bring deliverance. In harmony with His promises. The appeal was sufficient. The queen merely delayed for three days more, requesting that Mordecai and all the Jews of the royal city should join with her in a three days' fast before God, which of course included petitions to God for the deliverance of His people, and for wisdom to guide Esther in her endeavor to use her talent and opportunity wisely.

Love and Beauty Conquered.

Queen Esther risked her station and even her life in going into the king's presence without a summons; but attired in her royal apparel she risked everything for her race. She charmed the king, who extended to her his royal scepter, which she touched. He perceived that she had a request to make, and urged her to speak. Wisely she refrained and asked the king and Haman, his prime minister, her enemy, to partake of a special dinner with her in the court garden. After the visit the king again urged her to say what wish of his attractive queen he could gratify. This was Queen Esther's opportunity, and she replied, asking why, if he loved her, he would issue an edict that she should be killed, and all of her race, the Jews?

Her case was immediately won. The king perceived that he had been inveigled by Haman into making an unjust decree (a bad law stipulated that no decree of a Persian king could be changed). This decree had been stamped with the king's seal, and the king, angry at Haman, made another decree, namely, that Haman should be hanged, and that the Jews everywhere should be notified that they had royal consent to use force against their enemies in defending their lives.

Some one has said, There is nothing so safe as doing one's duty. Queen Esther recognized her duty to her people, and her example is an inspiration coming down to us through centuries. God will recognize and reward the love and zeal and energy of His people, as the words of our text declare. He also says, "I love them that love Me."

HOW TO CHANGE YOUR FACE

(From Fashion Review.)

The painful dangerous and expensive operation known as "face-peeling" is not necessary to accomplish the results sought. One can gradually and safely remove the old and unbecoming cuticle from her face without pain, danger or detention indoors. Simply use ordinary mercolized wax, which can be obtained at any drug store. Apply it for a few nights like cold cream and wash it off each morning. The mercoline in the wax slowly absorbs the half-dead outer skin, which flakes off day by day in fine, invisible particles. The fresh young skin underneath soon blooms forth radiantly, making the face look years younger and much prettier.

Employment of this process is not noticeable to others, except that your complexion improves rapidly.

Of course, the removal of the surface skin in this pleasant manner, takes with it all facial blemishes, such as chaps, freckles, moth patches, liver spots, fine wrinkles, pimples, etc. Mercolized wax has been known for years to many society women, noted for their beautiful and lasting complexions.
