TURKEY HAS 300,000 TRAINED SOLDIERS READY TO FIGHT ALLIES

Turkish cavalry on march. The full war strength of Turkey's army is 300,000 trained men, but, in addition, it is believed that there are about 400,000 irregulars, some of whom actually have joined the army, while the rest are ready to do so. It is believed the movements of the Turkish army in the present war will be directed by German generals.

at almost the cost of digging and sacking, and yet those potatoes, if sent through the regular channels of trade, with three or four middle men to reward, would mount to high figures by the time they entered the homes of the poor. This part of the United States would be willing to send out trainloads of surplus farm produce each year, to be distributed to the poor, if assured barely the cost of production and certain that the shipments would go first handed to the needy.

HOW THE POOR COULD BE ASSISTED.

America's efforts at feeding the starving people of Belgium, which has caused us to send trainloads of food-stuffs across the ocean, reminds us there is not a winter at home during which the same relief might not be prosecuted to the great benefit of a vast multitude of very poor men, women and children.

RUSSIANS 200 MILES FROM BERLIN.

The Russians have crossed the Warthe river and passed over the East Prussian frontier west of Kallitz at a point 200 miles southeast of Berlin. They are about 70 miles north of Breslau and by moving 50 miles further into German territory will have command of important railroad communications reaching into south-eastern Germany.

WAR AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

Arthur Ruhl, who was in Antwerp when the siege reached its climax, writes his experiences for Collier's, which presents a closer and more stirring view of what happened in the commercial center of Belgium than has come to our notice from any other source.

untold losses among live stock

All Movement of Stock Stopped. "Veterinary authorities of the United States," said he, "are agreed that the only method of combating the disease is to stop all movement of stock and material which have been subjected to infection and to kill all herds in which the disease has gained a foothold."

Earth's Judgment Day will be the time when all the heathen will have their trial, after they shall have been brought by Messiah's Kingdom to a clear knowledge of the Truth.

Some of them may have been in churches occasionally, and may have seen Bibles, nevertheless the eyes of their understanding were darkened. The god of this world had blinded their minds, the Apostle declares—2 Cor. 4:4.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 9.—The state board of health today received notice of the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in New Jersey.

A temporary quarantine has been placed on the shipment of cattle. The information of the board is that diseased cattle are brought here from the Sixtieth Street stock yards in New York City.
