A GOVERNOR'S MANSION.

A bill to provide for the erection of a governor's mansion at Indianapolis has been reported from committee favorably to the legislature.

Let any should think this without parallel they need not look to the white-house to find a precedent. Most of the southern states have them. It is by no means singular that the states which believe most strongly in statesrights and the dignity of the state as apart from the nation should have an executive mansion of their own.

No westerner or northerner who visits quiet Annapolis and sees adjoining the historic state house the executive mansion of the state can help being filled with a new idea of what the state itself means to its citizens.

The most obvious reason for having an executive mansion, possibly, is to avoid the necessity of the house hunting duties of the newly elected governor and his wife in order that both of them may give their entire time to the problem of distributing patronage.

If we must have a state abiding place for our governors at least let enough money be appropriated for the building so that it will be worthy of the state of Indiana.

It is to be hoped that this will put an end to the talk which most periodically come to the fore every campaign as to whether or not an allowance may be consistently accepted by the governor to house himself.

The bill before the legislature to legalize base ball on Sunday afternoons will appeal to most citizens of Richmond.

Just what to do when the kidneys are affected, is a question that concerns both young and old. Weak kidneys neglected in childhood lead to life-long suffering.

There is one remedy that acts directly on the kidneys and cures these troubles. Doan's Kidney Pills owe their world-wide fame to the fact that they cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

Critics to the contrary, it is better for the average man to see a baseball game in which the splendor of the human body in action is displayed than it is to stay at home reading what the average man reads.

Richmond has always been favorably disposed to the sport of Sunday baseball. It is a singular commentary, but true that in some places the two forces which have fought Sunday baseball have been ministerial associations and those who had liquor for sale on the quiet on the day of rest.

TAFT ON THE TARIFF.

The letter of President-elect Taft on the tariff to Mr. Henry Reisenberg, chairman of the committee of the national tariff commission convention which is to take place in Indianapolis is almost the first Taft expression on the subject since the campaign.

hands of experts is indeed not only vital but progressive. The significant thing seems to be that Taft favors a permanent commission of scientific men rather than a changing commission of business men.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

I am in favor of the retention of the saloons. I am a business man and, I believe I express the sentiments of many of my associates. I submit the following sane editorial clipped from the New York Journal of Commerce of the issue of January 21, just prior to the Tennessee legislature passing over the veto of the governor the state-wide prohibition law.

Governor Patterson's veto of the bill prohibiting the sale of liquor in Tennessee, which was passed by a vote of 20 to 13 in the senate and 62 to 36 in the house of representatives, may not defeat the measure, as a veto can be overridden in that state by a majority vote, but the message in which it was conveyed is refreshing for the candor with which the governor's disapproval is expressed.

Governor Patterson declares that experience has taught that "no arbitrary prohibition law has ever obeyed and that its enactment brings no settlement of the question, but rather leaves it like a burr on the body politic to irritate and inflame."

That prohibition laws not only have this malign effect in some measure wherever they exist, but by failure to command universal respect and effective support for their enforcement weaken regard for law in general and introduce a corrupt element into politics hardly less demoralizing than that of the saloon, has been amply demonstrated.

The first act in a tragedy. Our first parents, perfect and amidst perfect surroundings, are disobedient to their Creator and thereby come under the sentence of death.

What earthly mind could outline a drama of such lights and shadows, heights and depths? A glory left for mercy's sake, years of self-sacrifice, and a cruel death, all for the sake of love and obedience and for the satisfaction of Justice!

The Only Way

Many Richmond Citizens Have Discovered It.

Essences Restore Stomachs

Are you ever "blue"? If before breakfast, dinner and supper you do not feel a hearty, hungry feeling and following for some time, which it is claimed has cured many famous people.

There is much sound sense—there is, indeed, a great deal of patriotism—in the old saying that every place should keep its own end up. That way lie the healthy competition and the wholesome emulous rivalry which are as the soul of progressive business.

In balloon ascensions the occupants never experience giddiness. Scientists say that they are at a loss to give a reason for this.

Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle

The above is a very good portrait of Pastor Russell, who is perhaps the most widely known speaker on the American platform to-day, having spoken in nearly every large American city, as well as in many cities in Europe.

HE IS NOT ASHAMED TO CALL THEM BRETHREN

"He that Sanctifieth and they that are Sanctified are all of One (character). For which cause He is not ashamed to call Them Brethren."—Heb. 2:11.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 24.—Pastor Russell preached here to-day in the Hippodrome to an audience of about five thousand of Cleveland's most intelligent people. We report one of his discourses, from the above text. The special subject was "The Lamb's Wife."

No novel or plot ever brought upon a stage can compare with the great drama of humanity, as outlined in the Scriptures. "All the world's a stage" was, perhaps, a truer saying than its author appreciated.

The first act in a tragedy. Our first parents, perfect and amidst perfect surroundings, are disobedient to their Creator and thereby come under the sentence of death.

THE OPENING TRAGEDY.

What earthly mind could outline a drama of such lights and shadows, heights and depths? A glory left for mercy's sake, years of self-sacrifice, and a cruel death, all for the sake of love and obedience and for the satisfaction of Justice!

EMMANUEL'S JOINT-HEIR.

The next act in the Divine drama is the selection of the Bride for the Great King of Glory, who redeemed the world and whom the Father hath highly exalted, as a reward, to the divine nature, with His glory, honor and dominion.

MERCY ENTERS THE SCENE.

For mercy than Four Thousand Years this one lesson of the inflexibility of Justice.
