THIRD NEW BUILDING STARTED AT O. A. C.

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore., July 13.—Work on the new mechanic arts building, which, with the horticulture and farm mechanics buildings, makes three now in process of construction on the campus, is rapidly progressing, and the foundations are nearly complete. It is expected to have it finished, with the equipment installed by the opening of the first semester this fall, September 29.

The building is to be divided into three shops, one for wood working, one for plumbing, and a foundry. The foundry will occupy an area of 60x35 feet, and will contain a cupola for melting iron, a brass furnace, a core oven, the necessary melting tools, and all the equipment of a modern foundry.

Adjoining the foundry will be the plumbing and pipe fitting shop, occupying some 34x24 feet of space. Instructional work here will be supplemented by much of the repair work of the college—a saving of a considerable amount of money to the state in keeping up the college plumbing.

The rest of the building will be given over to the wood working department, which has hitherto been much cramped for space in the old shops. Lathes will be installed and in addition to the instructional work done there, much of the furniture and other equipment needed by the college in its offices, class rooms and other departments, will be constructed here at a much smaller expense than they could be bought. When the building is completed, the three shops will almost double the capacity of the old greenhouses, between the engineering building and the shops.

"HELL" TALK NOT RELIGION.

Man Who Interrupts Speaker Excused by Court.

Vancouver, B. C.—On the plea that at a large meeting held in Vancouver last Thursday night by Pastor Russell who lectures on "Hell," was not a gathering for religious worship, Harry Fitzgerald, a socialist, who violently interrupted the preacher, was allowed his freedom by Police Magistrate Shaw. Fitzgerald had objected in the Pastor Russell meeting to a remark made by the lecturer that socialists were really anarchists. Fitzgerald vociferously interrupted, and refusing to be calmed, was arrested and spent the night in a cell. Next day he was charged with interrupting a "meeting for religious worship," to quote the words used by the criminal code. He argued that it was not a religious gathering, though the proceedings had opened with prayer. The court agreed that Pastor Russell was merely expressing an opinion regarding the hereafter, which was not necessarily religion.

BRIDE, 68, WEDS VETERAN.

Old Couple Excited When Pastor Reads Ceremony.

Vancouver, Wash.—Though a veteran of the civil war and 68 years old, James Cope led to the altar Mrs. Balzura Carter, also 68 years of age. Both showed signs of bashfulness and embarrassment. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. R. Poole of the First Baptist church.

For many years Mr. Cope was a park policeman in Portland. With his bride he will make his home in Orting, where the State Soldiers' Home is situated. The bride and bridegroom are from that city.

TARS ARE NOT TO BE BARRED.

Seattle's Mayor Wants Sailors to Be Treated Fairly.

Seattle, Wash.—Mayor Dilling has directed Chief of Police Claude Bannick to see that all sailors who are ordered are given proper treatment in all cafes and places of amusement in the city. This order followed a complaint made to the Mayor by R. L. Khorney, flag lieutenant to Rear-Admiral Southerland, that three sailors had been excluded from The Rathskellar last Friday night. The manager of the Rathskellar disclaims responsibility for the act of the doorkeeper in turning away three sailors.

FLOODS ARE DESTROYING TOWNS IN MEXICO.

Guadalajara, Mex., July 13.—The towns of Lagos, Encarnacion and San Juan de los Lagos, are inundated as the result of six days of almost constant rains. Two churches and one hundred houses are reported wrecked at Lagos.

The steel bridges on the Mexican Central railroad at Lagos was damaged. Entire blocks of houses were wrecked at Encarnacion and San Juan de los Lagos. Loss of life is reported.

MAN RISKS LIFE FOR GOAT.

Spectacular Rescue of Animal Imperiled by Flood.

Minneapolis, Minn.—After risking his own life and nearly losing it and the life of a valuable horse in saving the life of "Mike," his goat, B. Goldstein, 611 Dupont avenue N., is preparing to bring action against the city because the city sewers endangered the life of the goat.

The goat was imprisoned several hours on the second floor of Mr. Goldstein's barn at 1375 Sixth avenue N., with Queen, a watch dog, and in the meantime the barnyard was covered with eight feet of water.

Mr. Goldstein's rescue of the goat, which is the constant companion of his son Clyde, was spectacular, and the crowd on the banks of the temporary lake applauded.

The lake was formed by a heavy rain recently. The sewers, clogged by a previous rain, backed up and formed a lake about the barn.

Mike and Queen took refuge in the hay loft, and when Mr. Goldstein returned to the barn his first thought was for them. He first drove his team into the water, but had gone but a few feet when one of the horses went under the water.

With the aid of a rope the crowd on the shore saved the horse. Then Mr. Goldstein still determined to save the marooned animals rode the horse to the barn. The horse had to swim a part of the way.

There, by throwing the dog into the water and making it swim ashore and by placing Mike on the horse in front of him, he saved the pair, while the crowd cheered.

SNAKES NEST IN HIS CLOTHES.

Swimmer Comes Out of Creek and Kills Nine Out of Twelve Reptiles.

Boston, Mass.—William Lavalley of Oxford killed nine blacksnakes that had taken up quarters in his clothes while he was in bathing. The snakes when laid end to end measured 49 feet, 3 inches. While in the water he saw a blacksnake crawling out into the sun near the clothes. Upon investigation he found that twelve snakes had nested there.

WOMAN IS 108 YEARS OLD.

She Attends to Her Own Housework and Goes Visiting.

Owensville, Ind.—Mrs. Mary Hamilton, age 108, of near East Mount Carmel, is believed to be the oldest person in southern Indiana.

She laughs at Dr. Osler's theory that a person of fifty has passed the period of usefulness in this world and her interests in home affairs show her age has no terrors for her. Mrs. Hamilton cooks, sweeps and does general housework.

Mrs. Hamilton recently expressed a wish to visit her son, Marsh Hamilton, living west of Owensville. A two-horse wagon was the only means of conveyance at her disposal, and having planned the visit Mrs. Hamilton climbed into the wagon and jolted over the road ten miles to her son's home.

ROCK FOUND IN APPENDIX.

Santa Rosa Surgeons Save Life of Human Ostrich.

Santa Rosa.—Mrs. Bacigalupi, Rohr and Hamlin made a remarkable discovery when they operated upon a blockmaker, A. Ferrari, for appendicitis.

The man was nearly dead when the operation was decided upon, but the physicians discovered in the appendix a large piece of basalt block. How it got there has not been explained, but it is possible the man swallowed it.

The surgeons say that he will recover, the operation having afforded him immediate relief.

INSURGENT TEACHERS READY FOR BATTLE.

San Francisco, July 13.—Confident they have a majority of the nominating committee and will capture complete control of the National Educational association, the "insurgents" are busy as bees today, closing the final gaps in the ranks and the whole convention is humming with battle, which will culminate in tomorrow's elections.

The winning slate, the insurgents say, will be President, Carroll G. Pearce of Milwaukee; vice president, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young of Chicago; treasurer, Katherine D. Blake of New York.

The insurgents also declare that they will add two new members of the board of trustees. Chicago and St. Paul have the best chance of landing the next convention.

SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN IS PRESIDENTIAL MATERIAL.

Lincoln, Neb., July 13. Conspicuously omitting the name of Governor Harmon of Ohio, Bryan's Commoner today publishes a list of democrats whom it considers available for the democratic presidential nomination in 1912.

Governor Wilson of New Jersey and Champ Clark and Joseph W. Folk of Missouri are given the preference.

Others mentioned are Hoke Smith of Georgia, Governor Burke of North Dakota; Governor Marshall of Indiana and Governor Dix of New York. Bryan also mentions Senator Chamberlain of Oregon as available timber.

Spring Dressmaking.

"I hear your wife is confined to the house."
"Yes."
"What does the doctor say?"
"We haven't employed a doctor. The dressmaker promised to have her out in about four days."

Bonded warehouse system was first authorized in England by act of parliament in 1392. It was suggested by Sir Robert Walpole in 1733, but was then defeated owing to its unpopularity.

For summer diarrhoea in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, and a speedy cure is certain. For sale by all dealers.

PRISONER ROBS HIS JUDGE.

On Trial Before U. S. Commissioner, Alleged Counterfeiter Gets Watch.

Kansas City, Mo.—While the hearing of Frank Jackson, charged with passing counterfeit money, was in progress before United States Commissioner Cookey, in Kansas City, Kans., the prisoner stole Cookey's watch.

During the hearing the commissioner removed his coat, in a pocket of which was the watch, and hung up the garment near Jackson. Although two officers were guarding the prisoner, he managed to obtain the watch and hide it in his shoe. An hour later Cookey discovered his loss and the watch was taken from the prisoner's cell.

SALVATION ARMY HAS NAVY.

Yacht Jerry McAuley, a Gift, Dedicated to Service.

New York—A crowd of 10,000 persons attended the Salvation Army mass meeting at the band stand in Battery Park to listen to a musical program and an address by Bradford Lee Gilbert, who gave the yacht Jerry McAuley, the initial ship of the Salvation navy in this country. Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army and Navy, then dedicated the craft to the service and introduced its commander and crew. The Jerry McAuley is 35 feet long, has 12-foot beam and will accommodate six persons. It will be her mission to cruise along the Atlantic coast, dropping anchor in many ports.

DEAD MAN'S BULLETS FLY.

Cartridges Explode When Old Clothes Are Burned.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—Several days ago Andrew Lineski of Old Forge committed suicide and his body was prepared for burial at the morgue of Undertaker John Durkin. Afterward Mrs. William Conway, Durkin's housekeeper, went to the morgue and procured the old clothing of the deceased. When the clothes were burned in a stove fire revolver cartridges that had not been removed from a coat pocket exploded. The balls went in various directions and Mrs. Conway narrowly escaped being shot in the head.

LAUGHS AT LOSS OF $1000.

Woman of 81 Sheds Nightgown and Wealth.

New York.—A chubby little old woman, her white hair drawn tightly back from her ruddy, cherry face, her eyes twinkle, a palmetto fan in one hand and a glass of beer in the other, sat in an apartment in West One Hundred and Fourteenth street and laughed over the loss of $1000 which she abscondingly threw out of her front window.

The little, old woman is Mrs. Mary Brassell, 84 years old and she lives with her son, Patrick Brassell and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Allen, at 84 West One Hundred and Fourteenth street, which is one of a long row of apartment houses taking in the block between Lenox and Fifth avenues and is only a part of her property holdings.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Mrs. Brassell decided that a cold bath would be the most agreeable experience in the world for her and she bade her brand-daughter prepare one. Mrs. Brassell was wearing her nightgown for coolness.

The $1000 in nine new $100 bills and ten new tens was in a little chambray wallet on a string about her neck. She went to the window for a breath of fresh air and pulled her nightgown over her head and dropped it over the sill. As she pulled, the wallet with the $1000 went over with the nightgown—only it didn't remain on the window sill. It went out into the street and that is the last the Brassell family has seen of it.

"Wurra, wurra, 'tis gone, that money," chirped the philosophical Mrs. Brassell, "and 'tis only that I hope some poor, hot devil found it and it'll give him a chance to buy a drop of cold beer and maybe a trip to Coney island, I do."
