

Mrs. McManigal Cases Brought in Dynamite Case

Prosecution and Defense in Struggle Over Wife of Prisoner

She Is Guest of Job Harriman, McNamara's Attorney, and Defies Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—A struggle, quiet, but keen and determined, was waged all day today between prosecution and defense over Mrs. Orlie E. McManigal, who, next to her husband and his accused fellow plotters, probably is the most interesting figure in the McNamara dynamite conspiracy case.

The defense, directed by Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for John J. McNamara, the indicted iron workers' union official, and his brother James, scored first when detectives employed by the prosecution seized Mrs. McManigal's trunk and failed to find incriminating letters and papers which they said they were seeking. But still on the trail of the alleged evidences, officials of the district attorney's office caused grand jury subpoenas to be issued and served first upon Mrs. McManigal and her companion, Mrs. Sadie McGuire of Chicago and then upon the three little children of the woman.

THREE CHILDREN ARRIVE

The children were Patricia McGuire, Ethelyn McManigal and Walter McManigal. The two girls have just passed their seventh birthdays and the boy is a little child in pants. They were taken up to the grand jury room late today after Mrs. McGuire had been summoned and Mrs. McManigal had declined to answer the questions of the inquest. Mrs. McManigal stood upon her rights as the wife of an accused man and refused to testify by advice of Darrow and Attorneys Joseph D. Jaccoppe, Davis and Job Harriman, associate counsel for the McNamaras, who accompanied her and the children to the corridor of the grand jury chambers. Mrs. McGuire, who is the wife of Thomas McGuire, an official of the iron workers' union in Chicago, said before she took the stand that she knew nothing of the case against the McNamaras and McManigal.

WOMAN HARRIMAN'S GUEST

The developments, which culminated in the summoning of the children and their mothers before the grand jury today, began yesterday when Mrs. McManigal and Mrs. McGuire arrived on the same train that brought Clarence Darrow to the city. Prior to that time it had been expected that Mrs. McManigal would be on the side of the prosecution, but the woman, by her actions, apparently repudiated the declaration of the district attorney that she would be a star witness for the state.

First, Mrs. McManigal went to apartments prepared for her at a hotel where Job Harriman and his family are living. Then, in company with Darrow and other attorneys for the McNamaras, she went to the county jail, and there, according to information obtained from the prosecution today, endeavored to have her husband serve notice on the district attorney that he wanted to see the attorneys for the defense and desired to testify on behalf of the McNamara brothers. McManigal actually signed such a notice and Mrs. McManigal gave it to Darrow, but Malcolm McLaren, a reporter for the Daily News, who was in the room, said that he had persuaded the prisoner to send another note to Darrow revising the previous attitude.

DARROW IS WAITING

Darrow admitted today he had both notes and would not call for them until the prisoner called for him. The appearance of Mrs. McManigal in Los Angeles was a surprise to the prosecution and the district attorney. Darrow learned that she was coming in time to meet her at San Bernardino, and on her arrival here the attorneys for the defense and the detectives were in keen competition to get into the side pressed invitations on her to get into their automobile, but recognizing Attorney Harriman by some prearranged means, she appealed him to rescue her from the impending detectives and take her away.

All last night her apartments were closely watched by detectives and today when Gray Harriman, son of the attorney, went to an express office to procure her trunk, he was driven off the transfer wagon by operatives of a detective agency under E. R. Mills, who took the luggage to the county garage. There Assistant District Attorney Arthur Veitch searched it thoroughly, but failed to find the letters and papers which he declared he had been informed it contained. There was nothing in it but the clothing of Mrs. McManigal and the children.

After keeping the children waiting until nearly midnight, Veitch said they would not be called on to testify, but that their mother had been summoned to appear again tomorrow. Mrs. McGuire was told that she need not come unless she was served with a new subpoena.

ONE MILLION PATENTS ISSUED BY UNCLE SAM

Recipient of Honored Number Has Been Selected

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The United States government will issue its one millionth patent for an invention on August 1 next, and the honor will go to an inventor who has been designated by President Taft. Commissioner of Patents Edward Bruce Moore has been looking forward for some time to a celebration of the issuance of patent No. 1,000,000. It was his hope that this distinguished number should go to some epoch making invention. Several weeks ago President Taft received a letter from an American inventor, saying he had perfected a device which he intended to patent and that he would like to have the honor of receiving No. 1,000,000. The president asked the commissioner to comply with the request if it were not incompatible with the regulations of the office. The commissioner reported to the president that the device was meritorious and would constitute a valuable addition to the list of American inventions, and that patent No. 1,000,000 would be granted the inventor. The number was placed in reserve and will be officially recorded on the first issue day of August.

DYSON APPOINTED SURVEYOR—George Dyson has been appointed by the state board of harbor commissioners to the position of surveyor in the engineering department at $100 a month upon the recommendation of Commissioner Hill.

LABORER PARTLY ASPHYXIATED—J. D. Aglin, a laborer, was found partly asphyxiated in his room at 77 Howard street yesterday morning, but will recover. He blew out the light before retiring.

Pink Will Prevail As Nuptial Color

Miss Mary Keeney, who will be married this evening to Talbot C. Walker.

Amid June Blossoms, Miss Keeney Will Become Bride of Talbot C. Walker

At 7:30 o'clock this evening Miss Mary Keeney, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James K. Keeney, will become the bride of Talbot C. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Walker, at the Keeney home in Buchanan street. The decorations will be in pink, the bride's favorite color, and the scheme of decoration is to present the varied shades from pale pink blossoms to the American beauty hue. The impressive service of the Roman Catholic church will be read by Archbishop Patrick W. Riordan, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. The bride will be attended by her younger sister, Miss Helen Keeney, as maid of honor, and Stanley Jones will act as best man. The bridesmaids will be Miss Julia Langhorne, Miss Florence Hopkins, Miss Inez Keeney, Miss

JUSTICE ALLEN BABLY INJURED

Suburban Cars Crash and Many Are Hurt By Shock and Breaking Glass

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—Justice M. T. Allen of the California court of appeals and seven other persons were injured today in a crash of two suburban cars at Sixteenth and Oxford streets. One of Justice Allen's legs was broken, and it is believed his skull was fractured. Edward Morrison, a six year old school boy, who was coming in from Ocean park to his classes, also was seriously injured. None of the other five victims was seriously hurt, although all of them were painfully cut about the face and hands by flying fragments of the glass window lights.

M.D.'S MAY MEET HERE DURING 1915

Suggested Tribute to Profession for Result of Their Work on Isthmus

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—Dr. William H. Welch, retiring president, in addressing the house of delegates of the American medical association today recommended that an international convention "on the control of tropical diseases" be held in San Francisco at the same time that city holds its Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915. He suggested that such a convention would be a fitting tribute to the aid given by medicine and the work of sanitation to the construction of the canal. Among the reports submitted was one by Colonel W. C. Gorgas of the United States army, who is credited largely with the excellent sanitary conditions prevailing in the canal zone. The suggestion of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell of Philadelphia, a member of the committee, that a monument to surgeons of both armies who gave up their lives during the civil war in the performance of a duty to common humanity, be erected, was endorsed. Regular sessions will begin tomorrow in 12 different sections, following a general meeting, at which Governor Johnson of California and Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles will welcome the delegates.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Army orders: By direction of the president Captains George A. Nugent, coast artillery corps, and George V. Moseley, Fifth cavalry, are detailed as members of the general staff corps. Orders of June 15, assigning First Lieutenant Robert D. Goodwin, infantry, to Fourth infantry and directing him to join that regiment, revoked. Captain Goodwin, after completion of his duties, will proceed by air transport sailing from Manila to San Francisco, and upon arrival report to the commanding general of the western division for duty as assistant to the judge advocate. First Lieutenant Philip G. Wylgosh, Tenth infantry, now on leave at Honolulu, will report to the commanding officer of that portion of Twentieth infantry stationed at Fort Shafter for assignment to duty. The Lurline Ocean Water Baths, Bush and Larkin streets, supply free to women bathers elaborate shampoo rooms, hot air hair driers and electric curling irons.

LABOR LEADERS ARE CITED AGAIN

Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison Must Again Answer to Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Samuel Gompers, Vice President John Mitchell and Secretary Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, under rules issued today by Justice Wright of the district of Columbia supreme court, were cited to appear Monday, July 17, and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court. The court's action followed the filing of the report of a committee of lawyers appointed to investigate the charge that an injunction granted by the court in favor of the Buicks stove and range company of St. Louis had been violated. In case the labor leaders are adjudged guilty it is an open question whether the court will impose a fine or imprisonment. The committee's report submits that there is ground to charge each of these parties with willful defiance of the orders of the court. However, it is suggested that the labor leaders accept under the belief that they were within their constitutional rights, and the committee virtually recommends that due apologies and assurances of future submission, if they be forthcoming, settle the matter. Gompers is dealt with as the chief offender, 22 of the 27 typewritten pages of the report being devoted to him. It is probable that he comes will not be heard before fall in the event that another trial becomes necessary.

SLUMMERS FINED; WIVES DISMISSED

Society Women Who Visited Disreputable Resort Were Misled By Husbands

Upon the motion of Assistant District Attorney Beecey, who was the only lawyer to appear in the case on either side, the case of Mrs. Charles Allen Warren Jr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, the society women who were arrested a week ago Sunday night and charged with visiting a house of ill fame, were dismissed by Police Judge Sullivan yesterday morning. The husbands of the women, who were with them at the time of their arrest, were fined $10 each, with the alternative of spending 10 days in the county jail. "These women were unaware of the nature of the resort they visited," said Beecey in asking the court that the women be dismissed. They went down into that section of the city with their husbands and did not know that they were doing wrong. As for the men, I have nothing to say. I shall interpose pleas of guilty in their cases and shall waive their appearance in court. I take this action after an investigation of the case." Warren and Baker threatened to bring their influence to bear to secure the dismissal of the arresting officers, Harry White and John H. May, from the police department. The men are still patrolling their beats and Chief of Police White has assured them that they need not fear any interference for having performed their duty.

PACIFIC AVENUE RESIDENCE SOLD

Mrs. Benjamin B. Brodie's House Has Been Bought By Mrs. J. T. McCormick

Mrs. Benjamin B. Brodie's residence, 2610 Pacific avenue, between Pierce and Scott streets, has been sold by Shalwald, Buckbee & Co. to Mrs. J. T. McCormick. Mrs. Brodie has not occupied the residence herself since the fire, and it has been leased to Leon Sloss for about five years. Mrs. McCormick expects to occupy the house as her own home, and as it is on the sunny side of Pacific avenue commanding an unobstructed marine view, it is considered one of the best locations in this section of the city. The lot is 42.9 by 127.84 feet. The price paid by Mrs. McCormick is private, but it is known to be in the neighborhood of $30,000.

KING GEORGE V OWNS FINE STAMP COLLECTION

Big Exhibit Is Valued at About $1,000,000

The stamps at the Philatelic exhibition at Berne are, we learn from a Paris contemporary, valued at $200,000, but they are on insured at $150,000. One of the principal exhibitors is Mr. Duveen of London. It may not be generally known that he is an ardent collector. He, however, only took up the hobby late in life. His exhibit is valued at $40,000. The greatest interest, we learn, is centered upon the collection of King George V, which appears in the catalogue under section III, No. 72. His majesty's exhibit is very strong in proof plates of stamps from 1861 to 1879, which have either been adopted or not. Says our contemporary: "De telles richesses font que les philatelistes en sont jaloux; six policemen form a permanent guard day and night."

Law Point Halts Arrest of Bonneau

Embezzlement of $1,200 Charged Against Him

Only the scrupulous attention of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert to legal technicalities saved T. F. Bonneau, millionaire oil company promoter and business associate of Architect Willis Polk, from arrest yesterday on a charge of embezzling $1,200. The charge was preferred by Captain Herbert F. Gerry of Boston.

Captain Gerry alleges that Bonneau, as president of the Pay oil company, appropriated $1,200 to his own use, charging the amount to Gerry. Because of the absence of S. C. Fletcher, treasurer of the concern, Fickert refused to issue a warrant for Bonneau's arrest, although Gerry presented Fletcher's affidavit which Bonneau had drawn the money which Gerry alleges Bonneau embezzled.

KEPT CHECK BOOK STUBS

He succeeded in getting the M. S. Lewis company of Boston to agree to fill wells at an estimated expense of from $20,000 to $50,000 in return for a block of 275,000 shares. On April 28 last the deal was consummated but, according to Gerry, Bonneau refused to turn over to the M. S. Lewis company the stubs of the check books used in the transaction of business prior to the transfer. Upon Gerry's return to this city he learned from J. Edward Faber, a director of the Pay oil company, that $1,200 had been drawn from Bonneau to be forwarded to Boston as expense money for Gerry. Faber asked Gerry to explain the stock holders to what use this money had been put. Gerry was forced to deny having received any part of $1,200 from Bonneau and set about discovering the facts surrounding the withdrawal of the money from the company treasury. Gerry learned, he alleges, that Bonneau took full charge of the local office of the company in the Head building, while Fletcher, the secretary and treasurer of the concern, and other directors left the city, selling stock.

CHECK DRAWN FOR HOTEL

Whenever Bonneau found it necessary to draw money, it is said, he wrote Fletcher to sign blank checks and forward them here. Bonneau then filled in the checks for the desired amounts. It is declared by Gerry that Bonneau personally owned an oil property, called the "Templar Fearless," which he visited on the same day that a check for $120 was drawn on the Pay oil company, payable to the St. Francis hotel. This amount is said to have been charged to the imaginary expense account of Captain Gerry. John Holmes, a stock holder, told Gerry that Bonneau said that the trip to the "Templar Fearless" cost $50.

REFUSES TO SHOW BOOKS

A meeting of holders of 22,500 shares was called by Gerry in his rooms at the Hotel Alexandria on June 10, at which additional shares were tendered tending to convince Gerry that $1,200 had been appropriated by Bonneau to his private use. Gerry presented the case to Detective Markley of the district attorney's office. As this amount is said to have been charged to the St. Francis hotel, Bonneau refused Gerry access to the company's books, although informed that a stockholder has that right. Markley then cited Bonneau to appear before bond and war-

YANKEE TARS LOOK GOOD TO EMPEROR

Kaiser and Taft Exchange Messages on Visit of Fleet to Kiel

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Emperor William of Germany and President Taft today exchanged messages growing out of the visit of the American squadron to Kiel. "Following the investigation of Admiral Badger, I have had the pleasure of luncheon on board the United States ship Louisiana and after which I inspected the crew and ship. I beg you to accept my best compliments with regard to the fine crew and state of efficiency and order which I found on this fine ship. You will, I am sure, be gratified to hear that the stars and stripes were well represented in Kiel waters. I thank you most sincerely for sending this fine squadron to Kiel. I am happy to observe that relations of comradeship between the officers and men of the two navies were soon established."

President Taft sent in reply: "I greatly appreciate your kind telegram, so cordial in its sentiments to the American navy, to whom it is a source of the greatest pride that your imperial majesty honored our admiral by taking luncheon on the Louisiana and inspecting the crew and ship. I am very happy to know that the Americans were received at Kiel and that the officers and men of our navy had this favorable opportunity to make friends in the German navy, for whose hospitality, as well as for your majesty's kind expressions, I send very hearty thanks."
