MESSIAH'S KINGDOM TO BE INVISIBLE.

Luke 17:20-37—June 7. "The Kingdom of God is in your midst."—Verse 21.

The Pharisees heard of the claim that Jesus was the long-promised King, who would set up His Messianic Kingdom; and they derided Him. They considered Him a deceiver and His followers dupes. Our lesson tells how they attempted to expose what they supposed was a deception. Therefore they asked Him in public, When will God's Kingdom come? Jesus answered that God's Kingdom would not come with observation; that when the Kingdom of God should be established, people would not see whether it was here or there; for the Kingdom of God would be God's power exerted everywhere in their midst.

Our translation is faulty, though evidently not intentionally so, when it reads, "For, behold, the Kingdom of God is within you." The translators had they noticed carefully, would have guarded against saying that the Kingdom of God was within those Pharisees whom Jesus had designated hypocrites, whited sepulchres, etc. A closer examination shows that the text would better be translated, "The Kingdom of God is in your midst."

A kingdom is always represented by its king. Jesus, as the King, was present in their midst, but they did not recognize Him. Similarly, throughout the Gospel Age, the Church of Christ has been undiscerned by the world. "The world knoweth us not, even as it knew Him not." But Christ and the Church in the flesh have been the embryonic Kingdom class preparing for investiture of authority in God's due time, which we believe is near.

This Kingdom is to be a spiritual one, and hence its rulers will be as invisible as are the angels and the Heavenly Father. Jesus declared, "Ye a little while, and the world seeth Me no more." What was true of the Head will be true of every member of the elect Body of Christ, the Church. "Changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye," the world will see them no more; for "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God," and flesh and blood cannot see that which is spiritual.

Turning to His disciples, Jesus said, "The days will come when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and ye shall not see it." This was astounding news to the faithful. Yet they were accustom to hearing from the Master things which they could not understand. They wondered how Jesus could be the great King, and yet they not see His days.

Jesus continued, saying, "They shall say unto you, See here! or, See there! Go not after them, nor follow them. For as the lightning, that lighteth out of the one part under heaven and shineth unto another part under heaven, so shall also the Son of Man be in His day."

This statement is better understood when we translate the Greek word, bright-shining instead of lightning; for our Lord evidently referred to the sun, which rises in the east and sets in the west. The Day of Christ is a thousand-year Day, the Millennium, and our Lord's statement was one of the dark sayings of Jesus, respecting which He promised that in due time the Holy Spirit would grant them enlightenment. This portion is now becoming clear to those of spiritual discernment.

Then, to indicate that these things belonged to a distant time, Jesus explained that first He must suffer many things and be rejected of that nation, coming back to the signs of His presence. He declared, "As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of Man." Here we have something definite, concrete. At the time when the Kingdom will be due for establishment, the sign will not be in the outward condition of the world; for everything will go along quietly and orderly, just as before the Deluge, and in the days of Lot before the destruction of Sodom. Then mankind ate, drank, married, built, planted, as usual. These things are not signs of wickedness, but are mentioned to show us that there will be no outward sign to indicate to the world Christ's Second Presence.

The Deluge and Sodom's Destruction. Why introduce these two pictures—the Deluge and the destruction of Sodom—in conjunction, while talking of the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom, which is to bless the world? The answer is that the Bible everywhere foretells that Messiah's Kingdom is to be established upon the wreck of our present institutions, and it is this wreck that Jesus illustrated. His own presence is to be unknown to the world until the trouble is precipitated. Emphasizing the suddenness of the calamity, Jesus reminded us that on the same day that Lot went out of Sodom fire and brimstone rained down from heaven, and He declared that thus will be when the Son of Man is revealed. The Greek text shows a difference between the Parousia, or presence, of Christ before the time of Trouble and the later Epiphany, or revealing. He shall be revealed in flaming fire. (2 Thessalonians 1:7, 8) Indeed, that Time of Trouble is frequently described symbolically as a burning of the world; and all the creeds of Christendom express the thought that the earth is to be burned. They overlook the fact that the "heavens" are to be burned also.

In the symbolical usage of the Bible, the earth represents the social order of human affairs; the sea, the restless, discontented masses; the heavens, the ecclesiastical powers. St. Peter tells us that these will pass away with a great confusion, and that instead will come the new heavens and the new earth. (2 Peter 3:10-13) The new heavens will be the new ecclesiastical society—the Church in glory, joint-heirs with Christ in His Kingdom. The new earth will be the new social order under Messiah's Kingdom.

Saints on the House-top. The Lord seems to assure us that all His faithful ones will die before the great symbolic fire will consume present institutions. In figurative language He says that in that Day (of His Parousia, presence, before His Epiphany, or revealing) those on the house-top should not go down to take their goods out. We believe that the house represents the House of God, and those on the house-top represent the most saintly of God's people. At that time such will realize the necessity for flight; and they are warned not to seek to save any of the stuff—social privileges, honor of men, sometimes titles of small offices, such as vestryman, deacon, elder, minister, etc. The field represents the world. Any of the Lord's people who have gone out into the world—are not to go back; but learning the true situation, they are to flee to the Lord from the field.

"Remember Lot's Wife." In the flight from Sodom, Lot and his family were warned to "make haste, and not even to look back." So the Lord's people now are not to look back at the things to be dissolved. "Flee out of Babylon!" "Deliver every man his own soul!" Lot's wife, disobeying, failed to escape. The Lord applies this illustration to His people, and urges that their flight be with a full renunciation of things present. Whoever shall seek to save his life must lose it. Whoever will lose his life will thereby preserve it—gaining the everlasting life.
