

WITH THE WASHINGTON CHURCHES CHURCH SERVICES TO-MORROW

(IN WASHINGTON AND ITS VICINITY. Notices for these columns should reach The Herald office by 9 p. m. Friday.)

NEWS AND COMMENT.

And now it is Billy Sunday for Pittsburg! The contract has just been closed and work will begin the last week of 1912, to last two months. If the famous "Pittsburg Survey" threw that city into convulsions, pray what will happen when Billy Sunday gets there?

For the second time in fifteen years Congress has overridden a Presidential veto. The Webb bill, prohibiting shipment of intoxicating liquors into "dry" territory, for which the temperance people of the country have striven so hard, has become a law. The Senate passed the bill over the President's veto by a vote of sixty-three to twenty-one. The House followed with similar action, the vote being two hundred and forty-four to ninety-five.

Chicago has a Filipino Club composed of Filipino students and natives of the islands who are engaged in business and industry. The club meets in a room in the West Side Y. M. C. A. Forty bills, all aimed at certain features of the Philippine Islands, were introduced into the Missouri Legislature in a single hour the other day.

The reading citizens of Kansas City have a book for their public at the library last year. Nearly a third, or 30,000, were on sociological subjects. The sheriffs of Minnesota, recently appointed to annual conference, returned their opposition to capital punishment and their belief in the results of its abolition in the State.

The English Baptists lost by death during the past year thirty-nine ministers, among them Rev. A. T. Phipps, who for fifty-four years at Central Hill, New York, exercised a notable ministry. He was succeeded by John Huskin to his beloved church, and Rev. Decimus Delamore, who in 1907 was to New Zealand, where he founded the first Baptist Church in that colony.

The king of Sweden has given gold medals to two English Baptist missionaries in China, Rev. J. C. Keyte and Rev. H. J. Fairburn, as a mark of his appreciation of their courageous and high-hearted conduct in organizing the rescue of Swedish missionaries during the revolution in North Szechuan.

The two years which for chief rabbi of the British Empire to succeed the late Dr. Hermann Adler, who in turn succeeded his own father in that office some thirty years ago, has ended in the choice of Dr. Joseph H. Hertz as his successor. More than a hundred delegates from all over the empire were present at the London meeting at which the election took place. The session lasted six hours, Lord Rothschild presiding. Dr. Hertz is a native of Hungary, but came to America when only twelve years old. He was educated in the New York schools and at Columbia University, and was the first graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York. After four years in charge of a congregation in Syracuse, N. Y., he was called to Johannesburg, South Africa, where he remained for thirteen years, or until expelled from the Transvaal by the Boer government. For the past two years he has been rabbi of a prominent New York synagogue. His salary is $10,000 a year, and he has a large and active office with it great prestige, although legally his status seems to be somewhat complex.

Rev. Charles P. Aked, the English Baptist minister who was pastor of Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, New York, for a time, and who later turned Congregationalist and now is a San Francisco pastor, is to be called next to turn Dutch Reformed, and to become pastor of a big church that is to be created by the consolidation of two Dutch Reformed churches and the creation of one great preaching plant and place on the upper West Side of Manhattan.

Goucher College day will be observed at the Hamilton Sunday school at the annual meeting of the Hamilton Methodist Episcopal Church, Ninth and P Streets Northwest. At the morning service, commencing at 11 o'clock, Rev. Franklin Hamilton, D. D., chancellor of the American University of this city, will preach. Rev. Carl Gregg Doney, D. Methodists of the United States are sending $200,000 a year to Europe to do missionary work there in the Methodist cause. This sum is $100,000 a year in the United States and $100,000 a year in Europe and Northern Germany, countries long counted Christian, and therefore doing missionary work elsewhere. About 7,500 Methodists are now in the continent, the outgrowth of American enterprise and zeal. Property worth more than $100,000 has been accumulated, in part through local contributions, and in part through the generosity of Americans to these European Christians for advance work has slowly increased, it having been only $100,000 ten years ago.

Now a new plan is to be adopted. It grows out of new conditions in Southern Europe, and in Serbia and the Holy Land. The Italian work, taking $500,000 a year and $1,000,000 a year in Northern Europe, and now that the outcome of the war with Turkey has opened the way they are quick to take up new plans and make the change. Workers will be transferred as follows: Bulgaria, Macedonia, Albania, Asiatic Turkey, and Palestine. Methodists feel that here are far more opportunities than elsewhere. The work is to be done in Bulgaria, Macedonia, Albania, Asiatic Turkey, and Palestine. Methodists feel that here are far more opportunities than elsewhere. The work is to be done in Bulgaria, Macedonia, Albania, Asiatic Turkey, and Palestine.

Lutherans of Washington are uniting the coming week with the Memorial Lutheran Church of the city the celebration of its fortieth anniversary. Naturally, the services Sunday will commemorate the work of the founder of this church, the Rev. Dr. J. G. Butler, whose mortal remains were removed one of the well-known ministers in the Lutheran Church, and one whose position in this community as a citizen and leader was in the front rank.

Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim gave an illustrated lecture on the Panama Canal on Friday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock, in the lecture hall of Epiphany Church. Dr. McKim made a visit to the Canal Zone leaving Washington January 10, and returning February 8. The proceeds were for the benefit of the treasury of the church, which is in need of help at the present time.

There is no foundation whatever for the rumors which have somehow got into circulation that it is the intention of the Sons of the City.

In accordance with a resolution adopted at the convention of 1912, the offerings of the parishes and missions on Good Friday are asked by the convention for a new mission for the colored people. Work has already been started, but it must have a more generous support than it has to date. Several liberal offerings are asked on Good Friday.

The next in the series of Lenten organ recitals in St. John's Church, Georgetown, is to be given on Monday, March 10, at 4:30 p. m., by Mr. G. Since that lecture was delivered, the rector has received so many requests to invite Mrs. Mountford to give other lectures in the parish hall that he has gladly arranged for Mrs. Mountford to deliver two more lectures, which will be given as follows: March 14, 8 p. m., "The Kingdom of God"; March 21, 8 p. m., "Good Friday—The Crucifixion." Tickets will not be necessary for admission, but in each case a silver offering will be taken at the door.

The church of St. Michael and All Angels, Virginia Avenue and Twenty-second Street, now in charge of the Rev. Patrick Murphy, is taking on new life under his leadership. The parish hall has been suitably refurnished, and the rector makes his home, the place has a bright and pleasing aspect. The reading room has been changed into the rector's study. The dark green tones of the rug and furniture, and the bright and cheerful colors of the woodwork, the walls are adorned with scenes of Western life, and rows of books fill the space between windows and doors. The rector's study is a bright and cheerful place.

Confirmation services to-morrow will be held by the Bishop of Washington in St. John's Church, Lafayette Square, at 11 a. m., and St. Thomas, near Dupont Circle, at 8 p. m.

Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim gave an illustrated lecture on the Panama Canal on Friday evening, March 7, at 8 o'clock, in the lecture hall of Epiphany Church. ROMAN CATHOLIC.

Passion Sunday will be observed in St. Patrick's Church on March 8, with a solemn high mass, sung by the Rev. John M. McNamara, at 10 o'clock. "The Sacraments" is the subject chosen for the sermon by the Rev. James A. Smith at this mass. The music has been specially arranged, and will be rendered by both choirs. Following the mass the rector will read the "The Stations of the Cross" in the morning, and the "The Stations of the Cross" in the evening. The last sermon of the Wednesday evening Lenten course will be preached next Wednesday by the Rev. James M. Hogue in a mother's meeting. All mothers of the parish are invited to be present and bring their little ones, who are taken care of by ladies who change them in pleasant and instructive conversation. The Art Needlework Guild holds its meetings every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The girls are taught sewing, embroidery, and basket-making.

On Thursday, March 6, at 11:30 a. m., at St. Paul's Parish Hall, Twenty-third Street, near Washington Circle, the Rev. John J. Ambler made an address to the Women's Auxiliary on the subject of the "Wonders of Women in Japan." At St. James' Church, Eleventh Street, near Massachusetts Avenue Northeast, Rev. James W. Clark, rector of the Good Father Field, S. J. E., of Boston, Mass., conducted a day of devotion last Wednesday. At St. Thomas' Church, near Dupont Circle, Father Field also conducted a day of devotion there on Friday. He practically followed out the same programme in each church, of which the Lenten devotion with Holy Communion was held in the church every Wednesday and Friday morning at 10 o'clock, and on Wednesday and Friday evenings, with address, at 8 o'clock.

There is no foundation whatever for the rumors which have somehow got into circulation that it is the intention of the Sons of the City.

EDITOR MACDONALD AT THE NEW NATIONAL.

J. A. Macdonald, editor of the Toronto Globe, and recognized as Canada's most brilliant public speaker on nonpolitical topics, is announced in an address to men at the New National Theater to-morrow-afternoon. Mr. Macdonald's subject is "The National Voice as Interpreted by the Toronto Globe." The Toronto Globe is regarded as the leading literary newspaper of Canada, and as its editor, Mr. Macdonald exerts an influence on Canadian public opinion second to no other man in the Dominion. He has always used his best efforts to promote a friendly feeling between his country and the United States.

Editor Macdonald, in company with Rev. Charles W. Hogue, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Winnetka, better known as Ralph Connor, of "Sky Pilot" fame, arrived in Washington Thursday. He has been guests at the Shoreham. Rev. Gordon left yesterday for Princeton University, where he is preacher for to-morrow.

The Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital has had a winter of unusual activity in its charity work, but no ward claims more of its skill and help than that for little children to be saved from life blindness and other ills. The board looks month by month to secure much of this financial support through the parish committee, and March has been assigned to the women of Epiphany parish, who aim not only to renew equipment of its twelve beds, but to meet other obligations.

The next in the series of Lenten organ recitals in St. John's Church, Georgetown, is to be given on Monday, March 10, at 4:30 p. m., by Mr. G. Thompson Williams, organist and choirmaster of St. Michael and All Angels Church, Baltimore. Monday, March 10, Rev. W. Austin, rector of Chevy Chase Parish, will deliver the sermon. CAMP FIRE GIRLS TO HEAR MISS GRIFFITH

It will be girls' Sunday to-morrow at the Young Women's Christian Association, and a unique service is to be held. All the girls in the city have been invited, each one being admitted by ticket. The speaker of the afternoon will be Miss Gertrude Griffith, the Junior secretary of the National Y. W. C. A. Miss Griffith has had a long and successful experience in work with girls. She has worked with every class from the newly arrived immigrant to the college girl. For several years she was general secretary of the Girls' Club in Greenfield, Mass. She then went to Chicago, where she organized the work of the Christian Young Women's Association. In the neighborhood of the deering branch of the International Harvester Company, where she worked nine years. From there she was called to be junior secretary of the national office of the Young Women's Christian Association, when the office was created two years ago. She has traveled extensively in this country, as well as abroad, studying social conditions, and believes that the work for girls in their towns is most important, and practically an untold field.

The meeting on Sunday will be held at 10 o'clock in the rooms at 2221 P Street, at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Some of the Camp Fire Girls will take part in the programme.

This Camp Fire girls' service has been invited to meet Miss Griffith informally on Saturday afternoon, in the parlors at 306 P Street, so that they may confer with her in regard to work for girls in Washington.

Pastor Russell here after seven weeks' travel. Pastor Russell of the Washington Temple Congregation (monastic) spent an absence of seven weeks ago in Cuba, Panama, and Jamaica in the address of the National Y. W. C. A. in New York to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on "The Greatest Inauguration."

In the season opening his eyes he wants to clear many of the little mysteries of the students of Washington intent on delving into the meanings of many of the Bible passages.

From time to time the meetings of the Washington Temple Congregation have increased and the fact given Pastor Russell much satisfaction in that it shows a steady awakening of interest among the people of Washington interested in Biblical study.

Endeavor Union will hear Pastor Pinkham. The "Successful Life" will be the subject of an address to be delivered at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Monday evening, March 10, by Rev. Hermon S. Pinkham, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, under the auspices of the District of Columbia Christian Endeavor Union. This occasion will be the semi-annual rally of the union, and an emblem will be awarded to that society of Christian Endeavor having the largest percentage of its enrollment in attendance. This emblem has been won on two previous occasions by the First United Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society.
