WOMEN ARE ARMED WITH SLING SHOTS

Suffragettes Continue Campaign From Tops of London Omnibusses.

HURL LEADEN DISCS.

"General" Incensed Because of Unidentified Man Paid Her Fine and She Was Not Sent to Prison.

London, Jan. 31.—From the tops of motor omnibusses suffragettes today continued their novel catapulting campaign. With "sling shots" of home contrivance they hurled leaden discs stamped "votes for women" at house and store windows, but no damage was done and only one militant succeeded in getting herself arrested.

Conspicuous in today's demonstrations was "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, whose intention was to break into prison again. "General" Drummond still was violently exasperated because some misguided and unidentified sympathizer paid $10 fine in Bow Street. Like a martyr she preferred to "go to prison rather than pay one cent for tribute to a man made government."

Indignation was widespread among the militants when the outrage to "General" Drummond became known. That Mrs. Despard was not allowed to remain peacefully in jail and starve for a fortnight, because of the mistaken generosity of some kindly soul, was bad enough. But when the same thing happened to "General" Drummond, the suffragettes suspected a plot. They decided that it was not sympathizers but scoffers who paid the money. They suspect, so Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst declared today that the men have dubbed together to pay the fines of militants, in order to prevent jail languishments and hunger strikes.

Young Man Commits Suicide.

New York, Jan. 31.—Information of the suicide of Eugene Delano, Jr., at Winnipeg, was received by the young man's family early today by wire. The message contained only the brief notice that the body had been discovered. No member of the family of the young man was able to advance any reason for his act.

It was said today at the Delano residence in Washington Square that the younger Delano was in the habit of making frequent trips to Winnipeg. "I don't know just what took him to Winnipeg," said J. I. Celray, Delano's brother-in-law. "When he left here Friday he was in the liveliest of moods. The family can hardly believe that he committed suicide.

"If he has killed himself, we have no inkling of a motive. Of one thing I am certain he was not in love and no woman has anything to do with the case."

The Delano family has been prominent in financial circles for many years. The elder Delano has western interests and was for many years director of the United Railways of St. Louis. He was also a director of the New York Life Insurance Company.

Divorce Suit.

Senora Constance Lee de Pastor, wife of Senor Don Luis Pastor, formerly Charge d'Affaires of the Spanish Legation in Washington, and now Spanish Minister to China and Siam, has filed suit for annulment of their marriage. There are no children. Justice Barnard ordered the papers sealed and locked in the safe of the clerk of the court, thus making them inaccessible to the public. Mr. Colbert absolutely refused to state the particulars in the case.

Senora Pastor before her marriage in Baltimore, June 10, 1906, performed by Rev. Father Russell, now Monsignor Russell, of St. Patrick's, was Miss Constance Casanova Lee, of Baltimore, a grandniece of Archibald Taylor, of New York.

She is not a Catholic, but is a member of the Episcopal Church.

New York—A ban was placed on an ancient custom, when Rev. James J. Corrigan prohibited the throwing of rice and old shoes at weddings in his church.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

James H. Berry, former United States Senator and Governor of Arkansas, died at Bentonville, Ark., yesterday. At the time of his death he held the rank of major general in command of the Arkansas division, United Confederate Veterans.

As funeral services for her son, Herbert Johnston, Jr., were about to begin in the parlor of her Brooklyn home, Mrs. Mary Johnston left the room and drank poison. She died an hour later in a hospital. The youth's funeral was postponed and there was a double service for mother and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson, of Stokes county, N. C., whose postoffice address is Peter's Creek, Va., have been married 24 years. During this time Mrs. Wilson has presented her husband with 27 children. Among these are one set of triplets and six sets of twins. Mrs. Wilson is only 41 years of age.

The actual sale of women at auction in New York City, was a phase of the "white slave" traffic exposed in New York yesterday by Samuel H. London, former prosecuting attorney of El Paso, Tex., and later identified with the Department of Justice in investigating conditions in the underworld. Mr. London stated that there were 26,500 women in the grip of the vice trust in Greater New York, who earn for their masters an average of $57,200,000 per year. Of this amount Mr. London says the women themselves get a very small percentage. It was also stated that 95 per cent of the girls and women who disappear from New York fall into the net of the "white slave" brokers.

President Taft yesterday granted a two weeks' reprieve to Samuel W. Rauven, formerly a member of the engineer corps of the United States army, who was sentenced to be hanged in Washington this morning for murdering his wife and brother on March 30th last.

A case of gold to the amount of $25,000 was stolen from the strong room of the German liner Cap Blanco, on the voyage from Rio Janeiro, according to dispatches from Vigo, Spain. The room was opened with a duplicate key.

Burned from head to foot by flames resulting from the explosion of a gasoline stove, Mrs. Clara Fenton, 56 years old, of 915 Twelfth street, N. W., Washington, died last night five hours after entering Casualty hospital.

The bodies of W. F. Smith, his wife and M. J. Kelly, were found at Dawson, Y. T. It was evident that Smith had killed his wife and Kelly of whom he was jealous, and then committed suicide.

Decisive defeat of a proposal for the Presidential recall of the Federal Constitution, and the statement that President-elect Woodrow Wilson is committed against a second elective term, enlivened consideration in the Senate yesterday of the resolution to amend the constitution by fixing the Presidential term at six years and making Presidents ineligible to succeed themselves. Senator Bristow, of Kansas, an insurgent, proposed an amendment for the recall of Presidents by popular vote at biennial elections, and Senator Martine, of New Jersey, Democrat and friend of Governor Wilson volunteered the information as to the President-elect's opposition to a second elective term.

The Senate did not reach a vote on the main proposition, and its consideration was resumed today.

A double tragedy was caused in Paris yesterday by a doctor's order that a man and wife would have to be separated, because the woman was suffering from an incurable spinal disease. The sick woman, Mme. Paul Carriere, was told that she must go to a public hospital. Her husband then sent their children to spend the night with an uncle. When the children left their parents were distracted with grief, and the wife expressed the wish to die rather than to be sent away from her husband. Yesterday morning both were found dead in their home, the woman strangled by her husband and the man hanging dead in a doorway.

TURKEY WILL BE DIVIDED BY ALLIES

This Was The Announcement of the Great Powers Today.

NATIONS ANNOYED

Europe Still Hopeful for Peace—Think Porte May Yet be Induced to Accede to Terms of Allies.

London, Jan. 31.—If the Balkan allies renew their war against Turkey and win, they will not be allowed to partition Turkey in Europe in their own way. This was the determination of the great powers of Europe today. It was reached through a consultation of the London ambassadors with Sir Edward Grey, British secretary of State for foreign affairs at the Foreign office and was promptly communicated to the representatives of the Balkan states, remaining here.

Should the allies forcibly bring the Ottoman to terms the final territorial settlement will be made by a general European conference.

This, it was learned from a semi-official source, is the stand taken by the nations of the triple entente and the triple alliance, who do not hesitate to express their hearty disapproval of the allies' denunciation of the armistice.

The ambassadors were excessively annoyed by the half heartedness of Turkey's reply to the powers and the action of the Balkan delegates which they characterized as hasty.

It was learned from Dr. Danoff, the Bulgarian, that none of the Balkan delegates will leave London before the end of the week and the allies shall adhere to their arrangement to leave four representatives, one from each of the States, in London, for emergency.

The powers are still hopeful for peace, according to information from the foreign office. The fact that in the Ottoman note, the Young Turks were more conciliatory and offered more than ever before encouraged the ambassadors to believe that Turkey might still be brought to meet demands of the allies. Equally encouraging was the construction put by the ambassadors on the decision of the Balkan delegates to leave envoys in London indefinitely.

Five Persons Perish.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Jan. 31.—Five persons were burned to death when the residence of Major Harris, 45, was destroyed at Richland, Iowa, early today. The dead are:

Major Harris, his wife, 30.
Mrs. Fannie Harris, 80, his mother and two children, Armet Harris, 10, and Turvis Harris, seven.

The fire was discovered by neighbors, but when they arrived they could do nothing. The fire is supposed to have started from an incubator in the basement.

Pastor Russell Loses.

A verdict for the Brooklyn Eagle and against Pastor Charles T. Russell, of "miracle" wheat fame was returned by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Kelly Tuesday at the close of a $100,000 libel suit in the Brooklyn newspaper of a cartoon pretending to portray the plaintiff in the act of peddling "miracle" wheat to join the "Onion" Bank directors.

Pastor Russell objected to the cartoon on the ground that it was an unfair characterization, which pictured him as a crook and fit company for the men who had wrecked the Union Bank. He objected also to the title "Easy Money Puzzle" that appeared beneath the cartoon, and furthermore, to extracts from the news and editorial columns, including a paragraph in which he was credited, he alleged with "the wisdom of the serpent."

Demand Eight-Hour Day.

London, Jan. 31.—The labor party, in its annual convention today adopted resolutions, demanding an eight-hour working day for both women and men, in all trades, and for the repeal of the workmen's contribution law under the insurance act.

ALEXANDRIA SETS EXAMPLE.

Washington Newspaper Praises Fans For Banquet to Clark Griffith.

Under the above heading, William Peet, sporting editor of Washington Herald says:

"Does it not impress the casual observer as strange that first official recognition on the part of baseball fans, for what he accomplished with the Nationals in Washington last season, should come to Clark Griffith from Alexandria?"

"That old stuff about the prophet being without honor in his own country seems to be borne out here.

"Why wouldn't it have been a nice thing last fall for the baseball loving fans of the District to have gotten together, invited Griffith to attend a monster mass meeting or banquet and to have told him that his work was appreciated. Alexandrians did it Wednesday night and the welcome he was tendered by the citizens of the Virginia city will long remain a tender memory.

"Hats off to Alexandria and the Cardinal Athletic Club."

In another column on the sporting page of the Herald appears the following:

"It was not the red fire in Alexandria Wednesday which left a dark brown taste in a certain fellow's mouth Thursday morning. Oh, no!"

"Mayor Tom Fisher of Alexandria, is a grand fellow. Here's hoping he holds his job for years to come."

PREPARING FOR HORSE FAIR.

Duncan Stables Receive Three Magnificent Stallions.

Three of the finest horses ever seen in Alexandria are now quartered in the handsome new stables of James Duncan on St. Asaph street. They were brought here for the horse fair and sales which Mr. Duncan will soon inaugurate and which will be a regular part of his business in the future. Years ago Alexandria was one of the best horse markets in this section of the country and Mr. Duncan hopes to revive the scenes of earlier days.

One of the horses is the stallion "Vidocq," a handsome dapple gray, which was purchased by Mr. Duncan from John T. Judd, of the Hayfield Farms. He is a registered pedigreed percheron and weighs 1650 pounds.

The other two horses are from the stock farm of Colonel Crawford, at Newark, Ohio, and were brought here for sale. Both are imported, one a black percheron, weighing 2160 pounds and the other a bay Belgian weighing 1970 pounds.

LORDS REJECT BILL.

Admit They Cannot Prevent it Becoming Law.

After a four day's discussion the British House of Lords last night rejected the Home Rule bill, 326 to 69. The result was a foregone conclusion. The speeches aroused little interest because, as the Earl of Halsbury pathetically observed, the position of the House was not then of an ordinary debating club—the peers could express their views and reject the bill, but they could not prevent it from becoming law.

Nevertheless the largest muster of peers since the fateful evening they passed the Parliament bill, assembled in the House, and bejeweled peeresses filed the side galleries.

Lord Lansdowne wound up the debate for the opposition; Lord Morley, of Blackburn for the government. The scene was altogether lacking in the dramatic excitement which accompanied the Lord's rejection of Mr. Gladstone's bill in 1893 by a far larger majority, 387.

Lord Morley in closing the debate, remarked the absence of the ferocity which characterized the debates on the Gladstone measures, and, replying to Lord Lansdowne's warning that the giving of home rule to Ireland would be a menace to England if England ever were involved in serious international trouble, reminded Lord Lansdowne that his own land policy would give Ireland cash or credit to the extent of two hundred millions British money, and that Lord Lansdowne would scarcely be likely to do that if he really believed that Ireland was likely to become England's enemy.

Lord Curzon, in a speech earlier in the evening, also referred to the listlessness the public had shown over the bill and to "the deplorable and unutterable flatness of the debates in the House of Commons."

The division was on party lines, practically the whole of the Episcopal bench voting against the bill.

NAVAL VICTORY FOR TURKISH VESSELS

Three Greek Warships Said to Have Been Destroyed in Conflict.

FIGHT IN AEGEAN SEA.

Porte Orders Envoys to Peace Conference to Proceed Forthwith to Constantinople.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—The Turkish Cruiser Maidieh today attacked and destroyed three Greek warships in the harbor of Campalia, and Islands of the Sporades.

Stampalia is a Turkish island in the Aegean Sea, lying near the Grecian archipelago, 20 miles from Amor-gos.

The onslaught of the Turkish cruiser on the Greek vessels was not a violation of the armistice, or the stipulation for four day's warning of its denunciation since Greece never signed the protocol of Bachté. The Turks and Greeks have fought on the sea and on land in Janina almost daily since the peace conference first met in London.

Constantinople, Jan. 31.—The sublime porte today ordered the Turkish delegates to the London peace conference to return forthwith to Constantinople. The summary withdrawal of the Ottoman envoys while Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro, and Greece agreed each to leave one representative in London, is taken as an act of retaliation for the hurried denunciation of the armistice by the allies. Rezaid Pasha, Osman Nazim Pasha, and Tvefik Pasha were commanded to report to the Porte as quickly as possible.

Mutineers Suffered.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—A news agency dispatch from Constantinople said that the Young Turks troops have subdued Mutineers at Chatalja and stopped their march on the city.

A conference was reported between representatives of Enver Bey and officers of the disaffected soldiers and the new government promised amnesty to all deserters who would immediately return to the ranks.

Murderers To be Liberated.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Twenty-four murderers now in the state penitentiary at Joliet, will be given their freedom. The commutation of their sentences was announced as one of the last acts of Governor Charles S. Deneen.

The action of the governor has caused bitter criticism from police heads, and thugs and Police Chief McSweeney, has asked 2,000 additional police.

Bryd Extols Wilson.

New York, Jan. 31.—President-elect Wilson was extolled as a man duly capable of rising to emergencies by Richard Evelyn Bryd, speaker of the House of Delegates of Virginia, at the annual dinner Wednesday evening of "The Virginians," at Sherry's. The two hundred diners, among them were many prominent men, applauded Mr. Bryd.

"I believe that the great Democrat who is President-elect will not only prove himself a great statesman" said Mr. Bryd, "but likewise a great Democratic leader—the acknowledged and unquestioned chief of his party. I think the people have elected the man, of all others, seems to be best fitted for the task, for he has shown not only a wonderful grasp of governmental problems, but he has proved that he can translate his principles into politics, and his politics into results."

The unfortunate man had been walking on the track used by southbound trains and upon the approach of a train bound in that direction he stepped on the other track in front of a train coming from the opposite direction, and was instantly killed.

HOME RULE HAS ONE MAJORITY

Only Eleven Electors Fail to Cast Their Ballots Yesterday.

A SPIRITED CONTEST.

Seventeen Nationalists, Sixteen Unionists—Invalid Voters Brought to Polls on Cots in Rain.

Londenberry, Ireland, Jan. 31.—The official count today showed that the Nationalists carried the Londenberry election by 57 votes. David C. Hogg, Nationalist, polled 2,699 votes against 2,642 for Col. A. H. Pakenham, Unionist. This gives the Home Rule advocates 17 seats in Ulster as against 16 held by the Unionists and proves that Ulster is not overwhelmingly against Home Rule.

Only eleven electors in the whole of Londenberry failed to cast their votes in yesterday's election and some of them were paired.

There was never a more closely contested election in the constituency by reason of the fact that the result determined the control of Ulster. The seat to be filled would give either the Nationalists or the Unionists the majority of the members of the province and have a telling effect in the Home Rule controversy.

The seat was that of the Marquis of Hamilton, a staunch Protestant anti-home-ruler. A driving rain poured down all day. Invalids on cots were carried to the polling places. In one instance the Nationalists went after a man and found him dead. In several cases where constituencies were too sick to be taken out of their homes they were paired with members of the opposite party.

As a result of the contest the Nationalists now hold 17 seats in Ulster and the Unionists 16. It can no longer be said that Ulster is against Home Rule.

Steamer Safe.

Boston, Jan. 31.—The French liner Mexico, which lost a propeller in a terrific storm 150 miles off Sable Island yesterday and sent out "S. O. S." calls for help is safe. The Leylander Liner Devonian, this afternoon wireless that she has the Mexico in tow, with all on board safe, and is proceeding to this port.
