More About Boys' Corn Clubs.

The Georgia Southern railway last year instituted a number of clubs in Georgia and Florida. The announcement of the yields has been given out and the result is most gratifying.

When it is remembered that the average yield of corn to the acre in these counties in both Georgia and Florida is considerably less than 25 bushels the value of this work can easily be understood.

It is difficult to overestimate the value of boys' corn clubs and girls' canning clubs to a community. It is sincerely to be hoped many more of them will be organized in Florida.

The advice of Italy to the Balkan states to be reasonably moderate in their demands on Turkey and thus put a stop to the carnage is good. War is what General Sherman said it was.

The sympathy of the civilized world has been with the Balkan nations and now that they have gained their victory they should be as just and reasonable in bringing on peace as they were brave in prosecuting war.

The Importance of Being on Time.

There are few, if any, rules of conduct more important and yet more neglected than that of promptness in keeping appointments.

Time is cheap, and we are apt to think we can ditch it as we will. But it is always ourselves we rob, not time.

The old fellow with the scythe ever gets all that is coming to him. And there is many a bad scar on our fortunes when he has had to prod us up to our mark.

Maybe you can waste your own time by being late in keeping engagements, and feel that the loss, if any, is your own affair. But it is also the affair of the man you keep waiting.

You waste his time, too. If your time is worthless, maybe his is not. He may conclude that his time is worth more to him than you are.

It is easy to drop into the habit of careless disregard of exact time. Perhaps most people have an easy way of thinking that any time within a half-hour or an hour of the time appointed will do very well.

In many cases it does not matter. But one never knows until afterward whether it matters or not. And through false politeness we are usually assured that it does not matter even when it does.

It may be hard to acquire the fixed habit of always being on time, but it can be done and it is worth while to do it.

Great business men have this habit. Napoleon would not have been Napoleon but for his unflinching promptness.

Men of great affairs, whose time is most completely taken up, are usually on time. It is they who know best the value of time and the importance of saving it by being prompt.

It is only the idle and careless, whose time is of least value to them, who can afford to waste it by looseness in keeping engagements.

The Post of Vice-President.

The vice-president is the heir apparent. Sometimes he is more than that. We have every reason to believe that Vice-President Marshall will not be a vice-president in name only.

prevent a kind of coldness springing up between the president and the vice-president. The abler the vice-president the more apt is the quarrel to come.

The frequency with which our presidents have died in office, elevating the vice-president, has tended to make the relations between the two strained.

The elder Harrison died soon after his inauguration, leaving John Tyler to fill out the unexpired term. Mr. Taylor died and his mantle fell on Millard Fillmore. Mr. Lincoln, Mr. Garfield, and Mr. McKinley were assassinated.

This makes five presidents who have died in office within less than a hundred years. The nation can only hope that no more presidents will die in office for many years.

Mr. Wilson's announced intention to consult frequently with Mr. Marshall, thus making of him a cabinet officer in all except the name is a happy idea.

And Nick Longworth, following the example set by his father-in-law, retires to private life.

As the inauguration is over there is nothing to do for Floridians, except to go to work to develop the state.

Killing ex-presidents in Mexico has entirely superseded the bull fights, the former being considered the better sport.

Mr. William Randolph Hearst would have Uncle Sam annex Mexico. Bill's appetite for trouble seems not to have been satiated.

The only way to avoid criticism in this world is to do nothing, say nothing, go into a hole and pull the hole in after you.—Elbert Hubbard.

"Who's who in Mexico?"—editorial head in Miami Herald. The owls are hooting the same thing at midnight in the churchyards in the land of Manana.

Where are the suffragettes that "liked" to Washington under the leadership of "Gen." Rosalie Jones? It cannot be possible that they are "hiding" back.

A Fort Worth, Tex., girl of 14 years has just married her second husband. At the same rate, should she live to be an octogenarian she will have made a passably fair record.

Doubtless President Wilson will have more to say on April 1st, than he said on March 4th, but his message to congress cannot possibly be stronger than was his inaugural address.

A New York man claims to have made a piano out of paper. A benefactor of his race. It will not be necessary to seek an axe to break it up, heartlessly suggests the Richmond Virginian.

Should Tampa, in the course of events, have a thoroughfare that bore a slight resemblance to Palfax street, she would be presumptuous enough to place herself in a class of cities that Pensacola has long ago outgrown.

Dorothy Dix, in one of her polite references to widows, says: "She feeds the brute on home cooking, instead of making him buy her expensive foods in high-priced restaurants." That explains why, perhaps, Dorothy is a widow.

Mrs. Wilson will not make the ability to spend money lavishly the test of social recognition at Washington. The Senatorial view taken by the majority of the erstwhile leaders, and those who are to make their debut during the next administration. In referring to Mrs. Wilson's views on this subject, the Houston Post has this to say:

"It is said Mrs. Wilson proposes to dress on $1,000 a year. The real shocks to fashionable Washington society are yet to come. The chances are that Mrs. Wilson will not only dress economically, but will insist on the goods coming up to her neck and width enough in her skirt to enable her to step more than three inches at a stride."

Whereas by the Divine Will we have had so suddenly taken from our midst our faithful friend and beloved co-worker, Virginia Snyder, and whereas the years of association with her have but deepened our feeling of love and respect towards her, and in her daily life she had demonstrated her integrity, ability, and usefulness as a teacher, therefore be it Resolved, That in the death of Virginia Snyder, the teachers of Public School No. 1, have lost one of the best, most loyal and most faithful members of the faculty.

That the pupils to whom she so willingly ministered have sustained the loss of a teacher of rare ability, who was always willing to labor with them, and for their advancement.

That the remembrance of her successful career will serve as an encouragement to those with whom she has been associated.

That we extend our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to her grief-stricken loved ones in their time of sorrow.

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and a copy published in the local papers.

PASTOR RUSSELL TO ARRIVE HERE THIS MORNING

LARGE NUMBERS ARE ARRIVING ON EVERY TRAIN TO HEAR THE FAMOUS DIVINE TONIGHT AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Every train brings in numbers of people whose one purpose in coming to Pensacola at this time is to hear the famous Bible lecturer, Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn and London, who arrives in Pensacola this morning from Tampa, Havana and Colon, Panama, and other points. He lectures tonight at the opera house at 8 o'clock.

It is very evident that the general public has become more interested in the Bible since this independent, fearless and consecrated servant of God has begun his work, a work which now compasses that of any other one living man. Through the daily and weekly press his sermons reach millions each week, and wherever he speaks the largest auditoriums fail to accommodate the crowds desiring to hear.

An invitation is extended to all of whatever creed or sect or nationality, and all can be assured that the lecture will be edifying, heart cheering, and most interesting. As is usual with all these lectures no charge is made for seats and no collections are taken.

A good treatment for a cold settled in the lungs is a HERRICK'S RED PEPPER PORUS PLASTER applied to the chest to draw out inflammation, and BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP to relax tightness. You get the two remedies for the price of one by buying the dollar size Horehound Syrup; there is a porous plaster free with each bottle. Sold by all druggists. (Adv.)

YOUNG WIDOW IS FOUND MURDERED IN APARTMENTS

New York, March 6.—Mrs. Katherine Gorfrey, a young widow, was found murdered early today in her flat. Her head and face had been horribly battered, presumably by a club. The police attribute the crime to gangsters.

Three men who reported the killing to the police were detained as material witnesses. They said they had called to see the young woman and found her dead.

Advice to Those Who Have Lung Trouble

Tuberculosis is said to be curable by simply living in the open air and taking an abundance of fresh eggs and milk. Do all you possibly can to add to strength and vigor by eating wholesome, nourishing food, and breathe the cleanest and purest air, and then, if health and strength do not return, take the tonic and beneficial effects of Eckman's Alternative. Read what it did in this case:

"Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs. My physician, one of the leading practitioners, said that it was lung trouble. I took eggs and milk in quantities, but I got very weak. The doctors said I would not gain in weight as long as I stayed in the city, but I kept on working and prayed each day that I might get well. I believe my prayers were answered, for Mr. A. Lippincott, my employer, Lippincott & Co., Department Store, 206 to 214 Market street, Wilmington, Del., had learned of a remedy called Eckman's Alternative. I bought a bottle and began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully, using no other remedy, and finally noticed the clearing of the lungs. I firmly believe Eckman's Alternative saved my life. I sent my grateful letter to the State Board of Health to be examined for tuberculosis bacilli, and none were found. My mother died from Consumption when I was about two years old. I make this statement so that others may learn of the wonderful merits of Eckman's Alternative. I regard my recovery as being miraculous." (Sworn affidavit) JAS. SQUIRES.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by V. F. Balkcom Drug Co., The Crystal Pharmacy, The Central Pharmacy, and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet selling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence. (Adv.)

SAID OF FLORIDA AND FLORIDIANS

Familiar With Ins and Outs—Congressman Wilson has appointed Jefferson Davis, of Jackson county, as his private secretary. Mr. Davis filled this position acceptably for Congressman Mayes, and is familiar with all the ins and outs of routine department work, which take up so much of a secretary's time, and will be able to take up the work without any of the delay in getting acquainted that a new man would experience.—DeFuniak Ereeze.

Class Legislation.—An Ocala lady who is a zealous advocate of woman suffrage says that when it becomes a law, the next important changes in the government will be to tax all bachelors and widowers $10 a year apiece and make every body go to church at least once every Sunday. She will have to retract her threats if she wants the Star to support the amendment.—Ocala Star.

The Still Pig.—It is said that there is one gum shoe candidate for the postmastership of Orlando. The gentleman evidently proceeds on the theory that the still pig gets the most milk.—South Florida Sentinel.

Both Right.—Editor Storrs and Editor Cleveland each says he has the best and newest paper published in DeFuniak. We believe both are about right.—Milton Dixie Methodist.

Other Attractions.—Pensacola is announcing with appropriate glee that a glue factory will soon be established in that city. Is that the only way Pensacola has of making people stick to the town?—Miami Herald.

He's a Yannigan.—W. B. Mack wants to play third base on the "Rube" team if The Journal lunch ever dares to issue another challenge. We always knew on which side Mack belonged but he did not dare to own up while he was in Pensacola.—DeFuniak Breeze.

May Be a Daily.—Milton is showing a decidedly progressive spirit. In addition to her other evidences of enterprise, she now has a semi-weekly newspaper, and she has Hub Allen to thank for it. The Milton Gazette, twice-a-week, if you please.—Pensacola Journal. Oh, yes, we're coming! Look for us once a day, if things keep up.—Milton Gazette.

Always a Smilin'—We presume that Nathan Bryan, Claude L'Engle, Frank Mayes, Hayes Lewis and John Crawford were smiling on an hand yesterday. Their sweetest smiles, however, will come later.—Tampa Tribune.

PENSACOLA AND PENSACOLIANS

VENTURA DAIRY BUYS BURNS DAIRY

This is to notify the public that I have bought the Burns Dairy and will hereafter supply all of the Burns Dairy customers. I will appreciate their continued patronage and will guarantee them as well as all of my old customers the best of service. Prices will be 10 cents a quart or 11 quart tickets for $1.00 cash. Gallon, 35 cents.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Alvey A. Adee, second assistant secretary of state, who has been in the state department since 1887, will retain his position under Secretary Bryan. Mr. Adee is affectionately referred to in Washington as the "wheel horse" of the department, and it is said that few important diplomatic notes of recent years have escaped his editing. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan today decided not to accept his resignation.

Manton M. Wyvell, a New York lawyer, a Cornell man and an intimate personal friend of Secretary Bryan was today appointed private secretary to the secretary of state in place of William Leslie Coombs. Mr. Knox's secretary, who resided to engage in business in San Francisco.

Benjamin G. Davis, of Maryland, clerk to Mr. Bryan when he was in congress, and lately in the adjutant general's office in the war department, is to be confidential clerk to Secretary Bryan.

MEXICAN REBELS ROUTED WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Mexico City, March 6.—A force of rebels headed by Alberto Guajardo, commander of rural guards, who revolted against the Huerta administration in Coahuila, was routed with heavy losses by federal troops last night near Parras.

The battle occurred when the rebels attacked a repair train en route from Torreon to Saltillo, the capital, under the escort of a strong body of troops. The federal troops destroyed and repulsed the rebels after a sharp fight.

The governor of Campeche, Manuel Castilla Brito, is reported to have fled and is now on the way to Havans, to join members of the Madero family. Charges of misappropriation of state funds had been recently lodged against him.

The governor of Oaxaca reported today that with one exception all the rebel leaders in that state had been pacified.

THREE THOUSAND MEMBERS CLOAKMAKERS' UNION STRIKE

Boston, March 6.—The cloakmakers' union, which has 3,000 members here and is affiliated with the International Garment Workers' Union, declared a strike today. Their demands are similar to those made by the 6,000 garment workers who struck some time ago and are still out.

SOON TO KNOW WHETHER FRIEDMANN IS IMPOSTER OR BENEFACTOR OF RACE

Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann.

New York, March 5.—Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann, the German physician who claims to have a vaccine which will cure tuberculosis, is busy making plans for the demonstration of his treatment in this city. Rich and poor will be treated alike by him, he says.

"I am here to show what my vaccine will do," declares Friedmann. "That is my only answer to those who have natural doubts before they have made observation. It does hurt me that they I have come here to exploit my discovery to get money from American millionaires.

"When I have established my dispensary, which I shall do at the earliest possible moment, I shall treat in order all who come. There shall be no distinction between the rich and poor so long as the plague afflicts them. I shall ask patients to pay me according to their means and willingness. The rich shall pay more than the poor, and what I get from them will pay the expenses of those whose means are so small that they can pay little or nothing. Before I go home I shall arrange to leave men behind me who are familiar with the vaccine and the process of administering it and caring for those under treatment. The efforts of Dr. Friedmann will be watched with the closest of attention, not only in New York, but throughout the country and the civilized world. So much has been said about the cure, hopes having been raised so high by the first lurid announcement of its discovery, and followed by the abject despair which accompanied later investigators, many of whom declared that the cure was merely a hoax and its so-called discoverer a mountebank bent upon wheedling as much money as possible from tuberculosis victims, that the process of Dr. Friedmann's experimentation will be followed with perhaps more interest than has attended any other medical discovery of the last century.

Aside from the treatments given by Friedmann, the vaccine will be tested by American investigators of note independent of the German. The United States government, through the public health and marine hospital service, will try it thoroughly, while other experiments are going on at Saranac Lake, N. Y., where Drs. Trudeau and Baldwin are conducting a thoroughly scientific investigation of the tuberculosis vaccine.

New York physicians have had nothing to do with Friedmann since his arrival here. They do not regard seriously his claims.
