The Guest Room Should Have Every Comfort—Many Necessary Accessories for the Guest Room—Waste Basket Often Forgotten in Furnishing Apartment—Tomatoes Fried or Boiled Excellent for Breakfast—Scalloped Tomatoes.

THE GUEST ROOM.

It is not only the hostess who is to be considered when making a set of rules for week-end parties or for visits in general. The guest's comfort should be taken into consideration, not only in the matter of entertainment but in providing for her room the handy things that come generally under the name of "the comforts of home"—and that outside of home (where one can demand them) one does not always find them.

In furnishing her room and in making its immediate preparation for her arrival it is not sufficient to see that it is clean and that it has been well aired. It is necessary to provide her daily with flowers to brighten the room, although it is a charming courtesy when possible, but be sure to see that she will lack for nothing while in your house.

A necessary accessory for the guest-room, and one that, nine times out of ten, is completely overlooked, is a sewing basket containing silk and cotton threads, darning cotton, hooks and eyes, needles, thimble, scissors, etc. Many a time a stitch is needed and the guest does not like to trouble her hostess for these little things. Of course, many visitors provide themselves with a traveler's sewing bag—a tiny little affair that can fit into a corner of the suitcase—but the hostess should see that if she has omitted it she will not suffer for its loss.

Also there should be writing materials—both letter paper and correspondence cards, and, of course, a sufficient supply of ink, pens, blotter, etc. A few books and some of the new magazines should be left for her use, as she is almost sure to want a quiet hour or two to herself every day. The hostess will not then have to worry about whether or not she is sufficiently amused; and if you have never known it, there is scarcely any nuisance worse than having a guest continually on your mind—unless it is, perhaps, from the standpoint of the guest—the hostess who is everlastingly "fussing."

A waste basket is too often forgotten in the furnishing of the apartment, and the guest is embarrassed wondering where to throw away odds and ends. A waste basket can be bought for very little cost, or can be made at home from pieces of cardboard and scraps of cretonne or flowered muslin, there is no excuse in the world for not having one.

Of course the visitor brings her own toilet articles, but the hostess, in spite of that fact, should provide her with a good brush and comb, and a hand mirror. A clothes and hat brush and a nail brush should also be placed in the room, in spite of the fact that she should have, and probably has, brought them herself. A box of powder—and be sure that it is powder that she will know has not previously been opened—is another part of the equipment. As powder can be bought in small packages or cans, this is easily managed—if in the can it need not be an absolutely new can, as shaken from the top, there is no danger of old powder being mixed with the fresh. Tooth powder is also on the list of supplies and of course, a cake of soap. Be certain that the latter is absolutely fresh—there is nothing more disgusting to many persons than to be asked to use a cake of soap that has evidently been in use before. Also, as very small cakes are being manufactured and at very reasonable cost, there is no reason for this lack.

As an aid to the housewife, and to the guest, for that matter, are the little week-end cases which can be purchased for the insignificant sum of 25 cents. They contain a small can of tooth powder, a box of face powder, a tube of cold cream and a cake of soap. Others, costing a trifle more, add a few more things to that list, but that is really sufficient for the needs of the average week-end. Many guests carry these tiny boxes in their suitcases, where they take up very little room.

A good supply of pins—both safety pins and the other kind—are necessary, as are hangers on which to place her dresses as soon as she removes them from the suit case or trunk. Of course, the covered waist hangers are daintier than those of just the uncovered wire, but, as a matter of fact, the latter answer the purpose just as well. For the housewife who likes to have everything in her guest room match, a pretty idea would be to cover the hangers with scraps of the material used in the window draperies or the bed covering—flowered cretonne being a favorite for both of these.

Of course, provide towels, and with them be sure to put one or two washcloths. Also let the guest have something more substantial than a regulation "guest towel"—they are all very well for those who drop in for an afternoon of bridge or for luncheon, but if one is going to remain over night, she should be provided with bath and face towels, and the "guest towels," as well, if you insist.

If she must share the family bath tub, be sure that there is a corner of the room reserved strictly for her things. Not only towels and washcloths, but a glass should be found in this section that is given over to her use.

BOMBS THROWN ON ANTWERP CITY

London, Aug. 29 (5 a. m.)—The Standard prints the following dispatch from its correspondent at Antwerp, under date of August 28:
"Germans have again attacked Antwerp with Zeppelin bombs.
About 1 o'clock last night I was suddenly awakened by the buzzing sound of motors. I opened my window and noticed in the air south of the great station a gigantic apparatus which for a single moment threw a flash of light on the town. A dull sound was heard, immediately followed by a crash as of thunder.

At a greater distance from me it came another flash of light and a couple of seconds later the same sound was heard, rather like two goods vans being dashed against each other with enormous force.

Airships Descy Forts.
When this cruel game had been repeated a third time the sound of cannon from the forts on the Scheidt and the rifles of guards in and around the town burst through the night. Firing of the defenders of Antwerp continued, but the German airship also went on with the throwing of bombs.

Excitement and anxiety of the people of Antwerp were great. Women and children appeared in their night dresses in the streets and ran from one corner to another, hoping to get into a safe place. It was at first thought that the Germans had commenced a bombardment of the town, and for a moment I believed this was the prologue of a siege.

This dreadful episode from and against aircraft did not last more than twenty minutes. It was apparent then that the destructive raid of a single Zeppelin was the cause of alarm, but it had done a great deal of injury in that short time.

Bomb Kills Policemen.
One bomb killed two policemen on duty. Another fell on the military hospital, killing or wounding several persons, and the barracks of the Fifth regiment of the line was much damaged.

Most of the bombs were aimed at the principal public buildings. One dropped in a small street between the exchange and the Place de Meir. Bodies of a man and a woman were discovered under the ruins of a house there.

Another bomb fell on the house of Mr. Mertens, whose wife and one of whose servants were killed instantly. Another servant had both breasts torn off. This bomb was evidently aimed at the Palais de Justice as well as another which dropped in a street near by and tore the head from the body of a poor old woman who was looking out of a window to see what was happening.

FRENCH SOLDIERS ARE AT COLOGNE

Rotterdam, via London, Aug. 28, 11:40 p. m.—The Cologne correspondent of De Tyd, writing under date of August 18, says:

"An endless train rolls into the station at Cologne. In it have arrived 700 French prisoners, taken at Mulhausen and Le Garde, Alsace-Lorraine. They were dressed in red trousers and short, dark blue coats. One could see that they had been in a fight. They were unkempt and in need of a wash and a shave.

"I remember having read somewhere that a French senator had declared there was a great shortage of shoes for the French troops. I have seen 100,000 German soldiers going to the front, everyone of them wearing a brand new pair of russet shoes, heavy enough to withstand any campaign. But there were no such shoes among these French prisoners. Their footwear was a flimsy character and worn so badly that in most cases their toes were protruding. They ate greedily of bread and drank eagerly the tea and coffee that was handed to them. The faces of most of these were blank and expressionless. They conversed among themselves in an undertone. I asked one something about Le Garde.

"I know nothing," he answered sullenly.

"But after I told him he was speaking with a Hollander and not with a German, he modified his reply to:

"I will say nothing, sir."
"In one compartment of this train, guarded by four soldiers with fixed bayonets, sat a French soldier, who had refused to give his word of honor or that he would make no attempt to escape."

Unable to Pay Levy.
London, Aug. 28, 11:47 p. m.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says the burghmaster of Brussels had not handed over the war levy of $40,000,000 demanded by Germany. He declared he has not the money.

The German military government, the correspondent continues, had designated as hostages Ernest Selvay, who has been described as the Belgian Carnegie, upon whom it has imposed a tax of 20,000,000 francs ($2,000,000), and Baron Lambert Rothschild, who has been taxed 10,000,000 francs.

Resume Offensive.
London, Aug. 28, 12:25 a. m.—An official statement issued by the French embassy last night, said:

"Yesterday our troops took up the offensive in the Vosges. In the region between the Vosges mountains and Nancy, where fighting has been going on for a fortnight, the German losses were considerable.

"Longwy, which was garrisoned by only one battalion, has surrendered, after holding out for twenty-four hours."

Paris, Aug. 28.—A number of German prisoners passed in a train through the station at Limoges today. An inhabitant of the town was able to talk for an instant with a French sub-officer who accompanied the captives.

"There, sir," he said, pointing to the Germans, "are all that is left of an entire division."

THEATERS

DE WOLF HOPPER.
and the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera company, with its great cast of artists, every one having at one time or another been seen in roles of individual prominence, for this organization is easily the foremost in this country presenting light opera, includes, in support to De Wolf Hopper, Idelle Patterson, Gladys Caldwell, Jayne Herbert, Anabel Jourdan, Maude Mordaunt, Herbert Waterous, Paul Hyde Davies, Arthur Cunningham, John Willard, Herbert Cripps, with a chorus of fifty voices and an augmented orchestra.

In Gilbert and Sullivan's best comic opera, "The Mikado," under the management of William A. Brady.

About 3 years ago Mr. Brady reached the conclusion that the time was ripe for a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera revival, provided that these operas were properly laid down by the authors themselves. The result has been that the success made by this brilliant organization has been nothing short of wonderful.

The first fear that any Gilbert and Sullivan admirer has for any revival of their favorite operas is for their adequate interpolation, it being essential that the best singers and comedians must be called upon.

In their present revival the playgoers need have no fear in that connection, for a perusal of the great cast announced for this revival is warrant enough to satisfy the most skeptical that the comedy and unusual value of this opera will find magnificent illustration.

STILL WORKING ON THE NORTH HIGHWAY

The report circulated in Salt Lake City that the state road commission had decided to discontinue the improvement of the highway around the north end of the Great Salt Lake, has been set at naught by State Engineer E. R. Morgan, in a statement to the secretary of the Ogden Publicity bureau.

According to the statement of Mr. Morgan, a crew of 35 men and teams are still employed on the north highway. The two traction engines used in the foray of the season, have been ordered to other parts of the state, as their work on the Utah-Nevada highway has been completed.

Mr. Larson has received information that the 100-mile stretch of road to the Utah-Nevada line, north of Ogden, with good grades and concrete bridges, will be in fine condition before the workmen are called off, the fall rains being the only need for the packing and settling of the new roadbed.

"SIGN OF THE SON OF MAN IN HEAVEN"

"Then All the Tribes of the Earth Shall Mourn."

The Character of the Sign—Its Effect Upon the Whole World—Why Mourn, if Messiah's Kingdom Brings Blessings—The Day of Trouble a Pledge to Prepare the Hearts of Mankind—This Severity Is in Mercy Designed to Prepare for Blessing.

August.—The beauty and instructiveness of The Photo-Drama of Creation are more and more appreciated by the public as time passes. This wonderful combination of Biblical illustrations and the Scriptures and lays a good foundation for intelligent Bible study.

Pastor Russell's topic today was from the text, "Then shall appear the sign of the Son of Man in heaven; and then shall the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory."—Matthew 24:30.

The speaker pointed out various suggestions made by scholars respecting the import of this prophecy—some guessing that the sign would be a cross in the sky; others, that it would be Christ Himself, appearing in some warlike form to humanity, causing dismay, etc. He surmised that his audience had read published reports of his recent sermon respecting Christ's Second Coming in its two phases—the Parousia, or invisible presence, followed by the Epiphany, or bright-shining in flaming fire, or judgment. He could not say that the Sign of the Son of Man would be His Parousia; for Christ's Parousia will not be known except to the most saintly of His Church. Consequently it must stand related to His Epiphany, or shining forth in judgments, which the whole world will recognize.

The hearers were reminded that a sign is merely an indication; for instance, a cross in the sky, or the cross representing Christianity, the crescent Mohammedanism. So the sign of the Son of Man in heaven would properly be some indication that He has taken His great power and begun to reign.

Mourning Because of Him.
To the question, How could such a sign appear in the sky, the heavens? The Pastor replied that this is not the thought. He reminded his audience that the Bible repeatedly uses the words heaven, earth, mountain, sea, in a symbolic sense—the earth representing organized society, mountains representing kingdoms, seas the restless classes of humanity. Then he showed that in the same symbolic usage the heavens represent ecclesiastical powers—churchianity. The sign in the heavens, he believes, signifies that the flaming fire of judgments will first manifest itself in ecclesiastical circles.

Gradually mankind will realize that a new government is in control, and that justice will be laid to the line and righteousness to the plummet. Since unrighteousness is everywhere prevalent because of man's fallen condition, the consciences of the whole world will be awakened, the speaker declared. Fear will come upon men everywhere, not only because they will see Christ's righteous judgments in religious circles, but because they will see Him coming and will recognize that shortly they, too, must be involved.

The Pastor reminded his audience that mankind have very crude and incorrect views of the object of Messiah's Second Coming and Kingdom. "Doctrines of devils," brought into the creeds during the Dark Ages, have made so void the Word of God that the majority of mankind dread God as their Almighty Foe, instead of realizing Him to be the Father of mercies. Not knowing of the glorious blessings which the Kingdom will bring mankind, they will be apprehensive as they perceive Christ's righteous judgments encircling the earth.

"The Heavens Being on Fire."
Next was discussed at length St. Peter's words, "The heavens being on fire," and "The earth and the works therein will be burned up." These the Pastor believes describe the sign of the Son of Man. He warned his hearers against making the mistake of our forefathers in supposing that these words refer to a literal burning of the literal earth and sky, and explained that while the symbolic heavens and earth will catch "fire" and pass away with a great commotion, the physical earth will remain practically as it is, and begin to undergo the transforming influences of Restitution.

The speaker then demonstrated that the flaming fire of Divine judgments will appear in the heavens—ecclesiastical—and subsequently reach the earth, purifying society from every thing sinful, selfish, unjust, and preparing men's hearts for Divine blessings. "The elements will melt with fervent heat." We see the capitalistic and the laboring element separating. We see preparations for the great Time of Trouble. Things are getting so hot that presently spontaneous combustion will set in, and clear the way for Messiah's Kingdom.

ECZEMA SPREAD ALL OVER CHILD'S BODY

Came on Face and Caused Disfigurement. Clothing Aggravated Trouble. Itching Burning Sensation. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

1177 Market St., Chehalis, Wash.—"My little nephew was cross and cried and complained of itching. The eczema broke out with a rash, reddish looking. It spread until it was all over his body, and he was so uncomfortable and itched so much that he could not sleep and he was so disfigured. His hands had to be tied to keep him from scratching. His clothing aggravated the trouble and made the itching worse. He was so covered with eruptions he didn't look natural. There was such an itching and burning sensation he could not sleep and he was so disfigured. Weeks and months passed by and we had almost given up in despair.

"One day I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment being good for eczema and all skin troubles. I sent for a free sample and immediately we discovered a change for the better. Before the sample was used there was such a remarkable change that I bought a box of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. The eruptions healed, the itching and burning ceased and by the time the Cuticura Soap and Ointment were used up he was as good as new." (Signed) Mrs. J. L. Steelman, Apr. 8, 1914.

Samples Free by Mail
Although Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold throughout the world, a sample of each with 32-p. Skin Book will be sent free upon request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T., Boston."
