SIGNIFICANT CHANGES IN SEVENTY YEARS Under the above caption, the following editorial appeared in the Los Angeles Tribune, Dec. 16, 1914: "Discussing the project to construct a steel railroad across the American continent, Senator Dayton, of New Jersey, made the following statement in the senate on February 23d, 1844: 'The power of steam to reach that country has been suggested. Talk of steam communication—a railroad to the Columbia! A railroad across 2,500 miles of desert, prairie and mountains. The smoke of an engine through those terrible fissures of that great rocky ledge where the smoke of the volcano has rolled before! Who is to make this vast internal—rather external—improvement? All the mines of Mexico and Peru disembowled would scarcely pay a penny of the cost.' To the New Jersey senator of 70 years ago the construction of a transcontinental steam road, did seem like an extravagant dream. But if the senator were here now, he could take his choice of half a dozen transcontinental routes, and then run down to Mexico at least to find the mines still not disembowled. But perhaps more to his astonishment would be the utilization of electricity. Great changes have taken place in the last 70 years. The modern methods of railway and steamship travel, making rapid transit all over the world, the electric telegraph system has come into practical use for rapid communication. Marvelous indeed have been the changes that have come about in all departments of knowledge during these 70 years." Modern modes of travel. The increase of knowledge. Our fathers knew nothing of these things. What does it all mean? Why these great changes within the short period of one generation, after the world had moved on in the old way for nearly 60 centuries? After recording four distinct lines of prophecy, covering the earthly kingdom from the days of ancient Babylon and Medo Persia to the establishment of the eternal kingdom of glory. The prophet Daniel was told: Thou O Daniel shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end; many shall run to and fro and knowledge shall be increased. Dan. XII-4-9. The time of the end was a fixed period, which began in 1798 and will terminate with the end itself at the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. (Not to set up His Kingdom here on this earth as Bro. Russell teaches) but to destroy the wicked and save the righteous. 1 Thess. IV-13 to 18. And the wicked consumed at His coming. 2d Thess. II-8. How will He come? Matt. XXV-31. When the son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him. Do you think it could be and we not see him? (As Pastor Russell claims He is here now, since 1870). Word says every eye shall see Him. Isa. XXXIII-17. Thine eye shall see the King in His beauty. Rev. XIV-14-19. Rev. XV-2-3-4. And no second probation after death in God's word. (Book opened Rev. MANCHESTER BOY'S WELL MERITED PROMOTION

A. W. Bowman Made Vice President and General Sales Manager of Company he has Been Connected With For Years.

In a recent issue of the American Artisan and Hardware Record, appeared the following article relative to one whose early days were spent in East Manchester and who spends a part, at least, of each summer in Manchester. "It happens very often that a young man becomes dissatisfied with conditions in his home town. He thinks that there are no prospects there. Life is narrow, people run along in a groove, and so the young fellow 'with any spirit in his make-up,' decides that he must go out into the world and seek his fortune there. "But most of those who thus go away from home fail to find the fortune which appears so alluring in the 'offing' and come to realize that just as the pasture always looks green and even at a distance, so everything looks favorable when you look away from your own 'narrow' home community into the great, big, wide, open world, but when you come closer, you notice the bare spots between the blades of grass; so you also notice, or rather feel, the hard knocks that the unfriendly world gives you—and the result is that most of the young fellows who thus go out to conquer, fail to do any conquering. Their life becomes one of dissatisfaction because of their failure and most likely they would have done as well, if not better, if they had stayed right at home. "Andrew Winfred Bowman also went out to conquer—and he did conquer. "He was born in the little town of Manchester, Vermont, 42 years ago on May 18th, and lived a life as a boy and a young man in the smaller towns. He attended the local schools but, for some reason or other, did not follow the advice of those who claim that a college education is necessary to make a success in business life. "In 1896, he secured a position as traveling salesman with the Russell and Erwin Manufacturing Company, New Britain, Connecticut. This was at the time when industrial and commercial life was at a low ebb in this country and young Bowman no doubt, had to exercise all the tenacity and patience and the good common sense that he possessed in order to make good as a salesman, for neither retailer nor wholesaler were anxious to buy in those days. "When the Russell and Erwin Manufacturing Company in 1903 was merged into the American Hardware Corporation, 'A. W.' transferred his services to the Corbin Screw Company with which concern he remained about a year. "About 10 years ago, he connected himself with the Atlantic Screw Works at Hartford, Connecticut, and here he did so well as a traveling salesman that he is now the vice-president and general sales manager of the organization. In fact, he is the entire sales force as he sells the total output of the works. Having been continually on the road visiting the hardware trade regularly for many years, he is probably one of the best known men in his business and he has gained for himself a great many friends who like him because of his trustworthiness, his uprightness, his willingness to help and his good natured temperament. "He has made a very close study of the problems which confront the hardware trade in general and his own business in particular and he is regarded as a man who is complete master of the business of which he is such an important factor. "It is therefore, not surprising that at the recent convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association in Atlantic City, N. J., he was elected to membership of the executive committee of this association. "Those who know him well call him 'Bow' for short. There are some of them who spell it 'Beau,' for he is a veritable 'Beau Brummel' although considerably larger in body and stature than this historic character. "His commanding physique and his smooth, unwrinkled, jolly countenance, surmounted by a great shock of iron-gray hair combine to give him individuality all his own. "Since 'Bow' left the road—for, of course, now it isn't necessary for him to visit the trade every two weeks—he has taken up golf and has become quite a fiend on the links, in fact whenever he can steal away from his work to which he is very devoted, he is almost sure to be found out on the green of the Hartford Country Club trying to beat 'Colonel Bogey'."

NORWICH UNIVERSITY

The annual meeting of the Washington County Norwich Club was held in Montpelier Monday evening. After a lunch at Miller's Inn, the members retired to the office of Colonel F. B. Thomas, where a short business meeting was held and the following officers were elected: President, Dr. F. E. Steele; vice-president H. G. Woodruff; secretary, Charles N. Barber; treasurer L. N. Wheelock. President Steele, having then declared the meeting informal, reminiscences of men and things pertaining to college days kept the meeting lively until midnight. After chapel on the first, election was held for naming candidates for the Wilson Development Prize. This prize given in the name of Robert H. Wilson, Class of 1914, is awarded to the man who, in his first semester, is believed to have proved himself by growth and adjustment the most helpful to his class, to the student body as a whole, and to the college. Any member of the Freshman Class in good academic and military standing at the end of the first semester is available as candidate. Selection of candidates is made by ballot of the Freshman Class and final award by a committee of the Faculty. The candidates selected, in order of preference, are Gerald A. Bixby of Chelsea, Vt., Thomas C. Keefe of Millis, Mass., William R. Palmer of Berlin, N. H.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS' MEETINGS

Office of State Highway Commissioner, Franklin, March 5, 1915. Dear Sir:— The annual meeting of the Road Commissioners and Selectmen for Bennington County will be held in Bennington on March 30th, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon and at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The statutes require the attendance, and provide for the per diem and expense charges of the road commissioners. Special attention will be given in the meetings this year to the question of maintenance of our roads, which is the great problem immediately before us. We can learn something from each other as to new and better methods. Road conditions in Vermont will be illustrated by aid of the stereopticon wherever possible. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone who is interested in good roads to attend the meetings and to participate in the discussions. The meetings are as follows: Essex county at Guildhall, Tuesday, March 16. Caledonia county at St. Johnsbury, Thursday, March 18. Orleans county at Newport, Friday, March 19. Windham county at Brattleboro, Tuesday, March 23. Windsor county at White River Junction, Wednesday, March 24. Orange county, Chelsea, Thursday, March 25. Bennington county at Bennington Tuesday, March 30. Rutland county, Rutland, Wednesday, March 31. Addison county at Middlebury, Thursday, April 1. Washington county at Montpelier, Tuesday, April 6. Chittenden county at Burlington, Wednesday, April 7. Grand Isle county at North Hero, Thursday, April 8. Franklin county at St. Albans, Tuesday, April 13. Lamoille county at Hyde Park, Thursday, April 15. Yours respectfully, STODDARD B. BATES, Commissioner.
