Beauty and Afternoon Tea.

The afternoon tea has become rather a conventional and necessary institution in the country, and is altogether a pretty habit.

The afternoon tea, considered from the health viewpoint, is decidedly more harmless than some other social functions, where late hours are observed and an excess of dancing is indulged in in over-heated rooms. Afternoon tea is a leisurely quiet affair, or, at least, should be. It occurs in those dull hours in the late afternoon, when there does not seem to be anything very exciting going on, the tea itself, when made right, is a wholesome enough beverage, mildly stimulating, not heavy, cleansing to digestive organs.

The main temptation at an afternoon reception which is a foe to good complexion is found in the things which so often accompany the tea, such as rich and elaborate cakes, large and small, sometimes varied, sandwiches of almost unearthly composition and things, both sweet and sour, which stimulate the appetite.

All of these are usually very good and the temptation is to partake, not wisely, but too well, and thus spoil a "perfectly good" dinner appetite, lead up the stomach with much that is not healthful and in a few days reap a harvest of tiny specks and pimples upon the chin and forehead.

The afternoon tea guest, as well as the afternoon tea user, will therefore be warned in time and choose sparingly of all of these kitchenware condiments. Just a small portion of this or of that, just a tiny bit of many things will not harm her; but to yield to temptation and to take too much, to overeat, particularly of sweets, is to make a mistake which no girl careful of her complexion will be guilty of.

YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS.

In contrast with the boy who knows when to fight and when not to be the case of one who would not fight under any circumstances. This boy was the delight of a dozen tormentors, who would chase him after school until he took refuge in some store, from which he would telephone home to his mother to come and fetch him.

The principal of a large city school tells me that he finds among the parents of his pupils just two attitudes toward children's fighting: Either they encourage the fighting instinct without regard to circumstances or they lay down the rule that the boys must never fight. One attitude is just as arbitrary as the other, and neither fits all cases. Some boys need just as much to be discouraged in their belligerent activities. Each individual has to be judged by himself. And each boy has to learn to judge each fighting opportunity by itself. The moral effect of one's attitude toward fighting is even more important than the physical effect. While aggressive combativeness is to be discouraged, we should try to retain enough of the fighting instinct in each child to make sure that the young people do not grow up with a soft indifference to injustice.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE.

"What is the proper vest and tie for a man to wear with full dress suit?" asked Horace.

"He should wear a single-breasted white silk, linen or pique vest and a white linen, silk or pique bow tie," answered his father.

FASHION NOTES.

The Useful Sailor.

Everyone is glad that the sailor shape is in evidence in spring millinery. Many hats there are of picture type, poke shapes, too, that are vastly becoming. But for general wear nothing is so smart as the sailor. It will probably be worn a good deal when warmer weather comes.

Shirring.

Shirring marks many frocks of soft fabrics. The skirts are shirred on cords about the hips, thus disposing of fullness that might otherwise be awkward in a skirt not cut on circular lines, but still full.

Sheer Fichus.

The fichu has many advocates this spring. There are some pretty frocks of taffeta, with hemstitched fichus of the sheerest muslin. Many lingerie frocks have ruffled fichus draped about the shoulders. And even some evening frocks show this quaint adjunct.

Separate Belts.

If one may judge by the shops, women are again going to buy separate leather belts. For many and good ones are shown. They are to wear with one-piece frocks, and with coats of linen and of wool.

Lacy Fabrics.

There is some difficulty about getting imported laces owing to the war. But there is no difficulty in getting lacy and sheer fabrics. There is lace cloth, for instance, a fabric with all the sheerness and irregularity of surface of all-over lace, yet with a good deal of body and strength.

CLEANING CURTAINS.

Before wetting the curtains for washing, take their exact size so as to not stretch them too much later. Shake them, to remove all the dirt possible. Soak curtains over night in suds of castile soap and tepid water, and place near the fire so that the warmth will aid in the cleansing process. It is even better to soak the curtains during the day, so that the water in which they are soaking can be changed often.

After soaking do not rub the curtains, but knead and squeeze them, later boiling them for a few minutes. Rinse and blue if they are white curtains. For those of cream color rinse in water colored in tea; if a deeper cream rinse in coffee water, and if very deep, like the Egyptian shade, dip in saffron and water. The curtains should next be run through a wringer and dipped in boiled starch of medium consistency. Adjust the curtain stretcher to the size of the curtain measurement taken before washing and pin the curtain edges to it.

NEW USE FOR APPLES.

Two new ways have been discovered of utilizing surplus and cull apples. One is the manufacture of apple syrup by clarifying and boiling down apple juice. The syrup obtained promises to be a welcome addition to our diet. The other method of disposing of the surplus of apples is the manufacture of concentrated cider. Hitherto the market for cider has been limited, due to the fact that it can only be kept sweet for short time and that its bulk makes its transportation too expensive when long distances are to be covered. The concentrated cider ferments slowly when kept at a low temperature. When diluted with water it practically has the same flavor as the original apple juice from which it was made, and its condensed form makes it much cheaper to ship.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

If you want a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after-effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

RUSSIANS GAIN A BIG VICTORY

Petrograd, March 21.—The Russians have succeeded in delivering the first blow of their spring campaign inside German territory.

The lower Niemen is now flooding the wide stretches of the German left wing from its base at Koenigsberg, whence it is now impossible to send reinforcements westward.

A week ago the Russians began pressing the Germans through the Taugrogen region toward Tilsit and further north across the frontier upon Memel. Some of the German horsemen were drowned in the Niemen and the main body had to struggle northward and westward toward the coast of the Kurische Haf.

The Russian advance ended in a complete victory on Thursday evening, when they occupied Memel. The Germans on the southern frontier of East Prussia attempted a surprise attack with large forces at Milschene, along the Rossow river in the direction of Ostrolenka. They hurried forward in strong force at dawn of Friday. The Russians let them come to the first line of barbed wire and then machine guns and infantry on the flank poured murderous volleys into their ranks during the head of the column back among its supports.

The entire invasion was driven in disorder back to the frontier by early afternoon, leaving thousands dead. The Przemysl garrison poured out no less than 20,000 shells during Thursday night, firing to the north and south. Then half of the garrison made a sudden sortie at dawn to the eastward and attempted to drive off the besiegers. The effort was a complete failure. The Austrians lost heavily in dead and more than 6,000 prisoners. Many of these were miserably underfed and accepted capture with infinite relief.

The Russians shot down an aeroplane at Dembitz, midway between Przemysl and Cracow. The aviator was carrying important documents from the commandant at Przemysl to the commandant at Cracow.

ADVANCE OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY PROGRESSING
Petrograd, March 21, via London, March 22, 2:20 a. m.—The war office tonight issued the following official communication:

"From the Middle Niemen, the Russian advance continues successfully. On the other parts of the front on the right and left banks of the Vistula and in east Galicia there is no important change.

"In the Carpathians considerable success has been obtained, in the Svidnik and Smoleck districts, where the Russians secured in several regions the enemy's principal positions.

"The Russians have taken 2,400 prisoners, forty-six of them officers, and two guns and five machine guns. All the enemy's attacks in the direction of Usok and Munkacs have been repulsed.

"Near Przemysl there was energetic firing. On the western front here the Russians captured the village of Krasinski. All around the fort the garrison has been driven from the line of its fortifications.

Russian Victory.
Bucharest, March 21.—A telegram from the Bukovina frontier announces a new Russian victory. The Austrians have been driven with great losses from both Bokjan and Mahala. A large number of prisoners were taken by the Russians, who are rapidly advancing upon Czerowitz.

The Austrians have reinforced the Bukovina capital with three additional regiments of infantry.

Turks Repulsed.
Petrograd, March 21, via London, March 22, 2:44 a. m.—An official communication from the headquarters of the army of Caucasus says:

"We have repulsed attempts of the Turks to take the offensive in the coast region. In the district of Teboruk after an engagement the Turks were driven toward Artvin.

"In the region between Ardanduch and Olti the Turks are falling back to the westward. In the valley of Alshagerd we occupied two important points after an engagement in which the Turks were put to flight.

AMERICANS FIRE ON GERMAN SHIP

San Juan, Porto Rico, March 21.—The Hamburg-American steamer Odenwald, which has been running in and out of this port since the outbreak of the war and which was suspected of carrying supplies to the German sea raider Karlsruhe when she was in the West Indies, was fired on by the United States gunners at El Morro today when she attempted to leave without clearance papers.

She was struck by a shell, but suffered no serious injury and returned to port.

The Odenwald left this port some time ago with 10,000 tons of coal and returned shortly afterward with her bunkers practically empty. On that occasion she went out without clearance papers, and it was reported that the American officer in charge of the port had informed the captain of the Odenwald that if he tried that game again he would fire on the ship. The captain of the Odenwald applied for clearance papers on March 18 and they were refused, pending instructions from Washington. He started out without them today and the American commander kept his word.

The speaker declared that he is aware that several churches claim to be Catholic, each reproaching the others as heretics; that he holds that the word catholic means general, and when the word is limited by the use of the terms Greek, Anglican, Roman, etc., to that extent true Catholicism is denied. In other words, he believes that the one catholic, or universal, or general, Church of Christ is that mentioned in the Bible—"The Church of the First-born, whose names are written in Heaven." If this be admitted, his next proposition is that the Lord records as members of His true Church all saintly persons in all denominations and out of all denominations—and no others.

The spirit of sectarianism, he declared, began to manifest itself in St. Paul's day. The Apostle, in writing to the Corinthian Church, deplored that spirit of division which was creeping into the Church, and showed that it resulted from a failure to recognize the true Head of the Church, His true representatives and His true members. The trouble is the same today. The entire foundation of divided Christianity would disappear and the true Church would be speedily manifest, if truth Catholicity were acknowledged.

The great obstacle to true Christian unity, the speaker holds, is the erroneous doctrine of the eternal torture of all non-church members. Many of the theories that have come down from the Dark Ages were not taught by Jesus and the Apostles. The catholic Church, the true saints of God of all denominations, should promptly move back to the foundation doctrines Divinely provided in the Scriptures. The voice of God to the Church came through "the twelve Apostles of the Lamb." All others so claiming are denounced by Jesus Himself as false.—Rev. 2:2.

The Church Founded Upon the Rock.
From his context the Pastor showed that on one occasion St. Peter had made the first public declaration of Jesus' Messiahship. Jesus replied in the words of the text. In the Greek text a small stone, while the word pointed rock signifies a foundation stone. What Jesus evidently meant was that St. Peter's statement was a recognition of the Master as the great Foundation of the Divine Plan—the Messiah. Upon that foundation truth—that Jesus is Christ—the Church would be built, and St. Peter was the first who by confession became of the living stones (1 Peter 2:5) to build himself upon that Foundation. St. Peter himself gives us this thought—that he and all other members of the Church are living stones, being built into a holy Temple of God.

The entire Gospel Age has been devoted to finding and building these stones upon that great foundation Truth—Rock. As soon as the Temple is completed, the New Dispensation will be inaugurated. The gates of Hell—Hades, the tomb—shall not prevail against the Church; for they shall come forth in the First Resurrection.

The Keys of the Kingdom. The keys of the Kingdom, the speaker explained, are Scripturally shown to be two in number and used in two different opening works. A key is symbolic of authority. St. Peter used his first key of privilege on Pentecost, when he opened the door of the Church of Christ to the Jews. Three years and a half later he used the second key to the Kingdom of Heaven—the Church, the embryo Kingdom preparing for glory. At the home of Cornelius, St. Peter opened another door of opportunity, through which have been admitted believing Gentiles—"that the Gentiles might be fellow-heirs with the Jews to the Promise."

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH ST. PETER'S KINGDOM KEYS

Pastor Russell Claims to Be a True Catholic.

The Catholic Church—Its Divine Foundation—Apostolic Authority—St. Peter's Keys—How He Used Them. How "Keys of the Kingdom"—What Power and Authority Given the Apostles—May Sins Be Absolved?

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—Of Pastor Russell's two discourses here today we report the one on Matthew 16:18, 19. "Upon this rock will I build My Church; and the gates of Hell (Hades, the grave) shall not prevail against it. And I will give thee the keys of the Kingdom."

For some unaccountable reason, the Pastor began, numerous Catholics have gotten the thought that I am their foe, just as Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians, Baptists, etc., have the impression that I am their foe. I am a foe to no human being, especially to no Christian. He then expatiated at length that he fully believes in Free Grace, Election, Imposition, etc., and at the same time showed wherein he differs from the various denominations on these important doctrines. Similarly, he declared, he holds the great Catholic doctrine that there is only one true Church, founded by the Lord Jesus Christ, through His Apostles, nineteen centuries ago.

The speaker declared that he is aware that several churches claim to be Catholic, each reproaching the others as heretics; that he holds that the word catholic means general, and when the word is limited by the use of the terms Greek, Anglican, Roman, etc., to that extent true Catholicism is denied. In other words, he believes that the one catholic, or universal, or general, Church of Christ is that mentioned in the Bible—"The Church of the First-born, whose names are written in Heaven." However, before I do so permit me to express my deep gratitude to you and through you to the president and the other officials and the people of America for the cordiality and kindness shown me. I will return with the message of your good will toward Japan with a full assurance that will cement the friendly relations between you and my country.

Your kind telegram just received. Your visit to the United States gave renewed assurance of the cordial friendship existing between our two countries and we are gratified to learn that your stay among us has given you pleasure. Allow me to say in return that our people have been favorably impressed by your personality and by the speeches which you have made. Your coming has given additional proof of the advantage derived from an exchange of visits. May you have a safe and prosperous voyage home. Accept my sincere good wishes for yourself and countrymen.

BAROMETER.
A long-winded narrator had droned on at the club the other night for an hour or more about his recent trip to Switzerland.

"There I stood, gentlemen," he said, "there I stood with the abyss yawning in front of me."

"Pardon me," hastily interjected one of the unfortunates who had been obliged to listen to the story, "but was that abyss yawning before you got there?"

DRY CLEANING

FORTS ARE NOT MUCH DAMAGED

Constantinople, via London, March 21, 7:45 p. m.—An official statement issued today from Turkish headquarters says:

"Observations made during the battle in the Dardanelles established that the French battleship Bouvet was struck by two heavy bombs. Five of our grenades reached the Queen Elizabeth and four the Inflexible.

"On our side only one long range gun was damaged and about twenty soldiers killed.

"The enemy attempted no action today against the Dardanelles."

AMERICAN STEAMER STOPPED.
New York, March 22.—The American steamer Santa Clara, outward bound for Havana, was stopped today by a shot fired across her bows in the lower harbor by the dispatch boat Dolphin, stationed there to watch outgoing steamers and preserve American neutrality at this port. A mistake in the interpretation of signals and the failure of the Santa Clara to stop brought the Dolphin's guns to bear upon her. She was promptly released and proceeded.
