Pastor Edwards Expects Big Audiences at All the Sunday Services

HAS "SUMMER SERMON" FOR EVENING SERVICE

Hope Baptist Church has enjoyed unusual success this week. From a point of view of attendance the church services last Sunday morning and evening were the best of the summer. The Bible school attendance was the largest for sometime. And to complete the list Wednesday evening brought out the banner crowd at the mid-week prayer service, despite the threatening weather. Tomorrow promises to offer something better.

Pastor Edwards expects to preach to the most attentive and appreciative audience yet before him tomorrow morning when he discusses the topic, "The Utopia of Attainment," Phil. 4-11. In the Bible school an increase of interest and numbers are assured. A Bible teacher has volunteered to take charge of the family of girls that has been waiting for a teacher for several weeks. An adult Bible class is also in the process of formation. The class will meet tomorrow with the school.

At 7:45 o'clock or as soon as the crowd gathers, the song service will begin. Only old time hymns will be sung. Since an interested worker presented the church with an additional number of palm leaf fans the service tomorrow evening will be pleasant. The pastor will preach a summer sermon on, "The Other Man's Opinion."

Aid Society Outing.
The Ladies Aid Society of East Lake M. E. Church held their annual picnic on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ward, Upland, Pa. Those who enjoyed the day's outing were: Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Harry, John, Clarence, Graham, Louis and Helen Ward, Mrs. Albert Ward and children, all of Upland; Francis Casey, of Philadelphia; Dorothy McDowell, of Smyrna; Mrs. Walter Keen, Eunice Keen, Freda Keen, Miss Rachel Metcalf, Miss Viola Keen, Mrs. W. J. Keen, Mrs. Jennie Barnes, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. W. R. Hogue, Mrs. H. C. Parrish, Miss Anna H. Parrish, Mrs. Thomas H. Barnes, Miss Cornelia H. Entriken, Mrs. Lenderman, Mrs. Shultz, the Rev. and Mrs. Richard Bickling, Master Paul Bickling, and Mrs. Willard Wright.

First Presbyterian Church.
All of the regular services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, Market street, above Ninth, tomorrow. Public worship and preaching by the pastor, the Rev. J. Ross Stoner, at 10:30 a. m., and 7:45 p. m. The morning subject will be "A Three-fold Heart Test," evening subject: "A Thorn Wound—Disciplined by a Trifle." Sunday school will be held at 11:45 a. m., and prayer meeting on Wednesday at 8 p. m. During the work of improving the auditorium all services are being held in the lecture room.

DR. RORER AT WEST CHURCH

At West Presbyterian Church, tomorrow, the preacher for the day will be the Rev. Chas. H. Rorer, D. D., of Norristown, Pa. The services will be at 11 and 7:30 o'clock, each continuing for one hour.

The Sabbath School and Westminster Adult Club will meet at 10 A. M. Dr. Rorer will speak to the Westminster class.

VISITING PREACHER
AT AVENUE CHURCH

The Rev. Joseph R. Wood, of Frankford, Pa., will occupy the pulpit of Delaware Avenue Baptist Church tomorrow. Miss Robb will sing a solo at the morning service, and Mrs. Kaufman will sing at the evening service.

The Ushers Union has had two new electric lamps placed on the posts at the main entrance to the church, which not only add to the beauty but also illuminates the entrance better than ever. There are other features of improvement in anticipation. Two new signs have been placed on the building, one at the main entrance, and one on the Delaware Avenue side.

The Wednesday evening prayer meetings are well attended, and the Y. P. S. C. E. is holding helpful and inspiring meetings.

THE SON OF GOD
BROOKLYN ABERNACLE
BIBLE STUDIES

THE GREATEST—THE SERVANT.
Matthew 26: 17-34.
"The Son of man came not to minister and to give his life a ransom for many."

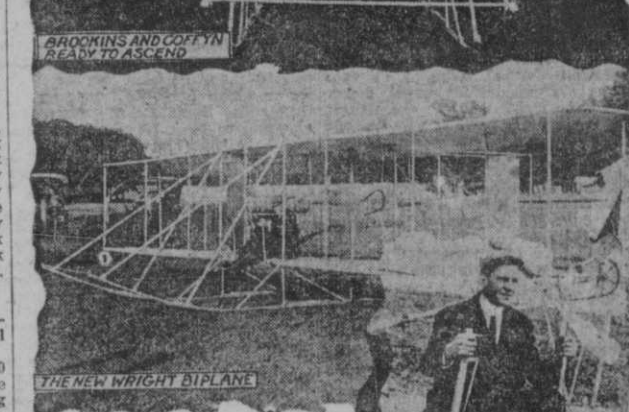

Ambition moves the world—selfish ambition. A certain kind of ambition—to please God and to have his rewards, is encouraged by the exceeding great and precious promise with which God's Word. Think of the use held out to the consecrated, a faithful unto death, they shall receive the "crown of life," immortality, and attain a place with their Master in his Throne as partakers in his glories and honors of his Kingdom! There is no earthly appeal to ambition so strong as this, which comes from the Creator to such as have the hearing ear of faith. Nevertheless, the ambitions awakened by these promises, we are warned, might become our snare. The very condition upon which we may attain the Kingdom is our faithful endurance of shame, contempt, misunderstanding, and our demonstration to the last of humility and absolute loyalty to God and full resignation to his providence. In his coming Kingdom, for which we pray, "Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as in heaven," must humble himself under the mighty hand of God that he may be exalted in due time.—1 Peter 5:6. The prospect of the Kingdom was bright before the minds of the apostles, even when Jesus was foretelling his ignominious sufferings and death; so that two of his beloved followers, James and John, through their mother, importuned a promise that they should sit, one on the right hand and the other on the left, of the Great King when his Kingdom should be established.

This request drew from the Great Teacher the suggestion that his loving and ambitious disciples had, perhaps, not fully counted the cost of such exaltation. He inquired if they were willing to drink of his cup of ignominy and reproach and if they were willing to be baptized with his baptism, into his death—the sacrifice of all earthly interests. They had counted the cost, and promptly responded as to their willingness. They had learned the lesson of the Great Teacher. He assured them that with this willingness of mind the privilege would be theirs of sharing his ignominy and his death and of sitting with him on his Throne. But as respects the chief positions, they were not at his disposal. At the conclusion of the teachings of his people, these positions of highest honor in the Kingdom next to himself will be given according to the just standards which the Father has prepared and established. How we can rejoice with those apostles in the fullness of their consecration and in the assurances of the Master! And we also should strive by faithfulness to attain a place with the Master in his Throne, as members of his body, his Church.

The ambition of James and John was shown in their desire for places of special nearness to the Lord. Jesus did not reprove them specifically, but he held the lovely and disinterested chief places of honor they were to receive. The Master took advantage of the incident to show how different is God's judgment from that of men. With men the aggressive and powerful hold the lordship and domination over others, but in the Divine arrangement the order is reversed. God will honor most and put in the highest positions, the humble, the submissive, the meek. On this incident the Lord based a general instruction to his followers on the necessity for humility. We are to take the Divine standpoint and honor most in the Church those who most serve the Church, and not those who demand service and honors and seek self-exaltation. Our Lord pointed to his own course as an illustration; they acknowledged him as their Master, yet he had served them so much as did he. Indeed, he came into the world not to be served, but to serve others, even to the extent of laying down his life as the ransom price for the many, for the world, to be applied for their release from sin and death, and domination in God's due time—during the Messianic Kingdom.

Journeying on the Master had an opportunity of exemplifying his position as a servant. Two blind men, learning that he was passing, exercised such faith that they hailed him as the Messiah, the Son of David, entreating Mercy, Help, Relief. Instead of passing them by, saying, You are only blind beggars, anyway, the Master stopped and called them to him and, in response to their request, touched their eyes, and immediately they received sight. Other Scriptures indicate that the Great Teacher's miracles were not performed without cost to himself. "Virtue (virtually) went out of him and healed them all." (Luke 6:19.)

He who was rich, for our sakes became poor, humbling himself to serve the humblest and poorest of unfortunates. Here we have an illustration of the spirit of meekness, the spirit of service, which must characterize the hearts, and, in some degree, control the lives of all true followers, disciples of the Great Teacher. If it is not in our power to open the eyes of the physically blind, it is in our power to help many to a clearer insight into the things of God which the natural eye hath not seen, nor ear heard—the things which God hath in reservation for them that love him and that, loving him, follow in the footsteps of Jesus.—1 Cor. 2:9. Let us, then, seek the true, God-given ambition; but let us specially seek to know and to do the will of our Father in heaven.

Wright's New Biplane
Being Used by Brookins

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 20.—Wright brothers' new aeroplane without front elevating planes is now being used by Walter Brookins in his flights at Interlaken field. The new machine is the result of experiments by the Wright brothers to secure greater steadiness. It is frankly a freak machine, with but a small elevating plane in connection with the tail and is capable of carry four persons besides the pilot. Brookins seems to have lost none of his nerve as the result of his recent accident, in which eleven spectators besides himself were injured, when his machine was badly smashed in alighting. The inventors expect to make some record flights with the new machine and may attempt to take the laurels from A. J. Drexel, Jr., for altitude.

"The School That Teaches Business Success."

SELECTING A SCHOOL!

In most states private schools are not regulated by law, but the best commercial schools have taken steps to protect the public against incompetent teachers.

For instance of the 12 teachers now employed by 10 are graduates of high schools, academies, or colleges; 8 have had experience as public school teachers, and all who teach bookkeeping, shorthand or typewriting are graduates of high-grade commercial schools.

Mr. Douglas, the principal of the commercial department, is a trained and experienced teacher, and also a skillful accountant. His work in rapid calculations has attracted wide attention.

Mr. Fuller, principal of the shorthand and department, holds an "honor grade" certificate of proficiency from the publishers of the Bann Pitman system of shorthand, and is a skillful and experienced reporter.

The foregoing facts will help you to make a wise selection of the school you are to attend. Our catalogue, mailed free upon request, gives complete information. Call, telephone, or write.

PREPARING FOR CHANNEL WORK

Proposals Will be Opened Soon for Dredging Bends in Delaware River

$450,000 TO BE SPENT ON WORK

Major Herbert F. Deakne, United States engineer, expects to begin the work on deepening and widening the Delaware river channel at the bends to a depth of thirty-five feet and a width of 1,000 feet in the latter part of September or early in October. Proposals will be opened on September 15 for the dredging, and a contract will be awarded as soon thereafter as a recommendation with reference to the contractor, from Major Deakne's office in this city, can be approved by the chief of engineers in Washington.

There is available for the beginning of the deeper channel work the sum of $450,000, and as the bends of the channel are most difficult to navigate, the money is to be expended at those places in making a start on the thirty-five-foot channel.

It is hoped that the sum now available will be sufficient to deepen and widen the channel at all the worst bends between Philadelphia and deep water in Delaware bay.

The specifications call for dredging at six bends, as follows:
In the horseshoe, just below Gloucester, at the intersection of the upper and lower horseshoe ranges; at the lower end of League Island, at the mouth of the Schuylkill river, where the lower horseshoe and Millfin ranges intersect; at the upper end of Tinicum Island, just below Lincoln Park, the turn from the Millfin range into the Tinicum range; opposite Edgemoor, above Chester, where the Tinicum and Schooner ledge ranges meet; above Pea Patch Island, on which Port Delaware is situated, between New Castle and Delaware City; the intersection of the deep-water point, and New Castle ranges and at Salem cove, between Delaware City and Reedy Island, the angle of the New Castle and Reedy Island ranges.

There are several other bends in the channel, but they are not so difficult to turn as those named above. Full depth of 35 feet.

As the available appropriation will probably not be sufficient to improve all, the worst six were selected for improvement at this time. At each turn, excepting one, the channel will be dredged to the full depth, or thirty-five feet, and will be widened from the present width of 600 feet to 1000 feet. The exception is the sharp bend above Pea Patch Island, where the angle is almost 90 degrees. At that point the width will be 1200 feet instead of 1000.

Before the dredging season closes, about Christmas time, it is hoped that about one-quarter of the work of improving the bends will be finished. Much depends on the size of the plant which the successful bidder for the work may own. If enough dredges are available, one will be put to work at each turn.

Two government dredges are now at work on the river channel, and as there is more than they can do to maintain the thirty-foot depth in the straight stretches of the channel, they will not be used on the improvements at the bends. The dredge Manhattan, which has been stationed at New York, arrived in the Delaware channel at Duck Creek flats, at the head of the bay. The Manhattan is a dredge boat of the same general style as the Delaware, which is permanently employed at work on the maintenance of the channel, but has not so great a capacity as the Delaware.

Pastor Koons Back.
The Rev. W. G. Koons, pastor of Scott M. E. Church, returned from his vacation today and will fill his pulpit tomorrow.
