BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES OLD TESTAMENT TIMES

THE VERY GREATEST PROPHET. Luke 1, 57-80-Jan. 14. "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, For He hath Visited and Redeemed His People."--V. 68.

"Verily I say unto you, of those born of women there hath not risen a greater Prophet than John the Baptist; and yet I say unto you that the least in the Kingdom of God is greater than he." (Luke vii, 28.) These words are valuable as showing us that John was the last of the Prophets announcing the coming of Messiah and the beginning of the great work of selecting from amongst sinners a royal class; to be associated with the Redeemer in His Messianic Kingdom and glory.

The Prophecy of Zacharias. In harmony with the message of the Angel Gabriel, John the Baptist was born. The family relatives uttered the name of his father, but the father and mother named him John, and immediately Zacharias' dumbness departed. He had triumphed over all doubts. The name John has a beautiful significance--"The favor of God."

St. Peter distinctly tells us respecting the Old Testament Prophets, that "Holy men of old spake and wrote as they were moved by the Holy Spirit." He intimates that frequently they uttered deeper and broader truths than they themselves comprehended--truths which only the future would fully reveal. This is true of the Prophecy of Zacharias, in this lesson. Verses 68-70 constitute the first division of this prophecy, praise to God, the Fountain of every good and perfect gift, comes first. To Him all honor and praise are to be given for the fulfillment of His gracious promises of old, "for He hath visited and brought redemption to His people; He hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of His servant David," in harmony with the promises. Here, after the usual manner of prophecies, the thing about to be accomplished is spoken of as though it had been done.

As John the Baptist was born but six months before Jesus, it follows that the begetting of Jesus had already taken place at the time of this prophecy. The Holy Spirit spoke of the things begun, but not yet accomplished, as though finished. "He has visited and brought redemption to His people." This word redemption applies not only to the redeeming work accomplished by Jesus in the consecration of His life, at baptism and down to the completion of His sacrifice at Calvary, but it is comprehensive enough to take in the entire work of reclaiming humanity.

A small section of our race, the "elect," is being reclaimed during this Gospel Age; but the Scriptures assure us that the Messianic reign of a thousand years will all be for the purpose of redeeming or bringing back from the power of the great Atonement, and so many of his children as shall be willing to accept the Divine favor, when brought to their knowledge. The import, therefore, of this first strophe or section of the poetic prophecy is, The Lord be praised that the time has come for the great blessing which He long ago promised.

The second section or strophe of this prophetic poem--runs from verse 71 to 75. It relates to the deliverance of God's people from the power of their enemies. One important thought here is that none but God's people will ever be delivered from the enemies here referred to. However, there have been many in the past, as there are at present, enemies through wickedness, but because blinded by the god of this world, the devilfulness of riches, the weaknesses of their fallen flesh, etc.

During Messiah's reign of a thousand years, when all the blind eyes will be opened, and all the deaf ears will be unstopped, and when the knowledge of the glory of God's character will be clearly revealed and the horrors of sin fully manifested--then many, now led captive by Satan at his will, will bow the knee to Emmanuel and confess to the glory of God. In other words, as Jesus said, His consecrated followers are His church, sitting in the shadow of death. This "Day Star" guides the feet of the saints in the way of peace, even while still in time of trouble and before the New Dispensation is ushered in.

may be one fold and one Shepherd."--John x, 16.

"One fold and one Shepherd" does not signify that all of the sheep will be of the same nature. On the contrary, the Apostle tells us that God's Plan is ultimately to "gather together under one Head (Shepherd) all things, both in heaven and in earth." (Ephesians i, 10.) Of these "all things" the Church, the Bride, will be chief, on the plane of divine nature. The Great Company, cherubim and angels will follow in order, and redeemed and restored mankind in human perfection will be the lowest order in the Divine fold.

St. Paul tells us about the enemies from whom ultimately all of God's people shall be delivered. Satan is an enemy. He shall be bound for a thousand years and ultimately shall be destroyed. Sin is an enemy, which will be stamped out in its various phases during Messiah's Kingdom. And we read, "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death"--and with it will go the tomb. Adam's death will be no more. None will be under its power. The resurrection power will release all. Only those who sin wilfully, deliberately, will die the Second Death, which is not an enemy.

The Preparatory Work. The third section or strophe of this prophetic poem tells us of a work to be accomplished before the grand consummation of the destruction of all enemies and the lifting up of all accounted worthy to be sons of God. This is recorded in verses 76-79. It tells how John the Baptist would be the forerunner of the Lord's special Servant, Jesus, to pave the way for the great work. That great work would be to give the knowledge of salvation to thousands who were already God's people, to show them the "high calling" of this present Age.

Thus in God's tender mercy the Church sees and is enlightened by the "Morning Star" or "Day Star" before the Sun of Righteousness arises to scatter the darkness of mankind during Messiah's reign. This lesser light of the present time shines into the hearts of believers with sanctifying power and sets them afire with zeal for the Truth. They in turn shine forth upon those who are sitting in the shadow of death. This "Day Star" guides the feet of the saints in the way of peace, even while still in time of trouble and before the New Dispensation is ushered in.

Sore Throat Don'ts.

When the children have sore throat, don't blister their necks with lamp oil, don't torture them with a foul smelling piece of fat meat, wrapped about the neck. Don't imagine there is medical virtue in an old sock or piece of red flannel. Don't believe in antiquated superstitions. A sore throat is a serious matter and is not to be healed by such make-believe remedies. The use of such methods is simply putting the patient to needless torture. Use a little sore throat wisdom and give them TONSILINE and the throat will heal quickly. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.
