THE DISMISSAL OF WILSON.

The administration has made no mistake in accepting the resignation of Ambassador Wilson. If for no other reason than to rebuke the diplomat for his part in the intrigue which led up to the assassination of Madero, Wilson should have been dismissed from public service.

Huerta has said he will resent any interference by the United States, therefore, he cannot object to this country failing to recognize his administration.

There are those who maintain that, inasmuch as the United States acknowledged the republic of China, whose president is in a class with Huerta as an assassin, we should do likewise with the present Mexican ruler, but the parallel is not complete.

Of course, if we favor peace in Mexico by assassination, then the recognizing of Huerta would be the proper course to follow.

SALT LAKE'S POSTERS WERE FUNNY.

Dr. A. E. Winslip, editor of the Boston Journal of Education, was present at the National Educational association sessions in Salt Lake and he carried home with him some amusing impressions, and one which he calls "funny to the limit," is thus related:

Absolutely the funniest thing on record was the placing of these posters all over the city by the chief of police: "During the N. E. A. convention thousands will visit our city. Gatherings of this kind bring professional pickpockets, race horse touts, dollar matchers, and all kinds of undesirable characters, therefore a word of warning is considered advisable. Look out for dollar matchers."

WHEN LAWS AND PARKS CAN BE INCREASED.

Ogden is becoming a city of beautiful lawns. But the extending of the lawns and the parking of the sidewalk areas had reached a limit when the city commissioners found it necessary, in guarding the city from fire dangers, to once more restrict the people in the watering of lawns.

Now that Ogden is to have a surplus of water, it might be a good plan to proceed to park the center of many of our streets, which are too wide to be kept in the best of repair except same crew of panic-breeders President Wilson had in mind of a time when he threatened to hang "some one high as Haman" Perhaps, but whosoever they are should be dragged out of their treason holes and set out in the open that the scorn of an outraged people may be justly visited upon them.

The Storm on Galilee's Sea Furnishes Text For a Discourse—Acts as Well as Words of Jesus Parabolic—The Storm as a Type—The Master and His Disciples as Types—Quelling the Storm a Type—Also the Great Calm.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Aboard "The Empress of Ireland," on the Atlantic, July 27—

"There arose a great tempest in the sea... but He was asleep. And His disciples awoke Him, saying, Lord, save us; we perish. Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm."

The Bible informs us that Jesus' teachings were parabolic. The Master explained some of His actions and words to His disciples, and told them that they alone were permitted to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven.

Since Pentecost, therefore, Jesus' followers can understand His teaching in a way that His earliest followers could not. It was not expedient that natural men should understand clearly the Divine Plan.

This was a blessing; for if they had done those things under full light and knowledge, their guilt would have been much greater. They are, therefore, to be punished according to their limited light and knowledge.

The same principle obtains respecting the whole world, light increases responsibility. He that knoweth the Master's will, and did it not, shall receive many stripes; he that knew not the Master's will, and did things worthy of stripes, shall receive few stripes.

Our lesson typically considered, the boat would represent the Gospel Dispensation; the Master asleep, the Lord's apparent indifference to the storms of persecution assailing His Church; the disciples' imploring cry, the prayers of the Church throughout the Age.

After our Lord's ascension, storms of persecution followed one another until the history of the true Church has been marked by severe trials of patience and faith. Often the Lord's people have wondered at the afflictions permitted to come upon them.

We might reason that if God had raised the storm which frightened experienced fishermen, surely Jesus would not have worked contrary to the Divine arrangement. We might also reason that Satan, "the Prince of the Power of the Air," might have thought, to thwart the Divine arrangement respecting Jesus' crucifixion.

Storm of Trouble is Near. Bible students are convinced that the great storm of trouble upon the Church is very near. We need not prophesy concerning its character. We are to remember, however, that the majority of the storms upon the Church have come from professed people of God, rather than from the world.

Our expectation is that the Church will have its most trying experiences from professed brethren. Church Federation has a sincere and innocent look; but is not its purpose and object to fortify sectarianism? Should we not expect that, when it shall gain the measure of political influence and power indicated in the symbolic book of Revelation, those holding a simple faith in God and His Word, and striving to walk the narrow way, will be misrepresented, slandered and eventually hindered from the Lord's service?

The Lord seems to indicate that His Church will be perfected on the Heavenly plane before the world's tribulation shall break in fury. True, the Church may escape in the sense of being enabled to flee above the trouble—unaffected by it; but we think not. We believe that the Church will have passed into glory before the culmination of the world's Day of Wrath.

SEARCHING FOR PARRY

Escaped Convict Evades Many Pursuing Posses—May Have Crossed Mountains Into Uintah—Officers Follow All Clues.

Salt Lake, Aug. 4.—George W. Parry, life convict and human fiend, who escaped from the state prison between 10:15 o'clock Friday night and 5:30 o'clock Saturday morning is still at large. Posses searching canyons and ravines along the foothills of the Wasatch mountains from Parleys to Centerville canyon had found no trace of Parry up to a late hour last night, though the manhunt for the most dangerous convict that ever escaped from the prison commenced Saturday and continued through the night almost without interruption.

What is considered the most substantial clue in reference to the source taken by Parry after his mysterious escape from the penitentiary was received about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the state prison. About 8 o'clock Saturday morning before the alarm of Parry's escape had been spread, a man resembling the description of Parry and attired in gray trousers, similar to those of the prison garb, and a black coat, called at the little summer camp of Alma F. Thornberg, eight miles above the mouth of Parleys canyon.

"I am going to take a long journey over the mountains to get work," said the man addressing Thornberg. "Wonder if you couldn't let me have a little food—scraps will do as long as it's food."

The stranger was asked if he did not desire to have breakfast. He declined the invitation, appearing to be highly nervous. While a package of meat and bread and a few hard boiled eggs was being put up for him he stood in the canyon roadway and frequently looked behind him. He scribbled a note in a large handkerchief, after the fashion of an itinerant tramp, and hurried up the canyon.

Scarcely had Deputy Warden A. G. Ure been informed of the description of the stranger who called at the Thornberg summer camp than he sent out an urgent call to get the prison automobile ready at once. Four guards went into the machine with him. Ure stopped at the Thornberg camp only long enough to have his suspicion strengthened that Saturday morning's early caller may have been Parry.

RELIGION CLASS AT GLENWOOD

Plans for the celebration at Glenwood, Wednesday, of the Weber Stake Religion class have been completed and the indications are that all who participate will have an enjoyable time.

From 10 a. m. until noon there will be music and speeches after which the picnic luncheon will be eaten beneath the trees. In the afternoon there will be races of various kinds and contests, including a nail driving contest for the married ladies.

There will be a number of Shetland ponies on the grounds for the pleasure of the children and there will be a matinee dance in the pavilion. No admission to the grounds will be charged and parents are urged to bring the children.

The outing of the North Weber Stake Mutual Improvement association at the Hermitage on August 6, promises to eclipse all other outings of the association in popularity. Some of the extraordinary contests will consist of a needle-threading competition and also an apple paring race. Button sewers will also be given opportunities of showing their skill.

WORLD'S MARKETS

WALL STREET. New York, Aug. 4.—Crop conditions, especially those affecting corn, exerted more influence over today's dull market than any factor in the stock market itself. Little relief from drought was reported from the corn belts and options again rose excitedly.

Dealings in stocks were exceedingly light and enlisted no outside interest. Leading issues were practically unchanged. New low records were made by United States Express and Loosa, latter losing six points.

Wiles Biscuits, first preferred, the initial dealings in stocks today pointed to a continuance of record prices. Changes in all instances were fractional, most of the active issues showing a drooping tendency. Erie, Baltimore & Ohio, Reading and Norfolk & Western were firm. Union Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated Copper eased off.

Chicago Grain. Chicago, Aug. 4.—Whether corn would go above 70 cents a bushel was settled today in the first minute. The market shot up to that level in the very first trade, and soon was beyond drought, already the most severe in twenty years, promised to continue all the present week, according to the government forecast. As a result the volume of buying today took on huge proportions. The opening was 3-8 to 1-1-8 higher than Saturday night's close. September, which started at 70 to 70 1-2c, a gain of 3-8 to 1c, rose to 71 1-4c in almost a vertical line. Other grain bulged with corn. Wheat was also affected bullishly by unfavorable harvest reports from southeastern Europe and by diminishing receipts in the American northwest. September opened a shade to 1-18@1-4c higher at 88 1-8@88 1-4c and rose to 88c.

Oats developed independent strength on account of assertions that threshing returns showed light weights and small yields. September started 3-8c up at 43 3-4c and steadied around 43 3-8c. Provisions showed much irregularity. Corn scarcely tended to make distant options firm, but led to semi-panic weakness in nearby deliveries, especially September pork, which dropped 60c to $20.50. First sales on the market as a whole varied from 37 1-2c off to 17 1-2c advance with September, as follows: Pork, $20.50 1-2 to $20.60; lard, $11.45 to $11.47 1-2; ribs, $11.37 1-2 to $11.42 1-2.

Corn—The upturn continued still further, but then prices fell off in consequence of heavy sales to realize profits and as a result of showers at several low points. The close was nervous, with September at 69 5-8 to 69 3-4c, the same as Saturday night, to 1-4c higher. Wheat—After a further gain the market reacted with corn and because of an immense increase in the visible supply total. The close was weak, with September 1-2@5-8c lower at $7.5-8c.
