THE GRANDEST OF INAUGURATIONS

Inauguration of Messiah's Kingdom Will Eclipse All Others.

It Will Be a Marriage Feast and an Inaugural Ceremony Combined—Jesus' Victory Through Death Constituted His Divine Election to Be King of Kings and Lord of Lords—Immediately He Betrothed a Bride—Centuries of Wedding Garment Preparation.

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Pastor Russell arrived here this morning on his return from Panama, Kingston, Havana, Key West, Tampa and Pensacola. He took for his text Jesus' words, "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the Throne of His glory." (Matthew 25:31.) He said:

When six thousand years ago man transgressed the Divine command and came under the sentence, "Dying thou shalt die," he was cast out of Eden, that in the unprepared earth he might pay the death penalty. Even then, in the declaration that the Seed of the woman would eventually bruise the serpent's head, God implied an ultimate victory for humanity over Satan, sin and death.

Later, God's Covenant with Abraham told that victory would come through his posterity, but did not explain how. Centuries later, Abraham's favored posterity, Israel, came into Covenant relationship with God through Moses. Their hope was to keep God's Law so thoroughly as to merit everlasting life, and be competent to deliver humanity from sin and death. However, centuries of effort proved that none could keep the Divine Law satisfactorily.

The next Divine lesson was one of faith. Israel could not keep the Law satisfactorily—could not, therefore, have everlasting life, could not teach others to do what they could not do. The lesson of faith was that they should look forward to a coming Messiah—"a Prince and a Savior."

Various were their hopes respecting Messiah. The promises were scanned to note something concerning Him. Through the prophets God foretold that Messiah was to be the antitype of both David and Solomon, of Aaron and Melchizedek—very great. He was to reign from sea to sea (Psalm 72:8).

Israel looked forward with pride to the day when Messiah would exalt them very highly in the earth, and associate them with Himself in blessing all people. These good hopes have held them together as no other people have ever been held. They are still waiting, though disconcerted by the evidences that others are in some respect more favored than they.

Messiah and the Jubilee at Hand.

At last Israel's Star of Hope is rising! At last the prophecies tell that her morning of joy is about to dawn; and that "the desire of all nations shall come." Not merely are Jews claiming that Messiah's Day is nigh; but Christian Bible students see the same. Mohammedans also see Free Masons claim the same. All men are in expectation of something wonderful.

The multiplied blessings in the inventions of the last half-century bespeak the New Dispensation. If the preparations are so grand, what will be the Inauguration and Reign itself!

Inauguration Scene of Our Text.

Leading in the grand procession picture is the Son of Man, following whom are all the holy messengers; but with Him upon His Throne will be His Bride class—a scanty few. Thus it is written: "When Christ . . . shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory."—Col. 3:4; Rev. 3:21.

Grand as have been the inaugural ceremonies of the past week, they were as nothing, contrasted with the glorious crowning Day for which earth has waited six thousand years. Happy as were the faces which greeted the President, the picture was tame, compared with the joy of mankind when they realize what God has wrought!

Wherein Did the Jews Fail?

The Jews did not fail. All God's promises to them are still theirs. He never offered them spiritual favors, or suggested taking them to Heaven. The strongest promise, even to Abraham, was that all the land which could be seen would be given to him and his seed. Israel's blessings were to come through Messiah.

God foretold through the prophets that Messiah would suffer. The Jews merely fulfilled a part of the Divine Program. Had Messiah gone to another nation, doubtless there would have been similar results. At the First Advent of Jesus God did more for the Jews than He had promised. He gave them opportunity of becoming members of Spiritual Israel.

Then Divine favor turned to the Gentiles, and gave them a similar opportunity. This work has required nearly nineteen centuries, and we believe is about completed. The Messiah class is about made up. Jesus the Head long ago entered into His glory. Soon the last members of His Body will pass beyond the veil. Forthwith the work of blessing the nations will begin.

Woodrow Wilson Our President.

At noon today Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall became respectively president and vice-president of the United States.

After a lapse of sixteen years the highest offices within the gift of the people are again conferred upon Democrats.

President Wilson enters upon the duties of his new office under most favorable conditions. The country has during the past four years been the most prosperous in its history. The earth has yielded abundant harvests, labor of all kinds has been in demand and has found employment at a fair wage, shops and factories have been running at full capacity, the farmer and stock raiser has received splendid prices for the product of the soil and of the field. The change in administration has been brought about without interrupting the even tenor of business or of financial conditions in the country.

Mr Wilson is the president of the entire people and every good and liberty loving citizen should do all that lies within his power to make the coming four years the four best years this country has ever known. People should lay aside all political prejudice and bias and give to the new administration their hearty support and co-operation.

The people spoke in unmistakable terms at the ballot box last November and the will of the greater number should at all times be honored and respected.

The people demanded a change of political parties in the management of the affairs of the government, the change became effective today and the eyes of ninety-five millions of people are now upon the party that will for the next four years manage and control the greatest, best and most prosperous country on the earth.

Let us all hope that the splendid achievements of the past will sink into oblivion when compared to the records that shall be made during the next four years.

Put your shoulder to the wheel and help Mr. Wilson and the Democratic party make good their promises to the people.—Editorial in Hannibal Courier-Post March 4, 1913.

Teaching Cruelty.

It's a pity that so many of our farm journals lend themselves to the cause of cruelty. For example, when one of these agricultural papers devotes three pages, illustrated with pictures of steel traps and their victims, to encouraging youth to take up, for profit, a course of action that involves one of the most merciless forms of cruelty, we wonder what it implies on the part of those responsible for its management. Nothing so brutalizes man as deeds of inhumanity. The lad who can deliberately subject any living creature to the torture and lingering anguish of the steel trap must, when once he realizes what he is doing, either stop it or pay the inevitable penalty in the degradation of the finest thing about him, his sensibility to injustice and wrong. The steel trap, with its relentless and deadly fangs, gripping as in a vice of fire the wretched creature enticed by human cunning to its hell of pain, is worthy of a place only in an age that tolerated the thumb-screw and the torture chamber. This same paper has a

SYMPTOMS OF CONSUMPTION

Yield to Vinol.

The medical profession do not believe that consumption is inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to that disease.

A prominent citizen of Evansville, Ind., writes: "I was ill for five months with pulmonary trouble, and had the best of doctors; I had hemorrhages and was in a very bad way. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vinol, and I feel that it saved my life. It is all you recommend it to be. I believe it is the greatest medicine on earth. I have advised others to try Vinol, and they have had the same results." (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. L. M. Wood, Druggist, Monroe City, Missouri.

column devoted to the Sunday School lesson in which we are told that by the flood "God had washed the earth of its foul wickedness." Not in bitterness, or to say a stinging thing, do we suggest that the paper that would induce its young readers to one of the worst forms of wickedness would do well to leave out the columns on religion. The frightful incongruity can only offend its more thoughtful and humane readers. These words are written only after a letter to the paper we have in mind brought no evidence of appreciation of the influence for harm it was exerting.—The Dumb Animals.

Cosmetics.

Little Tommy at the "movies," saw a tribe of Indians painting their faces and asked his mother the significance of this.

"Indians," his mother answered "always paint their faces before going on the warpath before scalping and tomahawking and murdering."

The next evening, after dinner, as the mother entertained in the parlor her daughter's young man, Tommy rushed downstairs, wide-eyed with fright.

"Come on, mother," he cried "Let's get out of this quick! Sister is going on the warpath!" San Francisco Chronicle.

Inquisitive.

The curate of a large and fashionable church was endeavoring to teach the significance of white to a Sunday school class.

"Why," said he, "does a bride invariably desire to be clothed in white at her marriage?"

As no one answered, he explained: "White," said he, "stand for joy, and the wedding day is the most joyous occasion of a woman's life."

A small boy queried: "Why do the men all wear black?"—Argonaut.

How to Prune Roses.

The hybrid perpetual and ever-blooming roses are commonly not pruned hard enough. The best flowers are grown on young wood and the aim should be to cut them back enough to induce a strong growth which will bear a few fine flowers rather than a lot of common ones. Long, straggling, growth can be cut back in the fall, but pruning should generally be delayed until spring, according to a Farm and Home expert.

Many successful rosarians cut back their bushes to within one foot of the ground and also remove all weak shoots. The aim should be to cut off from one-half to two-thirds of the previous season's growth and to remove all dead, frozen and weak canes. There is little danger of cutting off too much.

Answering an inquirer who desires to know if there has been a Baptist president of the United States, the Richmond Times-Dispatch says: There has not. There has been eight Episcopalians: Washington, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce and Arthur. There have been six Presbyterians: Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Lincoln, Cleveland, Harrison, and to these Woodrow Wilson must soon be added. There have been four Methodist chief magistrates: Johnson, Grant, Hayes, McKinley. Van Buren and Roosevelt were adherents of the Reformed Dutch Church. John and John Quincy Adams were Congregationalists. Fillmore and Taft were Unitarians. Garfield was a Disciple.—Forum.

Helpfulness.

If you have made another smile Upon his weary way today, If only for a little while You've chased another's gloom away; If you have met upon the road A brother limping and distressed And helped him with his heavy load Then you have earned your night of rest.

If you have smoothed another's brow, And by your labors made him glad;

If only words of yours, somehow, Have cheered a toiler who was sad,

Tonight, if just because of you, Hope lives within a brother's breast,

Think not of what you've failed to do You will have earned your time of rest.
