The Boy

without being coaxed or threatened, have your bath room fitted up so nicely that he will be ashamed to be less clean looking than it.

Have us attend to the plumbing, and for a moderate sum we'll put in a tub or basin that will make the boy want to take a wash whether he needs it or not. Isn't that a miracle.

The Courier's Weekly Sermon
By PASTOR RUSSELL
SUBJECT

THE HOLY NAME.

Pastor Russell Declares That Millions of Christians Unwittingly Profane the Creator In Misrepresenting What His Holy Name Represents.

SUGGESTIONS WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

Denver, Colo., June 18.—Pastor Russell gave two public addresses here today, one of which we report. Many of Denver's prominent religious people were conspicuous in the large audience.

Profound impressions were undoubtedly made. Speaking from the text, "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty; the whole earth shall be filled with thy glory" (Revelation IV, 8), the speaker said:—

Three General Views.

There may be said to be three different theories prevalent in Christendom on the subject. All three of these views declare that the Almighty, with full power to have done otherwise, so created humanity that a child once born into the world can never die—must live somewhere unceasingly—either in pain or in pleasure. By what authority any make these declarations we have never ascertained.

Our Catholic friends tell us that by Divine arrangement, terrible purgatorial experiences await practically every member of our race, in the hope that, if rightly exercised thereby, after centuries of torture, an eternity of bliss will be gained. Is not this also a blasphemy against the Holy Name? Who could deny it? Surely such a theory is blasphemous, horrible.

Worse and Worse—Predestinated. Is it any wonder that, in early life our childish hearts were filled with fear rather than with love toward our Creator and toward His Revelation, the Bible? Is it any wonder that it required all kinds of fighting with our common sense to believe, as we were taught we should, that God lovingly predestinated that all human families should suffer eternally except a saintly handful—because He was pleased to have it so—because He foreordained that it must be so—because He had made a great place called hell before He made the earth, and made it large enough to hold the entire human family—because He created fire-proof demons to inflict tortures upon the poor unfortunates who were shapen in iniquity, in sin conceived by their mothers.

Still Another Blasphemy. A considerable proportion of thinking Christian people will join with us in saying, Ah, surely Brother Calvin grievously erred and grievously misrepresented the God of love when he taught the doctrine of the predestination of the wicked to eternal torture! Ah! say these Christian friends, our hearts rebel against that theory of Divine predestination. We claim that

ARARAT NOT EASY TO CLIMB
Only Seventeen Ascents of the Mountain Where the Ark Rested Have Been Recorded.

Ararat is not a mountain that is climbed every day, or even every year. Seventeen ascents have been recorded. When James Bryce, unaccompanied, made his remarkable ascent in 1878 he was told by every one whom he met in the vicinity of the mountains that the top had never been reached, and what was more, it never could be. Jinn and fiends and giants had prevented the rascally Kurds from even attempting to scale the terrible mountain, and since the Ark grounded there mortal man had not been allowed to trespass on the scaled heights he was informed. Had not St. Hagop tried again and again to reach the summit in order to silence the skeptics about the Ark? But found himself each morning on waking quietly deposited at the base, whence he started. Finally an angel presented him with a piece of the Ark for his pains, but told him to cease his attempts to reach the forbidden ground. That was in the fourth century of our era, but the piece of the Ark is still to be seen at the monastery of the Etchmaldin, where dwells the catholicoi of the Armenian church. That Russian, or a stray lone Englishman, had really reached the top of Ararat was not to be thought of.

STEVE STAHR
BOTH PHONES

the Almighty is Love itself—that He is sympathetic with His creatures, and is using every effort to avert the great calamity of eternal torture for the great majority of the race.

Ah! my friends, is not this still another form of blasphemy? If some of us blasphemed the Holy Name in representing our Heavenly Father as merciless, loveless, have we not in another way blasphemed that same Holy Name in declaring that He lacks the power and the wisdom to do the good which His loving heart would prompt? Do we worship a stupid and impotent God, one who blundered in the creation of our race, and who, for six thousand years, has been striving to rectify that error and all the while has been allowing thousands of millions of His creatures whom he loves to go down to an eternity of torture? Alas! it would be nearly as easy to worship an all-powerful and loveless God as to worship an all-loving but unwise and impotent God who foolishly, sinfully, brought thousands of millions of intelligent beings into existence only to suffer an eternity of agony through His incompetence.

"Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God." We come now to our text. It declares that the time is coming when the whole earth shall be full of God's glory. Ah! glorious day! Then the shadows of ignorance, superstition, mis-understanding and misrepresentation in respect to the Divine character will all flee before the light of the knowledge of the glory of God—the appreciation of the Divine character as manifested in the Divine Plan for human salvation. Could this Scripture ever be fulfilled, could the Divine character ever be appreciated by intelligent, honest, just and loving hearts, if in any corner of the Universe there were such orgies and tortures of His creatures as the creeds of the Darker Ages have set forth? Surely not! On the contrary, in this glorious day will be fulfilled the Scriptural prediction, "all in heaven and in earth and under the earth [everywhere] heard I saying, praise glory, honor, dominion and might be unto Him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb forever!"
