Getting Ready

(It is the evening of the annual children's party at a fashionable Chicago club. Mrs. Gunnle is preparing her offspring for the occasion. The room is littered with cast-off shoes, hosiery, skirts, neckties, and other articles of apparel.)

Mrs. Gunnle—If you don't stand still, Geraldine, I'll—

Geraldine—Will there be ice cream? An' kin I take my new doll? Say, kin I wear the new apron Aunt May gave me with the pink bows on it? But why can't I? I want—

John—Aw, mother, honest, have I got to go? Please, moth—

Mrs. Gunnle—You'll drive me crazy, both of you? The idea of your acting so, Johnny, when all the children of every human being I know will be there! Do you think I'm going to have folks say I didn't take enough interest in my own children to have them there, too? Put that perfume bottle down this minute, Geraldine! You'll be a regular barber shop—

John—Aw, mother, have I got to wash? After I took a bath this morning, too? Aw, I hate parties! Who's going to look at my neck, anyhow? Aw, gee!

Geraldine—Ouch—you pull! You did my hair this morning, and what are you fixing it again for? I don't want it braided—I want it curled—all around like the cook does hers—please, mother! Why can't I have it curled. I wa-wa-want it c-c-c-curled!

Mrs. Gunnle—Geraldine, I shall whip you if you don't stop this instant! Here I am, trying my best to give you a perfectly lovely time, and you act like all possessed! Why, every woman there will criticise every other woman's children, and do you think I'm going to let you go looking like a curled up little fright? Stand still, for mercy's sake!

John—Aw, what do I put on now, mother? Aw—you hurt. I did wash—

Mrs. Gunnle—I believe you do it on purpose to torment me! There's a black streak all around your neck—and your ears—John Gunnle, you march straight back into the bath room and use the soap! Lots of it! Or you won't go a step!

John—Honest, kin I stay at home? I'd lots rather, an' I'll ask Billy come over and bring his airship—

Mrs. Gunnle (in tones of tragedy)—You're not going to stay at home! Go and wash this minute!

Geraldine—I don't want to wear that petticoat! I don't like that petticoat, mother! Please let me wear the blue gingham one with the ruffles!

Mrs. Gunnle—Blue gingham! Under a white lingerie dress that cost $25! If you are only 12 years old I should think it isn't asking too much to insist on your having a little common sense, Geraldine! Stand still!

Geraldine—Kin I wear your diamond hair comb? And your sparkly necklace? Oh, please, mother, let me wear the necklace—the one with the emeralds an' diamonds an'—

Mrs. Gunnle—No!

John—Oh, mother, I forgot an' left the water turned on in the bowl, an' it's runnin' all over the floor an'—

Geraldine—Goody! Goody! I'll put my fan on this chain an'—o-o-oh, I broke it, mother — your long gold one—

John—Hurry up, mother-r-r-r! It's runnin' out into the hall, an'—

Mrs. Gunnle (ten minutes later)—If you stir from this room, John Gunnle, till we go, I—I don't know what I'll do to you, but it'll be something awful! Geraldine, stand still till I get your dress fastened! Put down that tube of paste! And don't handle your hair ribbons—you're smashing them all down! John, put on your collar!

John—Aw, I hate parties! I hate girls! I won't dance! I won't!

Mrs. Gunnle—Now, see here, if you don't act like a little gentleman, with every woman I know watching you, I'll never let you go to a party again!

Geraldine—O-o-oh, mother! There's paste all over the front of me! It's all sticky!

Mrs. Gunnle—Stand still! Of all the children, when I told you—John, go bring me a wet cloth—and I paid $25 for that dress—and your pink slip shows below it and the taxi will be here in ten minutes. Stand still! John, you know perfectly well you're to wear your good clothes—take those off! Put down that perfume, Geraldine! John, put on your pumps!

John—They're full of water! I had 'em in the bath room! Kin I wear my football shoes? Aw, please, mother—

Mrs. Gunnle — There, Geraldine, you've stepped on my skirt for the sixth time and now you've torn it! And the taxi will be here—John, get on your muffler and coat! Put on your wrap, Geraldine! And put down that stupid doll! What on earth—

Gunnle (at the door)—Aren't you people ready yet? I don't see why it should take so long to fix those kids—it isn't as though they were grown-ups! The machine's here!

Mrs. Gunnle—I'd like to crawl off and die comfortably!—Chicago Daily News.

The Reason.

"Our new passenger was the only one who was not worried by being in the teeth of a gale."

"How do you account for that?"

"He was a dentist."

THE STONE WITNESS OR GREAT PYRAMID

God's Altar in the Midst of the Land of Egypt

Its Symbolic Teachings Corroborate Science and the Bible, Refuting Evolution and Higher Criticism—It Indicates Distance to Sun, High Calling of Church and Hope of the World.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Cairo, Egypt, A. A.—The Committee appointed by the International Bible Students Association to report on Foreign Missions is homeward bound, instead of visiting the missions of eastern and southern Africa. They will recommend another commission for Africa and Australasia, etc.

We report Pastor Russell's discourse of today, from the text which he said referred directly to the Great Pyramid located near this city: "In that day there shall be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, * * * for a sign and for a witness." (Isa. xix, 19, 20.) Not only did God thus mention prophetically in Isaiah the great Pyramid, but also in Jeremiah xxxii, 20, where we read that "He set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day."

The location of the Pyramid is remarkable, and its size centuries ago marked it as one of the Seven Wonders of the world.

Scientists tell us that the measurement of its base on the four sides, at the level of its sockets, when added, gives as many pyramid cubits as there are days in four years, to the fraction—including the leap year fraction. The diagonal measurements across the base, N. E. to S. W., and N. W. to S. E., give as many inches as there are years in the precessional cycle of the stars. This cycle astronomers had already concluded to be 25,827 years, and the Pyramid corroborates the conclusion. The distance to the sun is indicated by the height and angle of the Pyramid to be 91,840,270 miles, which almost exactly corresponds with the latest figures reached by astronomers.

Spiritual Lessons Here Taught.

A key suggested in 1868 by a young Scotchman, Robert Menzies, and which began to open the Pyramid's religious lessons, was the Well. He wrote to Prof. Piazzi Smyth, Astronomer Royal for Scotland, "From the north beginning of the Grand Gallery, in upward progression, begin the years of our Savior's life, expressed at the rate of a year for an inch. Three and thirty inch-years, therefore, bring us right over against the mouth of the Well." In other words, that Well and the appearance of an explosion, picture our Lord's death and resurrection. In harmony with this the Downward Passage represents the course of sin and death, leading to destruction. The low Ascending Passage, [illegible] by the granite "Plug," repres[illegible] Law Covenant given to the J[illegible] none were able to keep, [illegible] is none righteous, no, n[illegible]

From the time of o[illegible] Gospel Dispensation beg[illegible] ally represented by the [illegible] It is a Dispensation of g[illegible] nevertheless its Passag[illegible] and narrow, leading to t[illegible] the farther end. As the[illegible] lery has an end, so this [illegible] will have an end. It will[illegible] its purpose, which is the [illegible] the "elect" to be the Bride[illegible]

Another interesting feat[illegible] the Ascending Passage wi[illegible] represents exactly the len[illegible] Jewish Age! And, sim[illegible] Grand Gallery represents (a[illegible] year) the length of this Gos[illegible] sation! It indicates that at[illegible] time the great favor of becon[illegible] sacrificers with the Redee[illegible] thus becoming joint-heirs wit[illegible] His Kingdom, will terminate.

The King's Chamber Gra[illegible]

Before entering the Ante-Ch[illegible] school, the pupil must stoop [illegible] plying humility. No sooner [illegible] risen than he finds himself co[illegible] by a huge granite obstruction, [illegible] as the Granite Leaf, and he ca[illegible] no further progress except by [illegible] ing low to pass under it. Symb[illegible] ly it says, It is not sufficient th[illegible] have a desire for Godliness, and [illegible] in Jesus, and a desire to be tau[illegible] Him; you cannot go further unles[illegible] make a full surrender to God.

The Passage leading from the [illegible] Chamber to the King's Chamb[illegible] just as low as the Granite obstruc[illegible] which seems to say that as the [illegible] represents a condition of death of[illegible] will, the other represents actual d[illegible] —only by actual death could our Sa[illegible] or any of His followers pass into [illegible] Heavenly state, symbolized by [illegible] King's Chamber; for, "We must all [illegible] changed," because "flesh and blo[illegible] cannot enter the Kingdom of God."

We understand the Horizontal Pa[illegible] sageway leading to the Queen's Cham[illegible] ber to symbolically represent the trial[illegible] and testings that will be upon the hu[illegible] man family incidental to attaining hu[illegible] man perfection, under the glorious [illegible] reign of Messiah's Kingdom, when the [illegible] Church as the Bride of Christ will be [illegible] associated with her Lord in effecting [illegible] human restitution to all the willing [illegible] and obedient.—Acts iii, 19-2[illegible]
