Fur Eton Jackets Being Worn For Street and Afternoon Wear Altogether—Rich Brocaded Silks With Gleaming Gold Thread Used as Linings—Etons of Striped Fur Never of More Than Two Colors—Generally Worn With Dress of One of the Combined Shades—Seven Excellent Hints for the Housewife.

LITTLE FUR ETONS

SEEN IN THE SHOPS
Berlin is claiming full credit for the original conception of the adorable little fur Etons which women are commencing to wear now in so many varying forms, and which the principal shops, all noted for the chic of their models and the charm of their creations are showing in a perfect galaxy of contrasting materials and styles. More than twenty years ago it was that this petite garment reached the apex of its popularity and then for some rather inexplicable reason, considering its substantial qualities of beauty and usefulness, dropped shortly into complete oblivion. Now, however, it has achieved its reincarnation again and is being adopted in different countries and among foreign folks.

The fur Eton is modeled on practically the same principles as the cloth Eton, except that, made along simpler lines, it still presents an infinitely more sumptuous and luxurious appearance. Then, too, it is quite as useful as it is decorative and made from all kinds of fur, the dark and the light, the soft and the heavy, the expensive and the non-expensive. Women appear to be tiring of the one-piece frock and the long coat which must always be worn over it. And the fur Eton seems to be a natural outcome of this change of fancy on the part of the fair sex.

One of the most popular furs as well as the newest to be made up into these attractive outer garments is mink, known here as the pole cat and often confused with fish. It has an exquisite cream colored under-surface, while the ends of the fur are almost a tete de negre brown. With a tete de negre velvet gown this Eton puts on a make-up that is extremely chic and at the same time not at all dreadfully expensive as the all-over fur coats that drop quite to the end of the dress and require quantities of fur.

Two kinds of this put on are used, the "Allemand" and the "Russe," though the former is much more popular because of its greater richness and depth of fur. Some of the "Allemand" varieties, however, are nearly white and these made up into Etons are charming, trimmed with black velours or with any material of the dress which chances to be worn with the abbreviated jacket.

Rich brocaded silks with gleaming threads of gold and silver run through them are used as linings to these same little Etons. And sometimes muffs of a different fur from the jacket and with gorgeous linings that just peep out at the wrists are added to give a specially festive air to the garment as a whole.

Again, Etons in striped fur, of petals with broad, startling stripes, are seen on the streets here and in the modish shops. Never of more than two colors they are generally worn with a dress of one of the combined shades and present a conspicuousness that no conservative woman would care to affect.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

When Sprinkling Clothes.
If you wish to iron your clothes immediately after you sprinkle them, try dampening them with hot water. Roll them tightly for a moment or two, shake them out well, and iron with a hot iron.

Teapots.
To keep your teapots that are seldom used from smelling musty, wipe them out very dry after using, and put a lump of sugar inside, leaving the lid open.

A Cooking Hint.
Most people know that the putting of a stone marble in a kettle will prevent furring, but do not bring that knowledge to bear when it is a question of boiling milk, porridge, custard or sauces, etc. A large, clean marble obviates the necessity to a great extent of stirring those things while cooking.

To Break a Glass Bottle Evenly.
To break a glass jar or bottle easily and evenly, soak a piece of string in turpentine, and tie it round the glass just where you wish the break to come. Then fill the bottle up to that point with cold water and set fire to the string. The glass will then snap all along the heated line. By breaking off the top of a broken decanter it may, if the base be intact, be converted into a useful sugar basin or fruit dish.

Cheap Firelighters.
Dry the peelings of potatoes well in the oven, and they will light the fire much better and quicker than wood, thus saving expense.

Lamp Wick.
A new lamp wick should always be soaked in vinegar before being used. After this is done, there will be neither small nor smoke, and a very bright light will also be the result.

When Cleaning the Fireplace.
Before cleaning out the fireplace, sprinkle a good handful of tea-leaves among the ashes. This makes the ashes lift easier, and prevents the dust from flying about the room.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the elimination tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. (Advertisement.)

About the Human Eye.
Greenish, hazel and spotted eyes are accompanied usually with shrewd, quick, nervous, restless temperaments. According to Professor Hudson, Astasia with hazel eyes are cunning and weasel-like. Contrary to the popular notion, persons with green eyes are too indifferent in passion to be at all jealous of the opposite sex; they are, however, frequently envious of their own.

GRACEFUL LINES.

A printed Oriental fabric in brilliant coloring on a neutral ground, is here combined with a dull brown repp. The waist is plain kimono cut with edges trimmed with brown martin fur. Frills of ecru poncee finish the sleeves and there is a riddle of this same material. The skirt is pleated in front and has a slight gathered tunic, trimmed with covered buttons. The closing is in front and at the side.

GREAT STORM ON BALTIC SEA

Europe Generally Visited by Unusual Cold, Violent Winds, Rain and Snow.

Berlin, Dec. 31.—A storm of unusual violence began on the Baltic coast yesterday morning and continued throughout the day, gaining in intensity late at night. A strong wind drove the seas into all the harbors until the wharves were almost submerged. At Kiel the tide was seven feet above normal and all the lower part of the town was flooded. Boat services have been established in the streets in the lower part of the city. The storm has been severe at the seaside resorts. At Misdroy the water is the highest in 42 years. It is feared that many lives have been lost. The fishermen have suffered severely in the loss of boats and nets. Reports from other sections of Germany tell of great storms in which several persons have been frozen to death and others killed by avalanches in the Bavarian and Saxon mountains. In the Black forest the storm blew a girl into the river and she was drowned.

Avalanche at Berne.
Berne, Switzerland, Dec. 31.—An avalanche overwhelmed a skiing party today, burying two persons, an architect named Glu and a school teacher named Stuck under a mountain of snow. Glu's wife and a local official named Balmer caught a pine and saved themselves.

A relief column has been dispatched to the scene, but small hope is entertained of recovering the bodies before spring on account of the enormous amount of snow.

Fourteen Frozen to Death.
Sarator, Russia, Dec. 31.—Fourteen persons have been frozen to death in a severe snowstorm in the Petrowsk district. Many others are missing.

Mount Vesuvius with white white from the crater a great incandescent column of smoke arises forming a unique spectacle. Frequent explosions occur as a result of the infiltration of water inside the crater.

Vitry-Le-Francois, France, Dec. 31.—The river Marne is rising rapidly and has almost reached the level of the record floods of 1910. Many villages on its banks are under water and railroad tracks have been inundated.

Paris, France, Dec. 31.—France and the greater part of Europe are experiencing the bitterest year-end in a decade. Blizzards and floods have done great damage inland and gales of exceptional violence have ravaged the coasts. In Spain and Portugal, cold has caused numerous deaths. In the south of France the temperature has registered some degrees below zero. Fahrenheit. Mount Vesuvius in Italy has been covered with a mantle of snow. Germany is now in the grip of storms and in many places, including Berlin, there have been heavy snowfalls.

In France and southwest Europe the railroads are out in many places and this section practically is isolated so far as telegraphic communication is concerned.

Deaths in Southern France. Conditions are at their worst in southern and central France, which usually are favored by mild winters. Scores of villages are cut off. Deaths from exposure are common. Paris and outlying districts are partially snowbound and as a result of temporary thaw and the tributaries of the Seine are overflowing. The Paris steamboat service as a consequence has been suspended and although the authorities do not anticipate a flood of disastrous proportions, they are taking all precautions as the weather bureau foresees no immediate improvement in conditions. A cyclone struck Le Creusot in Saone et Loire, yesterday, doing great damage and overthrowing all the monuments in the cemetery. In the mountainous region of Morvan many houses were roofed.

All the hills around Toulon in the department of Var, are covered with snow for the first time in many years. Intense cold prevails. A terrific sea is running in the Mediterranean, threatening all craft that have not reached port. Perpignan, capital of the department of Pyrenees-Orientales, reports a terrific snowstorm throughout the department with the thermometer six below zero. The river Hubbe is rising rapidly and the inhabitants of the villages in the neighborhood of Troyes have been forced to evacuate their homes.

SACRIFICES NOT REQUIRED BY GOD

Sacrifices Under Jewish Law and Their Antitypes.

PASTOR RUSSELL

report one of Pastor Russell's discourses for today from the text, "Sacrifices and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin Thou wouldst not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the Law."—Hebrews 10:8.

The Pastor then discussed his text. St. Paul is quoting from the fortieth Psalm. Through the Prophet David, God declared that the sacrifices of the Law, which could never really cancel sin, were not to His pleasure. Christ is here represented as noting that the typical sacrifices could not remove sin, but that His own body had been especially prepared as a Sin-Offering, to provide the better sacrifice necessary to redeem Adam and his race.

Further, we read of the Master's consecration at thirty years of age. Everything written in the Law and in the Prophets respecting the bearing of the penalty of Adam's sin by a Savior, Jesus pledged Himself to carry out. "Then said I, Lo, I come to do Thy will, O God."

The Pastor then showed that St. Paul points out that the unacceptable sacrifices were those of the Law; and that when Jesus offered Himself as the antitype of the Law, it meant the taking away of the first, or typical, to put into their place the antitype.

"Better Sacrifices"—Plural.
Pastor Russell reminded his hearers that the Atonement Day sacrifices were plural, and that the Apostle speaks of "better sacrifices than these." This same lesson he declared to be set forth elsewhere in Scripture; namely, that from the beginning it had been the Divine purpose, that our Lord should have associates, who would pass through similar experiences.

The Pastor cited many Scriptural proofs of this assertion. Christ is styled "the Captain of our salvation," "the Bridegroom," the "High Priest of our profession," etc. The Church are the under-priests, now sacrificing, preparing as He did, for the glorious future work. These priests St. Peter styles a Royal Priesthood, because they will have kingly power combined with priestly service.

Holy and Acceptable Sacrifices.
Pastor Russell next explained why Israel's Atonement Day sacrifices were merely types. The Law read, "A man's life for a man's life." Hence a bullock and a goat could never be acceptable to God as a substitutionary sacrifice for Adam and his family. When the Pastor demonstrated that God prepared Jesus with an acceptable body; and our Lord "offered up Himself" an acceptable sacrifice. Divine acceptance was manifested:

- (1) At Jesus' consecration, by the imputation of the Holy Spirit;
 - (2) By Jesus' resurrection, born of the Spirit to glory and immortality.
- As in the Atonement Day sacrifice there was an offering of a bullock, representing Jesus' death, so there was a subsequent offering of a goat, typifying the Church's sacrifice.
- Jesus' sacrifice continued during the three and a half years of His ministry, and ended with His death. Forty days after He ascended on High. Then He made application of the merit of His sacrifice on behalf of all who desire to become His footsteps followers.
- Those in the upper room at Pentecost were the first to be begotten of the Holy Spirit, and to become acceptable sacrifices. Since then, others have been received from every nation. Soon the foreordained next will have completed the Body of Christ beyond the veil. Forth will the Messianic Kingdom will be established for the blessing of all.

The Pastor Russell's letters for six weeks past have gone astray, and have just arrived. They will now be published daily until all the missing letters have appeared.
